GERMANS ADVANCE 10 MILES

WASHINGTON AWAITS SIGN OF ROOSEVELT'S POLICY

President Confers with Aids; Says Nothing.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Germany's war on Russia produced far-reaching repercussions today in official Washington. On every side there was the reaction that it changes profoundly the picture of the second World war, foreshadows the realignment of nations, and affects the chances of the United States becoming involved.

In administration circles there was a deal of conferring among officials, from the President down, with weather eyes cocked on London for a signal of the line of policy to be pursued. At first officials assumed an attitude of aloofness, characterizing both Hitler and Stalin as treaty breakers, international racketeers, and congenital foes of the United States and applauding their war as a much to be desired case of dog eat dog.

Change Their Tune.

Then came Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast promising Russia all assistance and appealing "to all our friends and allies" to take the same course. Instantly officials changed their tune in the expectation that the President will adopt the policy laid down by the British prime minister.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, did not disclose his attitude, remaining incommunicado to the press. He discussed the situation with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles. British Ambassador Lord Halifax had a protracted conference with Mr. Welles at the state department, which neither would discuss for publication, Mr. Welles being at pains to state that the appointment for the interview was made yesterday before the earth shaking event overseas.

Aid to Russia?

The principal decision confronting the President is whether to extend the benefits of the 7 billion dollar lend-lease act to Russia. He is authorized by the act to lend, lease, or give away any products of the United States to any nation whose defense he deems essential to the defense of our country. In the cases of China, Greece, and Jugo-Slavia he has construed our defense to be anything tending to combat or otherwise weaken the forces of Germany, Italy, and Japan.

Logically, therefore, totalitarian, despotic, soviet Russia, which vies with Germany and Italy as the negation of democracy, is entitled to the loan, lease, or gift of America's resources for the furtherance of that defense of democracy and attainment of the four freedoms which the President has proclaimed as his great objective.

The Four Freedoms.

The four freedoms are the freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear, none of which obtain in soviet Russia any more than they do in Germany, Italy, and Japan. As an instrument for promoting the eventual destruction of the German, Italian, and Japanese governments, which Mr. Roosevelt has announced to be his aim, Russia may qualify for the benefits of the lend-lease act.

The view being circulated by administration officials tonight is that Hitler's declaration of war on Russia gives fresh proof of the soundness of the President's contention that the Nazis are bent upon world conquest, that they are attacking one nation after another, and that our turn will come if Britain goes down.

View of Noninterventionists.

Among noninterventionists the tendency appeared to view the sudden turn of events as a circumstance that will work against the President's program of taking the country into the war at this time and probably for some months to come. While they do not doubt that Hitler's war machine will conquer the soviets, they view the shifting of the war focus to eastern Europe as a favorable circumstance of incalculable import for Great Britain.

The noninterventionists figure that it will take several months for Germany to subdue Russia, during which time Britain will be spared the brunt of the war.

Wheeler Asks F.D.R. to Give Up Crusade with Stalin.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler demanded last night that President Roosevelt follow the road of peace and "give up his so-called crusade for democracy and Christianity in company with that great Democrat, Joe Stalin."

Senator Wheeler.

Speaking at an America First rally to a cheering audience of 2,000 persons which overflowed the Highland Park High school auditorium, Wheeler urged his listeners to write and telegraph the President their demands for peace. This failing, he said, the people should invade Capitol Hill in Washington, D. C., and pray for peace.

Both Branded Greedy.

"In view of what is taking place today—namely, war between Dictator Stalin and Dictator Hitler, two equally cruel and greedy individuals—how fortunate we are that we are separated from Europe by 3,000 miles of ocean," Wheeler said.

"If we had followed the war mongers we would have taken to our bosom that great Democrat, Joe Stalin. Then we would have the President, Joe Stalin, and Mr. Churchill crusading for democracy and Christianity. And those society women now bundling for Britain would be bundling for good old Joe.

"How absurd! Isn't the picture of Europe today enough to convince America that we should follow the advice of George Washington and stay out of Europe's tangled affairs?

Would Have to Fight Finland.

"A few months ago we were praising Finland and France and denouncing Russia. Today we would have to fight against Finland, part of Poland, and take to our bosom Stalin and communism. How fortunate we've got a Gen. Wood and a Lindbergh!

"Send our goods, our army, our navy to establish communism thruout the world? That is what Knox and Willkie would have us do."

Wheeler charged that the "good neighbor policy" of the administration is based on insults, name calling, and a disregard for international law. He said it has isolated the United States and led the country to the brink of war.

Pettingill Tells U. S. Stand.

Samuel B. Pettingill, former congressman from Indiana, told the rally that more than 80 per cent of the American public is opposed to entering the war.

"We were pulled into the last war," he said. "We asked for nothing then, and that is what we got. The America First committee insists that President Roosevelt keep his pledges of peace."

Gen. Robert E. Wood, acting national chairman of the America First committee, in introducing Wheeler, said the country is faced with the greatest decision since the Civil war.

Learn Facts, Citizens Urged.

Gen. Wood added it is the duty of every citizen to inform himself on the subject and write congressmen and senators and the President concerning his conclusions. He said the America First committee stands firmly for strong national defense and believes the United States should defend the western hemisphere from attack.

"But it does not believe," he continued, "that this is our war. It believes that our entry into the tragic conflict will be a tragic mistake. That it will not only do untold harm to each and every one of us, but will harm our children and our children's children."

Berlin Radio Now Opens with Blast at Russians

New York, June 22 (AP).—A new opening line was noted in Berlin radio broadcasts today. Formerly it was: "England has declared war! Germany's victory will end this once and for all!" Now it's: "German forces will save Europe and the world from bolshevik clutches."

THE TIGER TURNS ON THE BUZZARD

War Becomes One Paradox After Another

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—The German invasion of Russia tossed a big bundle of paradoxes right into the lap of British government officials.

Finland, for instance. Virtually every one in Great Britain feels kindly toward that little northern nation, but Finland has cast her lot with Germany. What to do? No immediate moves are planned, apparently.

Authoritative sources said "it is not considered likely there will be any change in the position of the Finnish legation in London, as we are not at war with Finland."

What Churchill Said!

However, Prime Minister Churchill in his speech tonight said, "Any man or state who marches with Hitler is our foe."

[A few days ago Britain shut off all permits for ships to carry food or other supplies to Finland.]

And what about the Polish government in exile? Established in London, this Polish régime is recognized by Great Britain as the legitimate representative of that country, but it is at war with Russia. Churchill pledged Britain's aid to Russia.

Bitter Against Russia.

"Free Poland" publicity has been even more bitter in denouncing the soviet grab of Polish territory than it has against the Germans.

One solution to this delicate problem was suggested by a neutral source as this: That if the Germans pushed the Russians out of the Polish area now occupied by soviet troops, the "Free Polish" repugnance of anything Russian might be mitigated considerably.

The only thing which seems to be lacking now to make the diplomatic paradox unbelievably complete is for Russia to establish a "free soviet" government in England.

What They Say of New War

"A Lesson to U. S."

Former President Herbert Hoover: "That [the Russo-German war] should teach this country a lesson—to stay out of the European war. The new developments will relieve the pressure on Great Britain."

"No Sympathy for Stalin."

New York—Norman Thomas, national chairman of the Socialist party:

"For Stalin we have no sympathy. 'In every way his cruelty and duplicity have equaled Hitler's own. It was his agreement with Hitler which unleashed the military force of which he is now a prospective victim. . . .

"We shall watch with interest to see how fast American communists and the organizations which they control or influence will become propagandists for American entry into the war at the side of those 'great democracies,' Stalin's dictatorship and the British empire."

"A Reason for Staying Out."

Gen. Robert E. Wood, acting national chairman of the America First committee:

"This new development is one more reason for not going into the war. One of the arguments advanced for entering the conflict was that the British were in a desperate situation. Now they no longer stand alone. Another country—one with a large army—is allied with England. I don't see any reason whatever for changing our stand against war at this time."

"Unprovoked Attack."

"It [Russia] is waging a struggle for the cause of the freedom of all nations and peoples.

"The armed assault by German Fascism and its satellites against the soviet union is an unprovoked attack upon the greatest champion of peace, freedom and national independence—the land of Socialism."

"Let Us Strike."

New York—Episcopal Bishop Henry W. Hobson, on behalf of the Fight for Freedom committee:

"The new conflict leaves America freer than at any time since the start of the war to use her naval strength in the Atlantic." "Let us strike by air and by sea and if possible by land, let there be no lagging hands. It is war—war to the death."

"Neither Can Be Trusted."

Washington, D. C.—Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of senate foreign relations committee:

"Unless Russia capitulates quickly—which seems hardly likely now in view of the method of the Nazi war move—it means that there will be at least some months before Germany could make an all-out effort against England. It also means that we have that much more time to carry on our own national defense program.

"I do not think this changes our position at all. It does show one thing, however—that neither [Germany nor Russia] can be trusted."

"Unlimited Oil."

New York—Lewis W. Douglas, chairman of the national policy board of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies:

"The German attack should finally convince all doubting Americans that Hitler plans world domination. A successful venture into Russia means unlimited oil."

"Challenge to Roosevelt."

Washington, D. C.—Senator Henrik Shipstead [R., Minn.]:

"Hitler's war on Russia is a distinct challenge to Mr. Roosevelt. Now he has another democracy to defend. The 7 billion dollars appropriated for lend-lease will hardly be enough now. Think of the number of democrats there are to defend in Russia and China! Looks to me like a war lasting 10 or 15, possibly 20 years."

10 NATIONS WITH 75% OF WORLD'S PEOPLE AT WAR

Ten nations, representing nearly three quarters of the earth's population and controling most of four continents and part of a fifth, are at war today, while 19 political entities have been crushed or dismembered by battle or the threat of armed might.

At war—Germany, Great Britain, France [fighting Britain in Syria], Russia, Italy, China, Japan, Rumania, Finland, and Ethiopia.

Conquered or dominated by Germany or Italy—Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxemburg, France, Bulgaria, Greece, Jugo-Slavia, Albania, Memel, Free City of Danzig, Hungary.

SOVIET ARMY ADMITS LOSS OF TOWNS BUT CLAIMS HEAVY BLOWS AT NAZIS

Britain's Full Help Pledged Moscow by Premier.

The full text of Churchill's speech appears on page 6.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—Britain will give Russia all the help at her command in the soviets' war with Germany, Prime Minister Winston Churchill promised in a broadcast tonight. The United States, he suggested, will act similarly.

The prime minister refused to recant a word he had uttered against communism, of which he admitted he had been an outspoken critic for 25 years. But Britain, he said, had only one aim in the war: "To destroy Hitler and every vestige of the Nazi régime." The British, he declared, will "never parley, never negotiate with Hitler or any of his men."

"The Russian danger," he added, "is our danger and the danger of the United States, just as the cause of any Russian fighting for his hearth and home is the cause of free men and free people in every quarter of the globe.

Democracies to Push On.

Churchill said it was not for him to speak of the action of the United States, then went on:

"But I will say if Hitler imagines that his attack on soviet Russia will cause the slightest division of aid or slackening of effort in the great democracies who are resolved upon his doom, he is woefully mistaken. On the contrary, we shall be fortified and encouraged in our efforts to rescue mankind from his tyranny."

Of Hitler's immediate aims, the prime minister declared:

"His invasion of Russia is no more than a prelude to an attempted invasion of the British Isles. He hopes, no doubt, that all this may be accomplished before the winter comes, and, if he can, overwhelm Great Britain before the fleets and air power of the United States might intervene. He hopes that then the scene will be clear for the final act; namely, the subjugation of the western hemisphere to his will and to his system."

War in Fourth Stage.

The prime minister declared the war has reached one of its four climacterics. He explained the four thus:

First, when France fell and Britain had to face the Germans alone; second, when the royal air force "beat the Hun raiders out of the channel and thus warded off the Nazi invasion of our island while we still were ill-armed and ill-prepared"; third, "when the President and congress of the United States passed the lend-lease enactment" for aid to Britain, and fourth, the present, "for at 4 o'clock this morning Hitler attacked and invaded Russia."

The war between Germany and Russia, the prime minister said, is a battle for Asia, adding that it is in "itself only a stepping stone to plunge 500 million lives in China and 300 million lives in India into that bottomless pit of human degradation over which the diabolic emblem of the swastika flaunts itself."

Feel U. S. Aid "in Six Months.

Churchill declared that one form of assistance Britain will give Russia will be day and night bombing of Germany in ever increasing intensity and said he hoped that within six months the weight of aid which Britain is receiving from the United States will begin to tell.

Indirectly, Churchill declared war on Vichy, France, when he declared that "any man or state who marches with Hitler is our foe. This applies not only to organized states but to all representatives of that vile race of Quislings [a reference to Maj. Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Nazi leader] who make themselves agents and tools of the Nazi régime against their fellow countrymen."

The prime minister referred to Hitler as a "bloodthirsty guttersnipe" and said he had employed against Russia his usual technique, beginning by signing a nonaggression pact with Moscow and later suddenly attacking that country.

FIGHTING RAGES ON FINN BORDER; SHIPS ATTACKED

BULLETIN.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 23 (Monday) (AP).—Heavy fighting is continuing on the soviet-Finnish frontier, a dispatch from the Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Aftonbladet said today.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, June 23 [Monday].—Attacks on Finnish territory and ships by soviet Russian warplanes were reported by the Finnish high command's first military communique issued early today.

One incident was a bombing attack yesterday morning on two groups of Finnish armored vessels at an undisclosed point, but it was stated no damage was caused.

Russian planes bombed coastal defense works at Alskar in the Aaland islands [between Sweden and Finland]. It was admitted there were a few fires, but "no damage of any significance."

The Russians later dropped bombs from a great height on Finnish war vessels in the Turku [Abo] archipelago off the southwestern coast. Invading planes also flew over the southeastern frontier without dropping bombs.

Order Shelters Ready.

The army command earlier broadcast a nation-wide order that all air raid shelters be made ready immediately, that attics be cleaned out, windows taped and every precaution taken.

The government ordered all men between 18 and 59 who had not been mobilized to register for labor service. It declared a moratorium on banking, specifically on checks and letters of credit.

Sunday's German declaration of war on Russia found the Finns prepared to meet another crisis in their long and stormy struggle for existence.

Those residents of Helsingfors who have not yet been removed or whose duty keeps them in the city awoke early. The news of Germany's break with bolshevism was known to most people even before hastily printed handbills were sold in the streets.

Evacuation Continues.

Except for the unusually large number of men in the streets wearing Finnish uniforms, Sunday morning passed normally with many persons attending church, and others drinking a burned cereal substitute for coffee in open air restaurants and cafes. Many people carried bags and bundles en route to the countryside. The evacuation is continuing.

In the late afternoon extra newspapers appeared with the government's communique. "We are now in the zone of direct danger," it said. "To increase our security reservists already have been called to the colors. "Now more than ever we must be

MOSCOW, June 23 [Monday] (AP).—German troops attacking Russia on the long front from the Baltic to the Black sea at dawn Sunday succeeded in making small gains in former Lithuania and Poland, but at great cost, the Russian high command announced early today.

German air attacks on Russian airdromes and the big cities of Kiev and Sevastopol cost the Nazi 65 planes, the first communique issued by the red army said.

German troops striking into old Lithuania from East Prussia apparently en route to Kaunas occupied the village of Kalvaria and Stoyanuv about 10 miles inside Russian territory.

Drive Toward Grodno.

Other Nazi units driving toward Grodno, about 150 miles northeast of the former Polish capital of Warsaw [now in German hands], made gains of six miles.

Still another eastern drive was toward Krystnyopol, on the Bug river about 40 miles almost due north of Lwow in southern Poland.

The high command said all these gains were insignificant and made after fierce fighting which cost the German invaders heavily.

NAZIS BOMB SEA BASE

BERLIN, June 23 [Monday] (AP).—Smashing air assaults on the Russian Black sea base of Sevastopol and destruction of at least 40 soviet bombers trying counterraids against German positions were claimed by Germany today as notable first thrusts of the great new war Hitler declared yesterday, against Russia.

Bolstered by vengeful Finland and Rumania, the might of the German army was loosed against the soviet union on a 2,000 mile front ranging from the tepid waters of the Black sea to the wastes of the Arctic north—a battle zone which the Germans said at the outset was the most extensive continuous line in the history of warfare. Everywhere the Germans were under way.

Smash Hard at Sevastopol.

First official news, delivered by DNB, official German news agency, dealt almost entirely with war in the air, however. In less than 24 hours, DNB said, the Luftwaffe smashed hard at Sevastopol, which was occupied by German troops May 1, 1918, near the close of the World war; destroyed numerous Russian airports, hangars, and barracks all along the lines; destroyed unnumbered Russian planes on the ground; and smashed columns of Red army tanks, railroads, and munitions stores with bombs of all calibers. Windau, Lithuania, where the Russians have a base, also was bombed.

[Unconfirmed reports reaching Ankara, Turkey, said the German air force had attacked the Black sea port of Odessa yesterday on the same devastating scale that laid Rotterdam and Belgrade in ruins.]

Russians Try Two Raids.

The Russians tried at least twice to raid the Germans, DNB said. The first attempt, directed against East Prussia, cost them seven of nine attacking bombers, while the second, in the general government area of former Poland, saw 33 of 35 soviet bombers destroyed, DNB claimed. A German communique this morning said a few Russian bombers had attacked Ulre, East Prussia, during the night.

At sea, in "Russian waters," DNB said German speedboats sank a 4,000 ton freighter and a fishing boat.

The first military communique was issued from the German-Rumanian front in the south, stating that these allies had joined battle with the Russians from the mountains of Bukovina to the shores of the Black sea.

[This indicates a 300 mile battle-front in that region alone. Information received by military circles in Vichy, France, indicated the main German thrust probably was being made in that area, directed toward Kharkov, about 400 miles distant in the center of the Ukraine wheat fields. Other messages from Berne, Switzerland said the Russians were reported to be holding well against a heavy attack near Cernauti, on the northern wing of the southern front.]

Three Main Sectors.

Adolf Hitler sent his divisions into battle against Russia along a front comparing roughly to the airline distance from Brownsville, Tex., to Winnipeg, Canada. Military commentators emphasized that the troops were deployed in three main sections:

1. The northern segment from the Arctic ocean to the Finnish bight, covering 700 airline miles.

2. The middle sector from Memel, on the Baltic sea, to the Carpathian mountains on Russia's Rumanian frontier. This 700 mile front is manned only by Germans.

3. The southern section, covering 300 miles. Here Rumanians are fighting beside Germans.

The war also encompassed new expanses of sea. Most of the Black sea and extensive regions of the arctic were declared war zones by Germany. A reference to danger from mines indicated that from the start German sea forces were closely cpördinated with land and air units. A great section of the Baltic was mined against Russian naval operations. The mining was called "defense against enemy assaults on the German coast."

Troops in 19 Countries.

Fuehrer Hitler's whereabouts was not disclosed, but it was recalled that he never was far from action when the German army gets a new assignment. His troops, assuming that some were on Russian soil, were today in 19 foreign nations, in some as allies and in others as conquerors. Aside from Russia they are in Poland, Denmark, Norway, Belgium, Holland, France, Luxemburg, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, Slovakia, Bohemia, Finland, Croatia, Italy, and Egypt.

Opposed in this latest outbreak of the war were millions of men and their machines with the rival economic power of German dominated central and western Europe pitted against the resources of a nation covering 8,000,000 square miles of Europe and Asia. Germany said she faced about 160 Russian divisions—about two million men. [Estimates of Germany's strength in the east have been about 135 divisions.]

Germany [which had adopted Russian pioneered techniques in parachute warfare] put the populations on her eastern frontiers on guard against chutists.

WINANT RETURNS TO BRITAIN FROM U. S. IN A BOMBER

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—American Ambassador John G. Winant has returned from America on a four motored Consolidated bomber.

The bomber landed at an airport near Glasgow at noon yesterday on a flight "from the United States by way of Montreal," the embassy announced.

Winant's only statement on arrival was: "It's good to land in Scotland."

U. S. Red Cross Denounced by Spanish Newspaper

MADRID, June 22.—An article apparently aimed at the American Red Cross in Spain, which has spent over $2,500,000 for food and medicine here during the last six months, appeared in the newspaper Arriba today. The article denounced the Red Cross as "Masonic, Jewish, and Liberal" and "a seraphic mass in the service of England." Presumably the article was prompted by a statement of the American Red Cross that flour, milk, and medicine now are being distributed in 19 provinces of Spain.

TRIAL REVEALS WHAT GERMAN WOMEN HOARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 22.—What German housewives are tempted to hoard in wartime has been revealed in the trial of three Essen women. Two were convicted of illegally buying goods and selling them at profiteer prices to the third.

Here is what police said they found in the home of the third woman:

Twenty jars of pomade, 230,200 tubes and tins of face cream, 250 bottles of perfume, 90 tubes of toothpaste, 7,000 shirt buttons, 1,000 pencils, 320 packages of cleaning material, 25 tins of floor wax, 11,000 dust and dish cloths, 70 kitchen knives.

MOLOTOV TELLS NAZIS THEY FACE CRUSHING BLOW

Martial Law Is Decreed; More Troops Called.

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP).—The soviet government today declared martial law in virtually all of European Russia and called up 14 classes of men—all between the ages of 23 and 36 years—from the western border to Siberia, as Germany hurled its armed force at this country.

Russia's two chief cities, Moscow and Leningrad, were put under martial law in the decree, along with other lesser centers.

Molotov Is Confident.

Foreign Commissar Vylacheslav Molotov, broadcasting on behalf of Premier Josef V. Stalin six hours after the invasion started, expressed confidence that "the heroic forces of the U. S. S. R. will deal a crushing blow" to Russia's short lived non-aggression pact partner. Molotov announced that the Red army, fleet, and air force already had been ordered on the move against Hitler's forces.

The foreign commissar declared German bombers in their first attacks had killed or wounded 200 in the cities of Zhitomar, Kiev, Sevastopol, Kaunas, and several others.

"This unheard of attack upon our country is perfidity unparalleled in the history of civilized nations," Molotov cried. "The attack was perpetrated despite the fact that the treaty of nonaggression had been signed between the U.S.S.R. and Germany and that the soviet government most faithfully abided by all provisions of this treaty."

No Grounds for Complaint.

During the entire life of the German-Russian pact, the foreign commissar told the people, "the German government could not find grounds for a single complaint against the U.S.S.R. as regards observance of this treaty."

"The entire responsibility for this predatory attack upon the soviet union," he went on, "falls fully and completely upon the German Fascist rulers."

Not until 5:15 a. m.—after the invasion had been launched—did German Ambassador Count Friedrich Werner von der Schulenberg advise the Kremlin of the German decision to make war as a result of the concentration of Red army units near the German eastern frontier, Molotov said.

"Bloodthirsty" Fascist Rulers.

He then declared the war was forced on Russia "not by German workers and peasants and intellectuals, whose sufferings we well understand, but by the clique of bloodthirsty Fascist rulers of Germany who have enslaved Frenchmen, Czechs, Poles, Serbians, Norway, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Greece, and other nations.

"This is not the first time that our people have had to deal with an attack of an arrogant foe. At the time of Napoleon's invasion of Russia our people's reply was to war for the fatherland and Napoleon suffered defeat and met his doom. It will be the same with Hitler . . ."

Shortly after Molotov spoke, British chargé d'affaries Baggallay called on Andrei J. Vishinsky, soviet vice commissar for foreign affairs.

Defend Country with Their Lives.

The radio alternately carried orders and speeches to the public and played patriotic marches. Extra guards were posted outside subway stations in Moscow. Crowds thronged the streets thruout the day, listening to radio loudspeakers.

"From all districts of the U. S. S. R." the radio said, "news of enthusiastic and patriotic speeches reached Moscow. The Russian people will defend their country and liberty with their lives. Many millions are rallying around the government and the intelligentsia join in the general feeling."

No news of military operations was given.

KERENSKY CALLS STALIN VICTIM OF OWN TRICKERY

New York, June 22 [Special].—Alexander Kerensky, former Russian premier, who for a fleeting moment in history was the supreme ruler of Russia until his government was overthrown by the bolsheviks, today appealed for assistance for the U. S. S. R. He said that while he disliked Dictator Stalin as much as ever, he hated Hitler worse. The new catastrophe that has befallen Russia, Kerensky said, "is no accident but is the consequence of Stalin's policy."

Kerensky asserted Stalin "is the victim of his own treacherous policy, both domestic and foreign. To achieve his personal dictatorship over Russia he destroyed not only the last remnants of the democratic elements in Russia, but he also exterminated all the leaders of his own party and decapitated the military and naval leaders. He also plunged the entire nation's workers and peasants into economic slavery and chronic famine."

Sees Nazi Attack on Russia Forced by British Blockade

CANBERRA, Australia, June 22 (AP).—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, commenting on the German invasion of Russia, said tonight, "it is significant because Hitler's objectives are clearly the wheat of the Ukraine and oil supplies of Baku and Iran. Evidently the British blockade is proving more effective than Germany cares to admit."

BRITISH SEE NAZI DRIVE AS AIMED AT AMERICAN AID

Believe Berlin Thinks It May Cut U. S. Effort.

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—Britain and soviet Russia both are fighting against Germany, official British sources affirmed tonight, but just how closely they are welded as allies was a secret.

Germany invaded Russia as an easier alternative to an attempt to invade England, British sources declared, and because it might be a deterrent to American aid for Britain.

"The Germans hope to suggest to the United States that an appeasement party exists here, thus preventing the American government and industry from extending armament plants," a spokesman asserted.

"A secondary German propaganda line will certainly be to suggest to America that Britain and Russia are now ideological brothers fighting against Germany. The Nazi army will be pictured as fighting a holy war against bolshevism."

No Evidence of Plans for Aid.

Officials refused comment on German reports of a "secret understanding" between London and Moscow, but there was no evidence of an alliance or of plans for British military or naval aid for the Red forces.

Left wing politicians hailed the outbreak of war as a boon for the allies and declared it meant indefinite postponement of any Nazi invasion attempt against Britain.

Authoritative sources said the British were happy to see "some one else following British policy of killing Germans."

Examining the strategical implications of the opening of an eastern front, authoritative sources emphasized the growing power of British air raids on Germany in the past two weeks as evidence of British determination to "fight Germany until we are dead or victorious."

"In this country," one spokesman averred, "there will be no compromise with Adolf Hitler. This war again shows the futility of any pact with Hitler. Pacts to Germans are the anesthetic given before the operation begins."

Long Range German Plan.

London first gaped and then rejoiced at the news unrestrained by the authoritative statement that "There is no cause for throwing hats into the air simply because Russians and Germans are now killing each other in Europe."

These sources characterized the German advance into Russia as a "cold blooded aggression" decided on to "implement Germany's long range plan of beating first Britain, then the United States to their knees."

Germany risked a two front war because she needs control of Russia's oil, minerals, and wheat to overcome the combined resources of Britain and the United States, British sources contended, and "because Nazi propagandists believe a war on Russia will divide Britain and the United States by playing on anti-Russian feeling in each nation."

All that authoritative sources would admit of the conversation today between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Ivan Maisky, the soviet ambassador, was that an assumption they had discussed the Russian-German war was "safe."

Communists Issue Statement.

The communist party in Britain in an official statement said:

"Hitler's attack on the soviet union is Fascism's supreme aggression against the people of the world. The cause of the soviet union is the cause of the working people all over the world. This attack is a sequel move which has been taking place behind the curtain of the Hess mission.

"We warn the people against upper class reactionaries in Britain and the United States who will seek by every means to reach an understanding with Hitler on the basis of the fight against the soviet union."

The party demands that Rudolf Hess, No. 3 Nazi who parachuted to earth in Scotland on May 10, be put on trial.

D. N. Pritt, Socialist member of parliament, said if "those forces in Britain and the United States which prefer Nazism to bolshevism" have their way, the "switching of the war into one of all capitalist powers against the U. S. S. R. may become a reality."

Lord Strabolgi, the Labor party's chief whip in the house of lords, said 'two hundred [Russian] divisions are now fighting by our side; we must give our new ally every help."

SWEDEN TO KEEP NEUTRAL POLICY IN NAZI-RED WAR

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22 (AP).—Sweden has decided to carry on its policy of neutrality in the midst of German-Russian hostilities. Official circles said there was no reason to expect an immediate risk of involvement and that Sweden would proceed clamly, coolly, and firmly.

Mining of the Baltic sea by the Germans will mean serious risks to Swedish commerce which will be obliged to follow its territorial waters.

It was pointed out that Germany has made no demands to send troops thru Sweden.

TURKEY PROCLAIMS NEUTRALITY; REVEALS NEW FRIENDSHIP PACT

ANKARA, Turkey, June 22 (AP).—Turkey officially proclaimed its neutrality tonight in a short communique issued because of the situation arising from the Russo-German war. At the same time it disclosed new friendship ties with Germany.

Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu announced a commercial treaty with Germany would be concluded quickly as an aftermath of the nonaggression pact the two countries signed June 18. Turkey already had a friendship treaty with Russia and a nonbelligerent alliance with Britain.

Adolf Hitler's assertion that he had blocked a Russian scheme for bases on the Dardanelles and the Bosporus made a deep impression in Turkish circles.

WAR ON RUSSIA CLARIFIES AXIS, SAYS MADRID

MADRID, Spain, June 22 (AP).—Spain's situation in regard to the German-Italian axis has been clarified by the German war on Russia since Germany is fighting the "hated enemy against whom Spain fought for three years" in her civil war, authorized sources said today. Spain accepted with dislike Germany's nonaggression pact with Russia in August, 1939, altho she was pressed to hail it as "a master stroke of diplomacy" which destroyed the attempt to encircle Germany, it was said. Now, the authorized sources continued, "friends are with friends and enemies are known."

RECAPTURE LOST SOIL! ORDER TO RUMANIAN ARMY

Gen. Antonescu Calls for 'Holy War' on Reds.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 22 (AP).—Gen. Ion Antonescu sent Rumania's army against soviet Russia today as a full fledged ally of Germany, ordering his troops to recapture Rumanian soil and "free your oppressed brothers from the Red yoke of bolshevism."

The general's order of the day to Rumanian forces told them the hour had struck for a holy war to erase the stain of disgrace from Rumania's people and to fight for the rights of the church.

"Free Your Brothers."

"Free your oppressed brothers from the Red yoke of bolshevism," he exhorted. "Bring old Bessarabia and the woods of Bukovina, your fields and meadows, back into the fatherland.

"Soldiers, you will fight shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart with the strongest military force on earth.

"You will fight for the soil of Moldavia and for justice in the world. Be worthy of the honor which history, the army of the great reich, and its extraordinary leader, Adolf Hitler, have given you. Fight to avenge injustice. Our people, our king and your general demand this of you."

Cross Russian Frontier.

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—Advices to London from axis and axis influenced sources said the Rumanian army already has smashed across the frontier of soviet Russia on the southern flank.

Reuters, British news agency, said the Rome radio announced that Rumanian forces had crossed the Prut river at 3 a. m. Sunday and said Rumanians had occupied the town of Bolgard, across the Bessarabian border in Russia.

The Prut divides Rumania and Bessarabia, formerly a Rumanian province acquired a year ago by Russia with the acquiescence of Hitler. Bolgard is about 20 miles east of the Prut and roughly the same distance north of the Danube.

Reuters said one of Gen. Jon Antonescu's first steps was to assume power of a generalissimo in Rumania and relinquish his civil rôle of premier to his nephew, Mihail Antonescu, minister without portfolio in the Bucharest cabinet.

CABINET CALLED TO CHART JAPAN'S COURSE ON REDS

Nation Is Urged to Take Action Cautiously.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, June 23 [Monday].—A cabinet council was called for today to study the Russo-German war. The policy of Japan, which is a member of the Rome-Berlin axis and recently signed a nonaggression pact with Russia, has not been decided, it can be stated. This country seems to be sitting on the fence while awaiting further developments.

It was explained that there is no necessity for Tokio to announce its stand immediately. The government is being cautioned by the press to take ample time before deciding its course.

People Taken by Surprise.

Altho the government apparently had been kept informed by its axis partners of the danger of war between Germany and Russia, the public was taken altogether by surprise.

Some quarters expressed belief that the likelihood of the United States joining in the war has been increased.

On the heels of important conferences at the home of the premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoe, until almost midnight last night, an extraordinary conference between the government and the supreme war command was held.

The government was represented by Premier Konoe, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka and the ministers for war and navy, and the supreme command by Gen. Sugiyama, chief of general staff, Admiral Seishin Nagano, chief naval general staff admiral, and subordinates.

Matsuoka was received in audience by the emperor yesterday and reported on the war.

Go Slowly, Business Urges.

Financial and business circles, which expected to increase trade to Europe by way of Russia, while admitting the situation is serious, urged adoption of a cautious attitude. They warned that Japan must be prepared for more United States restrictions on exports.

Berlin reports that reached Tokio declared Germany is confident of overwhelming Russia in two months.

The newspaper Kokumin stated that "Japan is standing under two forms of international relations, viz., the tripartite alliance and the neutrality pact [with Russia]. We Japanese, both official and private, must do our best to meet the world situation squarely with the final object of realizing a new order in east Asia."

The newspaper Yomiuri said:

"Present developments are having a serious influence on Japan's position. The country must be careful not to take a false step."

Filipinos See Check on Japan.

MANILA, P. I., June 23 [Monday] (AP).—Observers here believe the immediate effect on the far east of German-Russian hostilities will be the shelving of Japanese plans for a militaristic push southward. It is believed Japan must now attempt to extricate herself from a new and more untenable international position.

The possibility of a Japanese grab of Russian territories cannot be overlooked if the Russian-German conflict is prolonged and requires a reduction of the soviet's far eastern forces.

The pro-British Philippines accepted news of the conflict jubilantly and gratefully, believing it may ease the tension caused here by defense preparations, which Filipinos recognize are aimed at what Japan may do.

The War in Near East

BRITAIN ASSAILED AS 'ADVERSARY' BY GEN. WEYGAND

Warns His Troops Will Fight Any Attack.

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, June 22 (AP).—Gen. Maxime Weygand, condemning England as "a former ally now become an adversary," declared today his North African troops would defend the French empire against any attack by anybody.

The one time generalissimo of all allied armies and now Chief of State Marshal Petain's proconsul in North Africa, spoke before a crowd of 40,000 persons, including 10,000 French and Moslem veterans who took the oath of allegiance to France and the old marshal.

"Events in Syria have torn aside the veil," he said. "We know that duty can not be at the sides of the former ally, now become an adversary and whose false promises under noble pretexts have lured over too many of our people."

Strengthen Beirut Lines.

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—The British claimed gains over wide areas today in Syria.

Operations apparently centered chiefly at Damascus, from which the French had withdrawn. The Syrian capital was heavily defended and the British believe its capitulation may prove the turning point in the two week old campaign.

The middle east command said Damascus had been occupied by "Free French" forces and summarized other fighting with the statement that action was continuing on all fronts "with local gains everywhere to our credit."

Admit Insufficient Strength.

The French explained their withdrawal from Damascus as the result of insufficient strength to defend the ancient city effectively and said its defenders had been shifted to new lines in the mountains along the road to Beirut, the capital and chief port of Lebanon.

Vichy's communique also reported a setback to the British in the desert on the Syrian-Iraqi frontier. French forces, it said, retook Abou Kemal, near the oil pipe line to Lebanon, after motorized British units had passed thru, heading toward the important air station at Palmyra.

Capture Town in Ethiopia.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 22 (AP).—British and Ethiopian troops, mopping up Italian strong points in southern Ethiopia, took the town of Jimma today and reported "satisfactory" operations on all other southern fronts. West of Lakemti, British were reported closing in on other Italian garrisons. Libya was described as quiet.

Italians Bomb Malta.

ROME, June 22 (AP).—The high command announced today that Italian troops had evacuated Jimma, in Ethiopia, and declared it an open city "to avoid suffering of the population."

Italian planes bombed Burmula arsenal at Malta and supplies, batteries, and fortifications at Tobruk, Libya, as well as British mechanized forces in the Buqbuq zone.

BANDITS FLEE WITH $70.

Two bandits robbed the Lions Athletic and Social club, 4306-08 West North Avenue, of $70 last night.

BRITISH FEEL HITLER HAS TAKEN TOO BIG A BITE, SAYS STEELE

The average Briton feels that Hitler, in attacking Russia, may have tackled more than he can handle, John Steele, London correspondent for the Mutual Broadcasting system, reported last night in a special broadcast over W-G-N.

"The ordinary Englishman's reaction is that he doesn't want to worry much over the Russian political ideology," Steele said. "They are saying that after all, Stalin hasn't tried to impose his philosophy outside Russian borders. They say, too, that any enemy of their enemy is on their side, communist or not. In brief, the Englishman feels that whoever is willing to defeat Hitler is their friend. Whoever does not help to defeat Hitler is not their friend.

"Most Englishmen envision the same thing happening to Hitler as happened to Napoleon."

On the same broadcast, John Paul Dickson, Mutual's Berlin's correspondent, described the German reaction to the event. "The average German was surprised," he said, "because since the Russo-German pact he had been told to regard Russia as a friend."

Rescue 26 Survivors of Torpedoed Portuguese Ship

LISBON, Portugal, June 22 (AP).—The fishing boat Fafe today brought in 26 survivors of the 6,670 ton Portuguese freighter Ganda, who said an unidentified submarine torpedoed the vessel May 20 two days out of Lisbon. The Ganda carried a crew of 50 and 21 passengers. Fate of the missing 45 was not known. Several survivors were injured.

ENTRY INTO WAR IS OPPOSED 16,172 TO 779 IN POLL

The poll conducted by the Citizens Keep America Out of War committee on the question of whether America should enter the war shows overwhelming sentiment against involvement, according to latest figures made public last night.

The poll thus far shows 16,172 votes against participation in the war and 779 votes for it. The poll includes several other questions. Two of them and the vote are: Do you favor American convoys? No, 14,664; yes, 1,934; and Do you favor action by President Roosevelt to bring about peace? Yes, 13,032; no, 3,359.

CANADA'S CHIEF VOICES SUPPORT OF SOVIET FIGHT

OTTAWA, Ont., June 22 [Special].—Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight declared for Canada his sympathy with Russia.

"Every force which fights Hitler today is fighting, whether consciously or unconsciously, for the preservation of Christian civilization. Every day in which Russian resistance holds German aggression is a day contributed to the cause of freedom and the growing power of the British commonwealth and the United States of America," King declared.

It was clearly Hitler's purpose, the prime minister said, to seek to subjugate Russia and then with vast new stores of wheat, oil, and munitions of war to turn for a final onslaught against Britain. He called on those who have in the past considered communism as an enemy to forget their past opinions. "Russia," he said, "is not now a threat to freedom and peace. That threat is Nazi Germany."

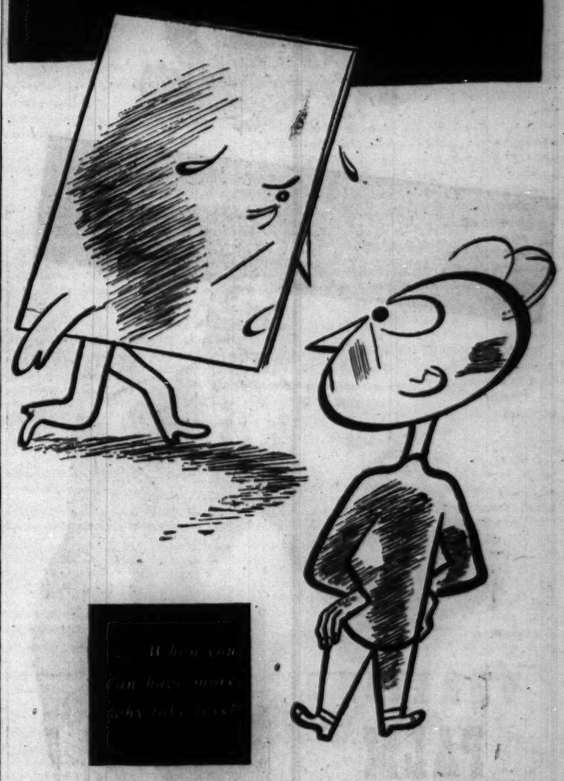
Is your advertising LAGGING behind in Chicago's expanding market?



You can make more sales at lower cost with TRIBUNE advertising.

Does your selling drive take into account Chicago's growing industrial activity? With bigger pay rolls swelling retail sales, low pressure promotional methods cannot deliver the market impact which the present upswing invites.

To step up your efforts in keeping with opportunities in Chicago, build your program around the Tribune. With over 1,000,000 net paid, every day of the week, the Tribune now delivers on weekdays from 595,000 to 635,000 more total circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers and on Sunday from 270,000 to 720,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

At one low cost, the Tribune gives you balanced, market-wide coverage . . . 450,000 more daily circulation right in metropolitan Chicago than delivered by other Chicago daily newspapers—more than any two other Chicago daily newspapers combined. And from 370,000 to 440,000 more on Sunday than other Chicago Sunday newspapers—more than the two other Chicago Sunday newspapers combined. It is the only Chicago newspaper which has circulation volume equivalent to majority coverage of all metropolitan Chicago families.

In every income group of interest to advertisers the Tribune has more circulation in Chicago and suburbs than other newspapers. And, in addition, it reaches hundreds of thousands of prospects in the adjacent territory.

The editorial qualities which build deepest interest among readers produce the best returns for advertisers. As the newspaper which has best demonstrated its ability to widen the Chicago market for its own product, the Tribune can give you the most help in widening the market here for your product.

This fact is proved by Chicago retailers who placed 67% more advertising in the Tribune during 1940 than they placed in any other Chicago newspaper. It is affirmed by general advertisers who last year gave the Tribune a 52% lead.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE LEAD IN ADVERTISING LINAGE
Percentage of Tribune Lead Over Next Chicago Newspaper	1932	1940
GENERAL	23%	52%
RETAIL	6%	67%
CLASSIFIED	58%	116%

When you can have more, why take less?

When you use the Tribune, you put more punch into your selling and pile up more volume at less cost per unit sold. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America.

NAZIS PRESERVE TRANQUILITY AS NEW WAR BEGINS

Berlin Listens to Reviews of Hitler Speech.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 22.—This dispatch is written in Berlin on the evening of June 22. You would never believe that you were in the capital of a land whose armies at dawn today began an invasion which Adolf Hitler's speech described as the "most extensive and comprehensive in history."

Berlin preserves that atmosphere of tranquility which is the one sign it gives that the nation is at war. The meager groups of Sunday strollers—among which uniforms were conspicuously few—showed in no way that they are involved in nerve shaking events.

In hotel lobbies and restaurants—the few open on Sunday—and in the now usually beerless beer halls, loudspeakers blared at unmoved listeners. The radio gave practically nothing which was not in the special editions of the morning newspapers—summaries of Hitler's speech and of the foreign office note to the soviets.

A blazing June sun beat down on more than 120,000 frenzied football enthusiasts who jammed the Olympic stadium, where the German football championship of 1941 was being fought out between teams from the Ruhr and Vienna.

Hamburg entered upon its Derby week, the blue ribbon event of the German turf. More than 100,000 persons saw the German trotting Derby runoff at Ruhleben, just outside Berlin.

Military news is practically nonexistent. It is taken for granted that the procedure will be as in preceding campaigns. Nothing of importance will be announced for at least three days, until the high command can assess its early movements.

Meanwhile, to satisfy the appetite for some kind of war news, there is colorful reporting by men in the German "propaganda companies" of local actions. You hear of the artillery opening along the whole front at 3 o'clock this morning, of frontier posts made only of wood being stormed and of Russian air fields being bombed. All of it tells nothing of the progress of the whole campaign.

MOSCOW UNDER TOTAL BLACKOUT FOR FIRST NIGHT

Chiefs Gather at Kremlin to Confer on Plans.

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP).—This capital was dark, calm, and orderly tonight in the first total wartime blackout in its history. Traffic was normally heavy all evening long, the militia directing it with red and green lanterns.

Red square was weirdly beautiful in the soft, pale darkness of early summer. Guards were on duty at the entrance to the Kremlin, where Premier Stalin and his associates were directing the colossal effort to repulse the German enemy.

Nothing in the attitude of officials, of the soviet press or the behavior of the public had suggested in advance the imminence of war, but soviet Russia was not taken by surprise by the German attack.

Warned of War for Years.

For years the nation has been officially warned of war danger and urged into a "constant state of military preparedness," and in the past year the army has been thoroly reorganized on the basis of the lessons of the war in the west. [Finland and Poland.]

Not for a single day had the workers and farmers of Russia been allowed to forget that war was on the threshold. The discipline of industry and the collective farms has been whipped up and production increased in preparation.

The Red army has been reorganized under Defense Commissar S. K. Timoshenko under the personal supervision of Premier Stalin, and intensive exercises in recent months have dwelt upon perfection of the vast Russian mechanized war machine.

Tanks in Mass Production.

Tanks and planes have been in mass production for many years. The use of parachutists for war purposes was pioneered by the Russians, who have been training tens of thousands of these troopers annually.

Last May day Timoshenko introduced a great display of Red army might in Red square, with a declaration that soviet Russia was ready "to offer an annihilating rebuff to any encroachment by imperialists."

People promenaded leisurely today, but they often stopped in small knots to listen to loudspeakers installed on many roofs of the capital for use during traditional parades and for transmitting any official communications. Most such pronouncements pertain to behavior in case of air raids.

3 U. S. Ships to Carry Foodstuffs to Ireland

New York, June 22 (AP).—Three ships, two of them rebuilt United States freighters, will carry foodstuffs from this country to Ireland under the new Irish merchant marine, it was learned today. The maritime commission will deliver to Ireland the 5,588 ton West Neris and the 5,728 ton West Gotomska. The third vessel is the 2,415 ton freighter Leda, one time Jugo-Slav ship, recently under the Panama flag.

EX-SENATOR HOLT DEMANDS PROBE OF 'UNION NOW'

Former Senator Rush D. Holt of West Virginia last night demanded that the department of justice investigate the sponsors of the "Union Now" plan for a federal union of English speaking nations. Holt said the plan was in the same category with communist and Nazi subversive activities. Holt spoke in Orchestra hall, where he made a surprise appearance before 1,200 persons gathered at a Citizens Keep America Out of War committee rally. The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith of Detroit, the principal speaker, approved Holt's stand on federal union and said it would be "treason to return to British rule."

TEXT OF PLEDGE BY CHURCHILL TO GIVE RUSSIA AID

Prime Minister Urges U. S. to Help.

LONDON, June 22—The text of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's broacast tonight follows:

"I have taken occasion to speak to you tonight because we have reached one of the climacterics of the war. In the first of these intense turning points, a year ago, France fell prostrate under the German hammer and we had to face the storm alone.

"The second was when the royal air force beat the Hun raiders out of the channel and thus warded off the Nazi invasion of our island while we were still ill-armed and ill-prepared.

"The third turning point was when the President and congress of the United States passed the lease and lend enactment, devoting nearly two thousand million sterling of the wealth of the new world to help us defend our liberties and their own.

"Those were the three climacterics. The fourth is now upon us. At 4 o'clock this morning, Hitler attacked and invaded Russia. All his usual formalities were observed with scrupulous technique. A nonaggression treaty had been solemnly signed and was in force between the two countries. No complaint had been made by Germany of its nonfulfillment.

War Begun Without Warning.

"Under its cloak of forced confidence, the German armies drew up in immense strength along a line which stretched from the White sea to the Black sea, and their air fleets and armored divisions slowly and methodically took up their stations. Then suddenly, without declaration of war, without even an ultimatum, the German bombs rained down from the sky upon the Russian cities. The German troops violated the Russian frontiers and an hour later the German ambassador, who till the night before had given assurances of friendship, almost of alliance with the Russians, called upon the Russian foreign minister to tell him that a state of war existed between Germany and Russia.

"Thus was repeated on a far larger scale the same kind of outrage against another form of signed compact and international faith which we had witnessed in Norway, in Denmark, in Holland, in Belgium, and which Hitler's accomplice and jackal, Mussolini, so faithfully imitated in the case of Greece.

"All this was no surprise to me. In fact, I gave clear and precise warnings to Stalin [Russian dictator] of what was coming. I gave him warnings, as I have given warnings to others before. I can only hope that these warnings did not fall unheeded. All we know at present is that the Russian people defending their native soil and that their leaders have called upon them to resist to the utmost.

Hitler "Monster of Wickedness."

"Hitler is a monster of wickedness, insatiable in his lust for blood and plunder. Not content with having all Europe under his heel to terrorize into various forms of abject submission, he must now carry his work of butchery and desolation among the vast multitude of Russia and of Asia. The terrible military machine which we and the rest of the civilized world so foolishly, so supinely, so insensately allowed the Nazi gangsters to build up, year by year, from almost nothing—this machine cannot stand idle lest it rust or fall to pieces. It must be in continual motion, grinding up human lives and trampling down the homes and the rights of hundreds of millions of men.

"Moreover, it must be fed, not only with flesh but with blood. So now this bloodthirsty guttersnipe must launch his mechanized armies upon new fields of slaughter, pillage, and devastation. Poor as are the Russian peasants, workmen, and soldiers, he must steal from them their daily bread. He must devour their harvests. He must rob them of the oil which drives their plows, and thus produce a famine without example in human history; and even the carnage and ruin which his victory, should he gain it—he has not gained it yet—will bring upon the Russian people, shall in itself be only a stepping stone to the attempt to plunge the 400 or 500 millions who live in China and the 350 millions who live in India into that bottomless pit of human degradation over which the diabolic emblem of the swastika flouts itself.

Millions More Menaced.

"It is not too much to say here this summer evening that the lives and the happiness of a thousand million additional human beings are now menaced with brutal Nazi violence. This is enough to make us hold our breath. But presently I shall show you something else that lies behind and something that touches very nearly the life of Britain and of the United States.

"The Nazi régime is indistinguishable from the worst features of communism. It is devoid of all principle except appetite and racial domination. It excels in all forms of human wickedness, in the efficiency of its cruelty and ferocious aggression. No one has been a more consistent opponent of communism than I have for the last 25 years. I will unsay no words that I have spoken about it. But all this fades away before the spectacle which is now unfolding. The past—with its crimes, its follies, and its tragedies—flashes away.

"I see Russian soldiers standing on the threshold of their native land guarding the fields which their fathers have tilled from time immemorial. I see them guarding their homes, where mothers and wives pray. Ah, yes, for there are times when all pray for the safety of their loved ones, for the return of the champion, of their protector. I see the 10,000 villages in Russia where the means of existence is wrung so hardly from the soil, but where there are still primordial human joys, where maidens laugh and children play.

World War Aid Recalled.

"I see advancing upon all this invidious onslaught, the Nazi war machine, with its clanging, heel-clicking, dandified Prussian officers, its crafty expert agents, fresh from the cutting and cowing down of a dozen countries. I see also the dull, drilled, docile, brutish masses of the Hun soldiery coming on like a swarm of crawling locusts. I see the German bombers and fighters in the sky, still smarting from many a British whipping, and they are likely to find, they believe, an easier and safer prey.

"Behind all this storm, I see that small group of venomous men who planned, organized, and launched this cataract of horrors upon mankind. Then my mind goes back across the years to the days when the Russian armies were our allies against the same deadly foe, when they fought with so much valor and constancy and helped to gain a victory, from a share in which, alas, they were, thru no fault of ours, utterly cut out.

"I lived thru all this and you will pardon me if I express my feelings and the stir of old memories.

"But now I have to declare the decision of his majesty's government and I feel sure it is a decision in which the great dominions will in due course concur. We must speak out now, at once, without a day's delay. I have to make the declaration.

One Aim: Destroy Hitler.

"None can doubt what our policy will be. We have but one aim, and one single irrevocable purpose. We are resolved to destroy Hitler and every vestige of his Nazi régime; from this nothing will turn us—nothing. We will never parley, we will never negotiate with Hitler or any of his men. We shall fight him by land, we shall fight him by sea, we shall fight him in the air, until, with God's help, we have rid the earth of his shadow and liberated his peoples from the yoke.

"Any man or state who fights against Nazidom will have our aid. Any man or state who marches with Hitler is our foe. This applies not only to organized states but to all representatives of that vile race of Quislings [a reference to Maj. Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Nazi leader] who make themselves the tools and agents of the Nazi régime against their fellow countrymen and against the lands of their birth. These Quislings, like the Nazi leaders themselves, if not disposed of by their fellow countrymen, which would save trouble, will be delivered by us on the morrow of victory to the justice of the allied tribunals.

"That is our policy and that is our declaration. It follows, therefore, that we shall give whatever help we can to Russia and to the Russian people. We shall appeal to all our friends and allies in every part of the world to take the same course and pursue it as we shall, painfully and steadfastly to the end.

Aid Offered to Russia.

"We have offered to the government of soviet Russia any technical or economic assistance which is in our power and which is likely to be of service to them. We shall bomb Germany by day as well as by night in ever increasing measure, casting upon them month by month a heavier discharge of bombs and making the German people taste and gulp each month a sharper dose of the miseries they have showered upon mankind.

"It is noteworthy that only yesterday the royal air force, fighting inland over France, cut down, with great honor to themselves, 28 Hun fighting machines in the air above the French soil they invaded, defiled and professed to hold. But this is only a beginning. From now hence forward, the main expansion of our air force proceeds with gathering speed. In another six months, the weight of the help we are receiving from the United States in war materials of all kinds, especially in heavy bombers, will begin to tell.

"This is no class war; this is a war in which the whole British empire and commonwealth of nations is engaged without distinction of race, creed or party. It is not for me to speak of the action of the United States, but I will say if Hitler imagines that his attack on soviet Russia will cause the slightest division of aid or slackening of effort in the great democracies who are resolved upon his doom, he is woefully mistaken. On the contrary, we shall be fortified and encouraged in our efforts to rescue mankind from his tyranny. We shall be strengthened and not weakened in our determination and in our resources.

Prelude to British Invasion.

"This is no time to moralize upon the policies of countries and governments which have allowed themselves to be struck down one by one, when by united action they could so easily have saved themselves and saved the world from this catastrophe; but when I spoke a few minutes ago of Hitler's blood lust and the hateful appetites which have impelled or lured him on his Russian adventure, I said there was one deeper motive behind this outrage. He wishes to destroy the Russian power because he hopes that if he succeeds in this, he will be able to bring back the main strength of his army and air force from the east and hurl it upon this island, which he knows he must conquer or suffer the penalty of his crimes.

"His invasion of Russia is no more than a prelude to an attempted invasion of the British Isles. He hopes, no doubt, that all this may be accomplished before the winter comes, and, if he can, overwhelm Great Britain before the fleets and air power of the United States might intervene. He hopes that he may once again repeat upon a greater scale than ever before that process of destroying his enemies one by one by which he has so long thrived and prospered, and that then the scene will be clear for the final act without which all his conquests would be in vain; namely, the subjugation of the western hemisphere to his will and to his system.

"The Russian danger is, therefore, our danger and the danger of the United States, just as the cause of any Russian fighting for his hearth and home is the cause of free men and free people in every quarter of the globe. Let us learn the lessons already taught by such cruel experience. Let us redouble our exertions and strike with united strength while life and power remains."

Until mother nature took a hand yesterday, Chicagoans sweltered under the hottest sun of the year. At 3:30 p. m. o'clock the mercury stood at 94.3 degrees at the weather bureau—the hottest June 22 on record.

Beaches and the forest preserves were crowded to the limit, according to officials, and highways were jammed with thousands of motorists who sought to escape the heat. By 4 o'clock, however, the wind had shifted and the temperature started downward. By 5 p. m. the temperature was down to 76. Today will be cooler, according to the forecast.

Saturday, with 93 degrees, had been the hottest day this year, while the warmest June 22 was in 1908, when the mercury touched 93.

PERSONAL LOANS

With One Co-maker or on Your Signature Only

Read How You Can Save as Much as $11.74 (more than enough to make one monthly payment) on a $100 Loan Payable in 12 Months

DIFFERENCES in quality justify higher prices for many articles you buy. But the money you borrow one place is exactly the same as the money you borrow anywhere else. With it you can buy just so much, and no more. So why pay more for a loan than you have to?

Make This "Figuring" Test

The next time you need a loan, make this simple, conclusive test before you borrow. Multiply the amount of the required monthly payments by the number of payments. See how much more you have to pay back than you get.

For example: If you are asked to make 12 payments of $9.77 for a $100 loan (a typical case elsewhere), you will be paying back $117.24. Your loan will cost you $17.24.

Here at Merchandise Bank a $100 loan costs only $5.50 including Life Insurance which pays the loan in the event of your death and relieves your family and co-maker of all obligation. On the above example, YOU SAVE $11.74—more than enough to make a complete monthly payment! To get this extremely low rate we ask for one co-maker who may be a relative or friend. But you can also borrow on your signature alone.

On Your Signature Only

A $100 loan on your signature only (you alone sign note) costs but $8 here—a clear saving of $9.24 (more than 50%) in the example above. Of course, you want to make this BIG saving. These are our basic requirements for a single signature loan:

(a) over 21 years of age.
(b) employed 2 years on present job with established concern.
(c) $100 or more monthly income.

Generally, if you meet these fair requirements, you can easily borrow here without a co-maker or endorser. But whichever way you borrow, you're sure to save at least half of average costs elsewhere.

Pay Less Per Month

Because your loan cost is less at Merchandise Bank, monthly payments are smaller. You can have up to 18 months to repay. See table for typical monthly payments.

AMOUNT OF NOTE	EASY MONTHLY PAYMENTS
	18 Months	12 Months
$100	$ 5.55	$ 8.33
200	11.11	16.66
300	16.66	25.00
500	27.77	41.66
750	41.66	62.50

Amounts Up to $2,500

You'll Like Borrowing Here

You'll find it quick, pleasant and profitable to borrow at Merchandise Bank. You save money. You get liberal treatment and friendly service. You pay less per month. You build valuable bank credit. Aren't these worth having? Of course they are!

FINNS HOLD HOPE OF NEW FRONTIER FARTHER TO EAST

Collaborate with Swedish and Nazi Staffs.

[The following dispatch arrived in Chicago by mail, reaching THE TRIBUNE only shortly before the outbreak of war between Germany and Russia. Mr. Day in a number of previous dispatches had foretold the event, and this dispatch reveals the feelings of the northern countries and Finland's hopes.]

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, May 15 [By courier, uncensored].—If Finland's hopes are realized, her frontier will be extended eastward into Russia and follow the Lake Ladoga-White sea canal and bring the entire Kola peninsula [on the Arctic] under Finnish rule.

Finland's hopes for the future are based on the fact that the present European war has destroyed Slavonic influence in Europe. Latin influence also has suffered a setback.

The Europe of the future is expected by Finnish leaders to develop along Nordic lines. Germany has declared itself a Nordic nation. German policy has been directed to help the other Nordic countries. Despite all propaganda to the contrary, Finland and the Scandinavian states and Germany are growing closer together. England has lost not only her predominant position in Scandinavia, but also in other sections of Europe.

Three Staffs Collaborate.

The general staffs of Germany, Sweden, and Finland all regard Russia as a common enemy and military collaboration between these three countries has been growing. Everything points to a war between Germany and Russia in the near future. I have not yet met a Finnish or Swedish military authority who believes Germany can be defeated.

These military men further believe the German conquest of Europe will not be ended before the communist government of Russia has been destroyed and the disintergration of the soviet completed.

The efficiency of the Red army has not improved to any marked extent since its war against Finland [1939-'40] and the detachments occupying the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania consist of half trained ignorant soldiers led by officers equally incompetent.

Corruption in Army.

Their inefficiency and incompetence is revealed by their corruption. The Tallinn, Riga, and Kaunas soviets adopted a building program when they were elected. But all available building materials had been requisitioned by the Red army for barracks and fortifications. Officers began selling these materials to speculators who in turn sold them to the soviets at huge profits. The result was economic chaos which the GPU [secret police] seemed powerless to liquidate.

Red army officers associated with the local populations of the Baltic states and voiced their disgust with the Moscow government, hinting at a military putsch. Observers in Tallinn and Riga gave the opinion that the soviet government was afraid of the Red army, this explaining the GPU failure to deal with any undercurrents.

Urged on by Commissars.

As early as March there was an indication that the communist party was seeking a fight with Germany. It was contained in an order to all political commissars with the Red army to agitate for the necessity of an immediate attack on Germany. This was not popular with the officers or the soldiers.

The Baltic peoples await the day when Germany will attack Russia. They said that if soviet occupation of their countries continued for many months mass exiles of the populations would take place and their countries would be filled with Russians, as happened in soviet Karelia and the land taken from Finland.

Baltic leaders and Germans believe the conquest of the Baltic states will take days instead of weeks. The Baltic armies are intact, but were deprived of their ammunition.

Exterminate Owners.

Communism regards National Socialism [Nazism] as its greatest enemy. Both of these dogmas embody a new conception of organizing world economy. The failure of the communist economy to function efficiently and produce an improved standard of living in Russia, with the natural resources at its command, is due primarily to communism's rejection of the idea of private property and initiative.

A secondary cause is the policy of communism to exterminate physically the property owning and educated classes and to depend upon the lower classes to operate its new state owned economy. Communism's creed of class warfare was rejected by the world, but its agents met with success in promoting class differences, labor trouble, and disorders in many countries.

FINLAND GRIM, BUT FACES NEW WAR WITH CALM

Women Take Up Work of Men in Army.

on our guard. Independent and free Finland expects each one of her citizens in this exacting moment to remain calm, retain his self-control and quietly carry out the tasks of fulfilling his duty, trusting in a happy future for the nation."

Flags for a Holiday.

All over Finland the white Finnish flag with its sky blue cross was hoisted atop every farm house in honor of midsummer, the happiest holiday for all northern lands in Europe. The flags remained hoisted all night, for around Helsingfors the sun sets after 9:30 p. m., rising again at 2:30 a. m., and its short dip below the horizon makes the night only a long twilight.

Farther north the night is shorter. In central and north Finland the sun won't set and the midsummer night sun watches the universal merrymaking. This year there were no bonfires and no celebrations. The women and children are doing farm work and the men folk are serving in the army.

The Annual Scrubbing.

But Saturday night thousands of churches received their annual scrubbing inside and out. Tradition holds that midsummer services must be held in clean surroundings. After Sunday services farm women went home to pack a cart of their reserves of potatoes to the nearest collection point; the government had made a special request to fill the needs of the army.

Finland has been obliged to dig deep into her scanty hoard of iron rations held for just such an emergency as that which exists today when between 200,000 and 300,000 men are wearing uniforms.

For some time the Finns have been saying, "ja vatsasa," meaning "ice is the stomach." That is the way they feel when they get up against something big and they all know today they are up against something.

Finland's policy was explained by an exclusive statement which President Risto Ryti granted THE TRIBUNE last Friday. He declared that "we will not fight for any other interests, only for Finland if needed."

Fight Only for Finland.

The allegation of Vyacheslav Molotov, Russia's foreign commissar, that Finland had joined, like Rumania, with the German army in attacking Russia, is denied here.

How long Finland can remain uninvolved is the chief thought of all. Sunday I telephoned friends on an estate near Hango, but altho they are in a position to hear, should hostilities open, they reported all was quiet on what is known as Finland's "western front."

I listened to Russian news broadcasts at 8 a. m. and 10 a. m. Not a word was mentioned about the war. Molotov's short speech came on the air only at 11:30 a. m.

There had never been a broadcast in the Russian language from any German station until this morning when announcers speaking Russian and Ukrainian called upon officers and fighters of the Red army to turn their weapons against "Stalin and his band of Jewish exploiters and rid Russia of bolshevik elements and establish a free Russian government for all honest men."

BOY'S KINDNESS TO AUTO OWNER COSTS HIM LEG

Because he went to the trouble of bicycling to the Willow Springs county highway police station with an automobile license plate found beside the road, Duane Bjorklund, 12 years old, last night lost the use of his left leg. The boy was returning from the police station to his home at 8320 South 77th court, Lyons township, when he was struck by the automobile of a hit-run driver at Roberts road and 81st street, Lyons township. His left leg was almost severed. He was taken to the Berwyn hospital, the injured leg bound by a tourniquet made from Police Sergeant Max Altman's tie. At the hospital physicians were forced to amputate the leg above the ankle.

Robbers Crack Safe; Loot Valued at $10,000

Burglars who entered the Master Jewelers and Optometrists store at 6337 South Halsted street last night cracked the combination lock on the safe and stole miscellaneous jewelry which the manager, George McMann, told police was valued at approximately $10,000.

Constant Research Makes the Prevention of Baldness Possible

CHICAGO, June 23 (J. W.)—Science has never discovered a way to grow hair on a bald head — and baldness remains a permanent condition except in very rare cases to the unfortunates so afflicted, but rapid strides have been made by the John E. Warner Associates in the prevention of Baldness. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through the Warner method of treatment, but no case is ever accepted unless beneficial results are certain. Hundreds of men and women are treated each week in some of the largest and best equipped offices of this kind in the world, located in Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, and Pittsburgh. This service is now available to the people of Chicago through the new office here. There is never any charge for a private examination or consultation at these offices—and in every case honest advice is given as to whether or not treatment can be helpful. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if caught in time. Many cases treated have resulted in a more luxuriant growth of the hair and a greatly improved appearance. Each case is studied individually and constantly and each person treated is given detailed instructions at the conclusion of the treatment so that a healthy head of hair is a permanent condition. The new Chicago offices of John E. Warner Associates are conveniently located at Suite 1320-24 North American Bldg., 36 S. State (northwest corner State and Monroe). Phone Central 1451. Hours 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily, Saturday to 6 p. m. Fees for treatment are moderate and are paid as the treatments are taken. There is a separate department for women.

ITALY DECLARES WAR ON RUSSIA; CALLS IT CRUSADE

Oil, Wheat for Long War Are Other Objectives.

ROME, June 22 (AP).—Italy declared war on the soviet union today, following Germany's lead in what Italians called at once a "crusade of liberation" against bolshevism and a drive for supplies of wheat and oil for a long struggle against Britain and the United States.

How, if at all, Italy would participate actively was not learned, but some observers said it was almost certain that Premier Mussolini would want at least symbolic representation of Italian airmen on the Russian front. Italians indicated the Russian front was too far from the Mediterranean for their troops to join the Germans in battle.

The likeliest points of belligerent contact between Italy and Russia were at sea. It might become Italy's task to coöperate with the Germans in an attempt to block the western entrance of the Dardanelles against passage of Russian ships.

Charges Against U. S.

A statement handed to the foreign press sought to give the war the character of a united European struggle against bolshevism and against Russia, Britain, and the United States.

Adolf Hitler's war decision was said to be "the logical consequence of proposals and a policy of healthy European reconstruction."

Virginio Gayda, chief editorial spokesman for Fascism, wrote that the drive into Russia was to gain food for Europe to counter the allied blockade. He charged that the United States wants to starve all Europe.

News that Italy had taken on another belligerent fell quietly on Rome in the middle of a stuffy summer day. With the exception of blackouts, minor transportation annoyances, and food restrictions, Rome has never seemed like a wartime capital.

The Italian government informed the Russian ambassador, Nicolai Gorelchin, that a state of war existed between Italy and his nation as from 5:30 a. m. today.

The news was broken to the Italian public in a brief broadcast by the Rome radio at 1 p. m. Prior to the official Fascist announcement, authorities had declared "prompt, total, profound and spontaneous" Italian solidarity with Germany in the conflict.

They said the people awaited the Nazi attack on the soviet union "with great relief" as "a crusade of liberation" from bolshevism, which the Fascists have fought ever since the inception of their revolution in Italy.

Observers regarded the campaign against Russia for her raw material as a sign that Hitler and Mussolini are convinced the United States now is actively in the war on Britain's side. With American resources going to Britain, the axis powers had to look to another large reservoir of such resources, which is Russia.

Fascists declared unofficially also that the Russian campaign would result in bringing Spain into the axis lineup of all Europe, implying Portugal too would have to come into the German-Italian camp eventually.

Miss Mary Beritich, 7223 Halsted street, a secretary, won the spot landing contest at a breakfast flight and get-together of the Chicago Girls' Flying club yesterday at Rubinkam airport, 167th street and California avenue. She was awarded a clock.

Thirty members of the club competed after which they attended a breakfast in a Hazelcrest restaurant. Miss Florence Mall of Flossmoor and Mrs. Helen Budwash of Harvey were hostesses. The club is composed of housewives, stenographers, and secretaries interested in actual flying or in the promotion of aviation among women.

Argentina Arrests 160 After Singing of Red Song

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 22 (AP).—One hundred and sixty men were arrested tonight at the offices of the leftist newspaper La Hora, where they held a meeting after being dispersed from the waterfront. The group, which was held for quesing dispersed from the waterfront near a soviet ship and sunk "The Internationale."

EXPERTS DISCERN 3 GOALS IN NAZI ATTACK ON REDS

Confusion of Foes, Suez, and Resources Cited.

Hitler has gone to war against soviet Russia, according to participants in yesterday's University of Chicago Radio Round Table, because:

1. He needs desperately the economic resources of that country—Ukrainian wheat and Caucasian oil—in order to continue the fight against Great Britain.

2. He is attempting to drag out the "red herring" idea and confuse British and American public opinion.

3. He may be trying to reach and control the vital Suez canal by this roundabout way of conquering the vast stretches of Russia.

Summed Up on Round Table.

These theories were summed up in yesterday's Round Table session in which Dr. Frederick Schuman, Woodrow Wilson professor of government at Williams college, Williamstown, Mass.; Prof. Neil Jacoby, professor of finance at the University of Chicago, and Elmo Roper, public opinion analyst, participate.

Chief proponent of the economic theory was Prof. Jacoby. "Hitler's invasion of Russia," he said, "is understandable from an economic viewpoint. He has to create an economically self-sufficient state if he is to survive. He finds it necessary to hedge against the possibility that increased American aid to Great Britain will prolong the war. Therefore, he realized Germany must round up all possible economic resources."

Public Opinion Effect Noted.

Prof. Jacoby noted that before the Nazis engaged Great Britain and France in war, Germany was 80 per cent self-sufficient in food and 30 per cent in oil. "It seems unlikely," he commented, "that Hitler's needs have diminished, what with an army of 3 million. He needs Ukrainian wheat and Caucasian oil. He realizes that with expected American aid going to Britain at top speed by the middle of 1942, the war will be at a stalemate then for him—or lost."

Schuman cited the possibility that the attack on Russia is designed to "corrupt and poison and confuse American public opinion."

"Hitler, by this move, hopes to deflect American and English public opinion from their central idea—to defeat him. He has dragged out this ancient red herring, going back to his very first anti-Comitern ideas."

After Jacoby suggested that Hitler may be attempting to reach Suez by this blitzkrieg in Russia, Schuman, replying to a general query of "Why did Hitler pick this week to attack Russia?" said, "Hitler evidently has decided that he won't make a successful invasion of England this summer."

TWO PLANES FORCED DOWN; PILOT OF ONE IS RESCUED IN LAKE

Edmund Rewers, 23 years old, a student flyer, was rescued yesterday when the plane he was flying dived into the lake about one mile off 79th street. He was rescued by a nearby cabin cruiser. The Jackson park coastguard towed the plane to the beach.

Edmund Rewers.

As the plane, a two passenger training type, settled in the water, Rewers had trouble unfastening his safety belt, he related. The cabin was under water before he released the belt and climbed out thru the door. Rewers, who lives at 3042 East 87th street, was a student of the Kunau Air Service at Rubinkam airport, in Markham. He said he had 180 hours in the air, and that the plane's motor had failed.

A mechanical defect in the engine of a sightseeing plane operated by the Monarch Air Service, 3254 Marquette road, forced it to land along the Santa Fe railroad tracks near 37th street and Central Park avenue. There were three women and one man with the pilot, Edward Ducrest. No one was injured.

BRITISH BAG 30 NAZI PLANES IN NEW AIR FORAYS

Claim 98 Shot Down in Seven Days.

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—Giving the German invasion bases in France no letup, the RAF destroyed 30 German planes over the English channel and France today at the loss of only two British fighters, it was announced officially. London had its first air raid alarm since June 14 late tonight. The alert was lifted some time later when no planes were reported overhead.

The air ministry news service said the daylight bag of German planes for the last seven days reached 98, against a loss of 19 British craft. It added that of 58 planes downed in the last two days many were of the new ME-109 type.

Nazis Show Lack of Spirit.

Most of the fighter command pilots who took part in today's operations spoke on their return of the lack of spirit shown by German pilots, the service said.

Squadrons which acted as escorts to bombers on the way to targets and back saw 50 Messerschmitts as they were returning to the coast. Altho they outnumbered the British they attempted no concerted attack, one squadron leader said.

Most of the German aircraft shot down were over enemy territory, the service said, adding:

"Scores of German fighters were put into the air as the British fighters approached the French coast in an attempt to stop their progress but without avail. The operation was carried out on schedule and the ME's were brushed aside as squadron after squadron swept on their way inland and then out again, back to England."

Claim 11 Planes Downed.

BERLIN [Monday], June 23 (AP).—British squadrons attacking the German occupied port of Boulogne, France, yesterday lost 11 planes, DNB, German news agency, reported early today. Two Bristol Blenheims were downed in dogfights, while nine Spitfires were shot out of the sky. German anti-aircraft in Holland bagged another British plane, the agency said.

The Luftwaffe's attack on the English port of Southampton on Saturday night was considered "one of the most successful attacks made on this city recently," DNB said. It added that more than 400,000 pounds of incendiary and explosive bombs were rained on Portsmouth harbor facilities and fires were visible as far as the French coast.

The agency also declared the Luftwaffe on Saturday night sank two freighters totaling 7,000 tons off the British east coast.

MORE THAN 4,000 ATTEND SINGS IN FOREST AREAS

More than 4,000 persons attended the three choral concerts given in the Cook county forest preserves yesterday under the joint sponsorship of the forest preserve district and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. The sings were the second in a series of seven Sunday programs.

The St. John's Choral society, directed by Alvin E. Bruns, sang at Caldwell woods before an audience of 1,500. The choir sang songs by Russian, Italian, German, English, Swedish, and American composers. John Kallas, 11 years old, 1421 Chicago avenue, was selected from the audience to sing "God Bless America."

The children's a cappella choir thrilled 500 listeners in Thatcher woods, and the youngest of the young singers, Elaine Rieck, 10, made a big personal hit. John Rieck directed. More than 2,000 persons attended the Ogden Park Choral club's concert in Dan Ryan woods.

CHARGES UNIONS DELAY ST. LOUIS ARMAMENT WORK

St. Louis, Mo., June 22 (AP).—The Globe-Democrat in a copyrighted story says the supply of labor for more than $50,000,000 in national rearmament construction in the St. Louis area is being curtailed by union officials thru their control of new workmen and high initiation fees.

An investigation of employment conditions at four major rearmament projects disclosed a restriction of the labor supply thru tightly closed ranks of the unions in coöperation with contractors.

"Despite the hourly growing urgent need for skilled craftsmen and other workers," the Globe-Democrat continues, "the acceptable man power is being held down by means of the air-tight control American Federation of Labor union officers have over necessary new workmen and high initiation fees."

YOUTHS TO LEARN HOW TO GOVERN MODEL STATES

What is government?

That question will be answered for 1,280 boys and 400 girls of Illinois in practical fashion during the week of June 28-July 5. Under the auspices of the American Legion, the 7th Premier Boys' State will be held in Springfield and the Girls' State in Jacksonville.

Thruout the state the Legion posts have selected their delegates—youths between 16 and 19 years old, outstanding because of their character and leadership qualities.

The two States are intensive courses in citizenship. The program was launched in Illinois in 1934 and this year 33 other states are conducting similar courses.

Trained counselors supervise the States, but their activities are subordinate to those of the youths. They establish regular ward, city, county, and state governments. Elections and conventions are held and the mayor, governor, aldermen, and county board members are chosen by popular vote.

EX-POLICE CHIEF DIES AT WATERLOO.

Waterloo, Ia., June 22 [Special].—Frank M. Shores, 73 years old, former Blackhawk county sheriff for six years and Waterloo police chief from 1930 to 1934, died today. He operated a transfer company here for many years.

FIND WATCHMAN SLAIN; FELLOW WORKER QUIZZED

Lawrence Hurlbut, 22 years old, 3305 South Halsted street, a watchman for the Interstate Motor Freight system at 1833 Canal street, was found shot to death in the company yard yesterday. Maxwell street police later took into custody another watchman for the concern, Joseph Miletto, 27, of 911 South Racine avenue, for questioning. Miletto had a bullet wound in the right leg. He told Acting Captain Louis Capparelli that his pistol accidentally discharged and killed Hurlbut while the two were examining it. He said he became frightened and ran away, putting the gun in his pocket. He said the gun fired accidentally again, the bullet striking his leg. Police were unable to find the gun, which Miletto said he had hidden in an ash can at Jefferson and 18th streets.

3 DIE AS ARMY BOMBER FALLS INTO A SWAMP

Mountville, Ga., June 22 (AP).—A light army bomber which a witness said "nose dived out of a dark cloud during a terrific thunderstorm" killed its three occupants today when it crashed in a swamp.

The victims were listed by Fort Benning authorities as Second Lieutenant Stratford L. Morton, the pilot; Capt. H. W. Herlong of the ordnance department, and a Private Thomas A. Sims. The ship, from the Savannah air base, was en route from Fort Benning to Chattanooga, Tenn.

When the Lawyer Called in an Agent...

Dear Mr. Johnson: As a lawyer, I often find life insurance playing a part in the lives of my clients. One of your recent columns, which described the service a good agent can render, reminds me of an experience of my own.

Three years ago my friend Jim Raines came to me very much troubled. His business—of which he was the sole owner—had been in bad shape. To keep it going, he had dropped part of his life insurance, posted one policy as collateral for a loan, borrowed heavily on the rest. But the tide had turned.

Now, facing a lower income, he had the problem of keeping up his premiums.

I happened to think of what my agent had once accomplished in a similar case and phoned him.

"Will you talk to Jim?" I asked. "Even though there won't be any business in it for you?"

"Of course," he said. "Be glad to do anything I can."

This is what he did. First, he rearranged the premium dates to make it as easy as possible for Jim to pay the premiums. Then he persuaded him to make regular savings bank deposits, to be used to pay premiums when they came due. Into these went a definite percentage of every bit of income he got, before he had a chance to use a dime for anything else.

Jim's first reaction was that this might be all right for others—but that he didn't need to play psychological tricks on himself. But my agent stuck to his point and won out.

"I certainly wish I'd let some agent do all this for me before," Jim told me, when he saw how the plan was working out. "Oh, I'm not out of the woods yet. But I spend less time worrying and more running my business—which helps more than you've any idea..."

Unfortunately, he died eighteen months later. It was a tragic shock, of course, for his family. But the insurance guaranteed them financial security, and his business passed to his oldest son and his son-in-law as a going concern—neither of which would have been the case, I am convinced, if a life insurance agent had not been "glad to do anything he could."

GERMANY'S 'BLOW AT COMMUNISM' CHEERS FRENCH

Chance to Lighten Own Burden Also Seen.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, June 22.—The German war on Russia brought smiles today to most French faces. There were apparently two reasons:

First, the German attack against Russia is considered less an offensive than a reaction of the "new Europeanism" against bolshevism. Communism has been branded a serious menace in France for months. Perhaps 15,000 persons are held in detention camps or jails for communist activities, and Chief of State Petain only recently appealed to the French to beware of communism.

Expect Own Burden to Shrink.

Second, the French believe the occupation of France may be lightened thru the withdrawal of German troops to fight Russia.

French unofficial sources believe German possession of the Ukraine, Russian granary, against which the Nazi army is supposed here to be aimed, would benefit all Europe since it would put the Ukraine's wheat and oil into the hands of the Germans.

French spokesmen stressed that the German blow at Russia represented "Europe's will to get rid of the baneful influence of the soviets."

It was said unofficially that Russia never was inspired by any real desire to collaborate, much less to work sincerely for European reconstruction. Furthermore, according to the same sources, the soviet attitude was dominated by self-interested calculations.

Red Army Disparaged.

French sources also reëchoed the idea that Germany is placing itself in the vanguard as European leader and that as German troops raise a bulwark against the orient, they destroy that "element of dissension in Europe which bolshevism represented."

French commentators suggested that a reverse for the Russian armies, which they do not regard highly, would possibly lead to disintegration of the soviet union and the detachment of its many republics from Moscow. On the other hand, French military critics discuss Russia's chances cautiously because of the enormous spaces over which an attacking army must operate.

Observer Back

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

New York, June 22 (AP).—Returning from a 'round-the-world trip as a United States military observer, Capt. James Roosevelt expressed belief tonight that what he called the "democracies" fighting Nazism faced a "tremendous job."

The President's eldest son carried a bulging khaki knapsack which he said contained information which he would report to his superiors, Maj. Gen. Thomas Holcomb of the marine corps and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, tomorrow in Washington, D. C.

Asked whether he was "disheartened," Capt. Roosevelt replied: "No. It is one of those things and situations in which I can say I am neither heartened nor disheartened." He added that Great Britain needed planes, tanks, and everything this country could send.

DAWN REVEALS SOME GOINGS-ON IN YACHT HARBOR

Trip to Valhalla Leads 4 Into Trouble.

When the orchestra played "Home Sweet Home" at the end of the Delta Theta Tau sorority dance at the Edgewater Beach hotel early yesterday, Lee Cornell, an industrial engineer, said to three newly found friends:

"Let's have some champagne."

"Let's," chorused the three friends. They were Sergt. Harry T. Moore, 26, of Camp Grant; his financée, Miss Evelyn Parson, 24, a riding instructress of Decatur, in Macon county, and Miss Dorothy Wilson, 29, a clerk, of nearby Bement, in Piatt county.

Ride to Valhalla.

The party piled into a cab and headed for a tavern where they had several glasses of champagne. Then Cornell, who is 27 and lives at 4431 North Springfield avenue, said:

"Let's have a sunrise breakfast aboard my boat."

They called another cab and drove to Belmont harbor, where they got into a dinghy and rowed to the 38 foot cruiser Valhalla.

Host Cornell tried the cabin door, but it was locked. He tried the galley door; that was locked, too. He searched in his pockets for the keys. Then his wrist watch dropped overboard.

Dives for Watch.

Cornell removed his clothing and dived for the watch. The girls ran to the other side of the boat. They missed seeing a beautiful dive as the sun rose over Belmont harbor, because Cornell was once a professional swimmer. Sergt. Moore undressed and went overboard, too.

Cornell and Moore didn't get the watch, but they did get themselves arrested by Lieut. William Drury of Town Hall station for swimming in the nude. Miss Parsons and Miss Wilson also were arrested. All four will face the judge in the Women's court on minor charges today, and Cornell, in addition, probably will face Harold Warp of the Graemere hotel, who'd like to know since when Cornell became the owner of Warp's boat, the Valhalla.

80 COOK COUNTY COMMITTEEMEN GREEN'S GUESTS

Springfield, Ill., June 22 [Special].—Members of the Republican central committee of Cook county were the guests this afternoon of Gov. Dwight H. Green. It was reported that all 80 of them appeared at the buffet luncheon at the executive mansion.

Among those present were two Chicago ward committeemen believed to have aroused Green's anger because of their opposition to the Schnackenberg bill for an investigation of Chicago taxing bodies which he sponsored. They were Representative Robert Petrone [26th ward committeeman] and William V. Pacelli, alderman and committeeman for the 20th ward, who was charged up with the responsibility for the loss of four house votes on the Schnackenberg bill. This subject, it was said, was not mentioned during the luncheon.

Invitations for this affair were issued two weeks ago—before the defeat of the Schnackenberg bill was threatened. It was only one of a series of dinners and luncheons on the executive program.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR ILLINOIS AND CHICAGO

Save Our Republic

THE HEAT IS OFF.

The German declaration of war against Russia has cut the ground from under the war party in this country.

They said we must go to war to save Britain from invasion. Britain is no longer threatened with invasion. German air power must be concentrated against the new enemy. So must German land power. Hitler now can have no panzer divisions, no mechanized divisions, no parachute troops to spare for an assault upon the British Isles. Everything he has over and above the troops needed to police his previous conquests and to prevent a British attack across the channel or the North sea must now be thrown against the new enemy.

The military conquest of Russia, or only of Russia's western provinces, is a stupendous undertaking calling for the maximum of exertion. The distances are vast. The communications are poor. The Russians command an immense army, by far the largest which Germany has yet faced and in many respects a better equipped army than any which the Germans have conquered in this war.

The British themselves recognize that the menace to them has been lifted. They appear to be in no doubt of the meaning of the latest turn of events. In an official broadcast directed to Germany the British have rejoiced that "Hitler will have to stretch his entire armed force far beyond the soviet frontiers and thus will have to give up any plans for the invasion of Great Britain."

The news is hardly less welcome in this country than in Britain, for it means that if there ever was any justification for our intervention in arms that justification no longer exists. The heat is off. The pressure upon us is relaxed. We can face our problems calmly, confident that Britain is in no immediate danger. Even if the Germans knife thru to Moscow as easily and as speedily as they have advanced on other fronts, the fact remains that the most favorable season for invading England will have passed before Hitler can once again turn his attention westward. For so stupendous a military undertaking as the conquest of Britain, months of preparation are required. A million or more men and their equipment cannot be moved across a continent in a few days or even a few weeks. Britain's defensive position, already so strong that Hitler has declined to assault it, will be greatly strengthened before he can again consider an invasion.

That being the case there is no further excuse for trying to stampede the American people into hasty commitments and half-considered action. There is no need for the American people to sacrifice their freedom in the name of an emergency which does not exist.

Only a few hours before Germany's declaration of war on Russia, Mr. Roosevelt renewed his pressure upon congress for authority to seize private property of all sorts. That is a revolutionary measure which, if this country were actively at war, would deserve to be examined with the utmost care. It is improbable that such an authorization will promote preparation as much as it will retard it by encouraging secret hoarding and bootlegging. Certainly the granting of such stupendous powers should be safeguarded against abuses. Mr. Roosevelt has offered no evidence to show that any one is withholding any materials from the government. Once again he is asking for dictatorial power in the name of emergency.

But this time the emergency has slid out from under him. The excuse for haste is gone. Congress knows that and, knowing it, should refuse to be stampeded into ill-advised action.

CROSS-EYED CRUSADERS.

The bill to reapportion the congressional districts of Illinois failed in the house at Springfield by a vote of 77 against it, to 59 for it. The present boundaries were drawn in 1901 upon the basis of the 1900 census. Meanwhile there have been enormous movements of population within the state and especially within Cook county. The failure of the bill means that the present inequalities in representation remain. There is one district in Cook county—the 7th—with a population of approximately a million people. There are others which have few more than 100,000 residents.

This country is being urged by its political leaders in Washington to embark upon a crusade to establish democracy the world over. We are to spend several hundred billion dollars and slaughter some millions of our young men to achieve this end in Japan and China, Turkey and Russia, Germany and Italy, and a great many other distant places.

In this connection it may be worth noting that the Democratic delegation from Cook county cast 26 votes against reapportionment. Not a single Democratic vote from Cook county was cast in favor of democracy in Illinois. The Democratic party is the war party, the party of the crusade for democracy overseas, but its leaders don't seem to care about democracy at home. Mr. Roosevelt makes the ether tremble with his denunciations of Mr. Hitler for depriving the German people of representative government, but Mr. Roosevelt doesn't turn a hair when his followers in Illinois deprive the people of Illinois of representative government.

If Mr. Roosevelt really was a crusader for democracy he would have brought pressure to bear for democracy in Illinois. A few hints from him might have been sufficient to carry the bill to victory. He didn't stir because to do so might have cost him a few votes in congress. Here is evidence to prove that the sacrifices "for democracy" which Mr. Roosevelt is calling for are sacrifices by every one but himself.

THE TAX COLLECTION BILLS.

The legislature, which has done little at its present session to earn the gratitude of the state's taxpayers, has an opportunity to reëstablish itself with them if it will pass senate bills 648 and 649. These two bills embody the most workable proposals yet brought forward to end the property tax delinquency that is slowly driving Cook county governments toward bankruptcy, and seriously embarrassing local government elsewhere in the state.

Bill 648 makes it mandatory upon officials whose duty it is to collect taxes to foreclose upon properties on which the taxes have been delinquent for certain periods.

The foreclosure procedure is not new, but the bill remedies defects in the present procedure that at present make it virtually unworkable. The county, as agent for the tax levying governments, must bid in property on which private bids do not reach a statutory maximum. There are adequate safeguards against this forfeited property remaining permanently in public hands, exempt from taxes.

To a certain extent the bill only compels public officials to do what a sense of duty should impel them to do anyway. However, it also sets up rules that will guard them from public criticism for doing their duty.

In this county State's Attorney Courtney has been reluctant to start tax foreclosures, and understandably so. As the statute now stands, a tax foreclosure amounts to a proceeding to compromise taxes with the owner of the delinquent property. The state's attorney has had to proceed entirely on his own discretion, with no rules to guide him, in making agreements for minimum bids by owners of foreclosed property. The owner's privileges of redemption under the present statute are so excessive that there have been no outside bids to make the sales a real auction.

It is understandable that Mr. Courtney should be reluctant to make agreements for payments of less than the full amount of taxes and penalties. Such agreements are obviously open to criticism, even tho made with the best intentions in the world. The pending bill substitutes a public rule for the private discretion of the state's attorney. At the same time, the privileges which have enabled property owners to dodge their taxes for years are so limited as to make it possible for outside bidders to bid on delinquent property. That should increase materially the amount of delinquent taxes recovered.

As drafted the bill has one defect—the rate of interest set for redemption by the equity holder after a foreclosure sale. The rate is 6 per cent a year. This is a sufficient return on a bidder's money, but it is not sufficient to cover both a return on his money and his other costs, such as appraisals and attorney's fees, in bidding in a piece of property. At 6 per cent a year there will be few outside bidders at the foreclosure auctions, because they will be out of pocket if the equity owner exercises his privilege of redemption. A 12 per cent rate would make it moderately profitable to make such bids, and would increase the tax return to the interested governments.

The second of the two bills at Springfield strengthens the tax lien law by making it possible for the purchaser of a tax lien, thru a fair procedure, to obtain possession of property on which he holds an unredeemed lien. Tax buyers were in bad repute for many years in this state. Many of them indulged in shady practices and chicanery. They were more or less forced to these practices because the liens they had purchased were not legally enforceable.

The situation parallels almost exactly that in the small loans business. Attempts to enforce extremely low interest rates have invariably driven reputable lenders out of the business and left the field to extortionate lenders working outside the law. When legal loan rates have been raised, the disreputable elements have largely been driven out of business. If tax liens are made enforceable, tax buying, an extremely valuable aid to government in collecting taxes, should be made a reputable business and one in which trickery can be suppressed because it will be unnecessary.

Downstate legislators make a mistake if they regard these bills as purely a Cook county concern. The state government still has 10 million dollars in delinquent property taxes due from Cook county, and these two bills offer the best way of putting some of that money in the state treasury.

Editorial of the Day

THEY COULDN'T BLUFF HIM.

[Pontiac, Mich., Daily Press.]

There is one individual in the United States today sitting quietly back in the shadows with an inscrutable smile on his face. He has been excoriated openly and viciously abused in private. He has been censured by those in high place, who sharply resented his activities, and roundly traduced by the most dangerous element in the country. In spite of scurrilous comment he has gone on about his work, diligently, fearlessly, and capably. For years he has persevered at a task which made him the object of sinister misrepresentation. The smear artists have lost no opportunity to use their tar sticks and to heap invective on his enterprise and his efficiency.

Chairman Martin Dies of the committee on subversive activities in an hour of need, sounded a note of warning. He was laughed at because he was feared. And a considerable group of important jobholders had reason to be terrified by his skill and courage. His work threatened to hold them up to scorn and contempt. Their loyalty was in doubt, and with good reason.

Time has justified the ominous warnings sounded by the valiant Texan. The insecurity, about which Martin Dies told his countrymen, has been found to exist. He advised the American people that large groups of men unfriendly to the nation were roaming the states, some under cover, some on the federal pay roll, many in industry, while large numbers were sequestered in secret offices in the large cities, all bent on raising hell. The guffaws and the snickers that first greeted these announcements have given way to a sense of apprehension.

Powerful forces in this country opposed Dies and all his works. Save for the resolute voice of the people that roared across the country when, on several occasions there was an attempt in congress to cut the appropriation for his committee to an insignificant sum, he might have been left high and dry. There are few insults today for Martin Dies. Contemptuous wisecracking has given way to approval or at least to silence. A few opponents sulk in their tents, but the vast majority have discovered that this doughty southerner proved to be more deeply inspired by patriotism than by politics. That makes him a rara avis in these days of partisan selfishness and conscienceless disregard of the public good.

JUNE SYMPHONY.

The year is at its noon; and now the sun
Quite ruthlessly, with slender fingers bright,
Turns all the shadows into radiant light;
A blare of golden trumpets, every one
Proclaiming fairest summer is begun . . .
And summer, maiden beauteous to the sight
Accepts all nature's homage as her right,

Whose brilliant plumage thru the heavens float?
And suddenly upon the air, like rain,
There falls from out the sky one limpid note;
Lo! When the bird pours out his song again,

At a Sidewalk Cafe.

The only sidewalk café in town this summer is Riccardo's. The other night Erich von Stroheim, sitting at one of the little tables under the striped awning, told how the evening before—the night of the Louis-Conn fight—the two old ladies of Arsenic and Old Lace, Laura Hope Crews and Effie Shannon, were late when the curtain went up on the second act. They had spent the intermission below the stage listening to the fight broadcast.

Refugee Rubies.

When Joanna Beam of Hinsdale and James Fromm made their wedding plans they decided they wanted a wedding ring like a ring in Miss Beam's family—an oriental-looking wide gold band set with nine pigeon blood rubies of odd cut. The jeweler tried to discourage them, because of the difficulty of finding rubies of that cut. Occasionally some come in from abroad with refugees, he told them, but he could find none that matched, and he advised them to give up the idea and use rubies of modern cut. Miss Beam and Mr. Fromm decided to wait, in the hope that some of the type they wanted would turn up. A few days ago—just two weeks before their wedding—a man came into the jeweler's with a handful of pigeon blood rubies pried from old settings—nine of them—exactly like the ones in the other ring. The rubies had come by Clipper from Lisbon.

In the Morning Mail.

I'm an orderly at the county hospital, where you can meet many strange people, where you can see human misery in its worst form, and where you can hear many strange stories. For many of the derelicts drifting thru the seas of life find their final anchorage here.

The "county" is a busy place, and the orderlies, especially, manage to keep pretty busy. But there are certain hours during the day when you can stop and relax. The hours between 9 and 11 in the evening, for instance, are ordinarily pretty dull.

It was just after 9 o'clock one evening when something happened that set me to thinking. The nurses had finished their "dressings," the lights were out, and my patients were pretty well settled for the night. I was walking past one of the units, where we keep the more seriously ill patients, when I was stopped by a call from within.

I thought that somebody had called me, so I went in to see if I could be of any help. It was the patient in bed No. 52 who had called, but he hadn't called me. It wasn't my assistance he needed that night. As I leaned over to ask him what he wanted, he called out again:

"O, God, please help me tonight."

Just then the patient in bed No. 53 spoke up.

"Why the —— don't you shut up!" he snapped peevishly. "You've been moanin' all night. Look at me—I'm going up for a major operation tomorrow, and I'm not squawkin'. It'll take more than God to help you now."

I looked over at 53. He had a hose inserted thru his nose, that was draining from his stomach, and I silently agreed that he did have some reason for complaint. But the patient in 52—a colored man, incidentally—paid no attention to his complaints, and kept calling on Him for assistance.

I couldn't help wondering at their strangely opposite views. One, a colored man, close to death, calling with simple faith to his Maker, while the other, so soon to be under the knife, callously denouncing Him.

But a patient called me just then, and I left the room. I told the nurse that No. 52 was in pain, and let it go at that.

I came to work at 2:30 the next day, the incident completely erased from my mind. I put on my smock and was making a round of the patients when the head nurse pulled me aside.

"No. 53 went up to O. R. and he expired under the anesthetic," she said.

That set me to thinking again, so I went to look at No. 52. He was sleeping, but I picked up the chart from the foot of his bed. I glanced past the reports of temperature, cares, and sedatives, until my eye caught the report of his condition. Here the notation was "patient much improved."

Since then I've thought a great deal about these two patients, No. 52 and No. 53. The one without faith, dead; and the one whose faith in God had made him another "patient much improved."

Yours sincerely, —"County" Orderly.

AMERICAN AID IN BLITZ

BY GUY MURCHIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—How much a single British town can suffer in a night's air raid was suggested today in figures announced by the American ambulance organization of Great Britain which has just ended its first year of service. Ten American ambulances stationed in a town in western England transported 336 hospital patients in one heavy blitz. They made 87 trips and covered a total of 3,056 miles.

In view of the fact that American ambulances number only two per cent of Britain's 14,000 ambulances—and there are 15,000 ordinary automobiles on emergency reserve—the severity of that raid becomes clear.

Gilbert Carr, director general of the American organization, revealed other interesting facts. He said that 264 American ambulances, surgical units and mobile first aid posts were nearing their two millionth mile in war service, and that a total of 21,511 trips were made with patients of all kinds. These trips consumed 127,000 gallons of gasoline. The cost of the service to generous Americans is $1,140 daily at present.

Thus far the organization has been very lucky. None of its vehicles has been damaged beyond repair and only two drivers have been killed.

PUT RINGWORM TO ROUT.

NEARLY a century has elapsed since the cause of ringworm was discovered thru the use of the crude microscopes of the year 1842. It was found to be a threadlike fungus—a plant which still flourishes widely, despite all of our efforts to destroy it.

Any region of the body which is warm and moist provides suitable conditions for growth. Thus it is that folds of skin, the scalp, and between the toes are all favorite sites. Children particularly will exhibit scalp lesions, while among those who shave, the cheeks are choice locations.

When the pedal extremities are involved thick scaly plaques may appear which are interspersed, here and there, with clusters of blisters. Then, too, the nails may become infected, whereupon they change into rough, brittle structures which crumble easily.

The reason we are concerned with this malady is because it is so common about swimming pools, bathing beaches, or in any other locality where large numbers of persons are likely to walk barefooted. It can be transmitted to others with great ease, and the destruction of the cuticle may become most disfiguring—at least for a time.

If the disorder develops in nonhairy areas the well known Whitfield ointment may be employed twice daily. For the groin and areas beneath the arms, chrysarobin, properly diluted, may be used also. Most physicians will recommend the application of one medication for a few days to be followed by the other. Scratching tends to spread the disorder and a dusting powder—either a pure talcum or one that contains a small amount of thymol and salicylic acid—may be helpful.

Should the scalp be attacked, we are confronted with a much more difficult problem. Vigorous treatment is demanded if cure is to ensue. Some authorities will advocate as strenuous a procedure as removing the tresses by X-ray. This means that several months will be necessary to complete the process. Exposure must be sufficient to destroy the parasite as well as to oblige the hair to fall out, but not so strong as to injure the follicles [roots]. Otherwise baldness will result. This calls for cautious and expert management.

Curiously enough, there is little immunity and one who has recovered may contract another infection shortly thereafter. Good hygiene, therefore, must be practiced in the home, otherwise bathmats, rugs, floor, etc., may become sources of trouble. The victim must use separate towels and washcloths, which should be laundered apart from the family linen. Furthermore, the feet should be washed daily and a fresh pair of socks donned each morning. Paper sandals or slippers that can be cleaned with 10 per cent formalin may be utilized after the shoes have been removed. One who harbors the fungus in the groin should not use a public toilet unless it is properly protected with tissue or a paper cover.

There are, of course, numerous remedies. Physicians find they acquire partiality to this or that compound, depending upon its success. A dilute solution of sodium hyposulfite will often prove curative—a tablespoonful to a quart of water. The parts may be bathed with this chemical twice daily. Preparations of iodine are equally popular.

While it can scarcely be termed a filth disease, nevertheless it cannot occur where strict sanitation is enforced. To eradicate infection from the bathroom and toilet fixtures strong soapsuds reinforced with lye will be required. A few scrubbings will insure safety.

MILK LEG.

Mrs. R. N. writes: What is milk leg? This trouble developed after an operation.

REPLY.

Inflammation [phlebitis] of the femoral vein. A clot forms which prevents the normal return of blood and lymph from the extremities. In consequence, swelling ensues. The condition may follow childbirth but the old belief that it is related to the mother's milk has been exploded.

BLOOD TYPE.

G. H. writes: My son has been classified as having type I blood. He was told that this was rare. What does this mean?

REPLY.

He can receive blood—should he ever need it—from any one. In other words, he is a universal recipient. Only 3 per cent of our population belong to this group.

AN APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT.

Waupon, Wis., June 20.—We have written a letter to the President. In part we say:

"We—all American citizens—respectfully submit to you the opinion of 149 out of 170 employés of this organization. It is our sincere belief that this percentage is a fair representation of how the vast majority of Americans feel. We are for all-out defense thru preparedness, but definitely are against any and all actions which might involve us in any foreign war.

"Mark Twain wrote 'A few fair men on the other side will argue and reason against the war with speech and pen, and at first will have a hearing and be applauded, but it will not last long; the others will outshout them—before long you will see this curious thing: The speakers stoned from the platform and free speech strangled by hordes of furious men who in their secret hearts are still as one with those stoned speakers, but do not dare say so.'

"That condition has almost arrived in this country today. Those who believe in preparedness for defense but resist the intrigues of the favored nation are suspected and called odious names. George Washington predicted this.

"The lease-lend bill was a bill to keep us out of war. Your statements all indicate that you will not involve us in a foreign affair. May you have the strength to withstand the minority who want war. Let's grow strong and defy the world to come and get us!"

PERILOUS CROSSINGS.

Chicago, June 21.—The Kiwanis club of Roseland, on behalf of thousands of indignant citizens of Roseland and vicinity, wishes to add its protest to the many already made against the killing and maiming of men, women, and children at unprotected Rock Island railroad crossings along Vincennes avenue. Public opinion has been aroused in our community over a recent accident sustained by the son of one of our past presidents at the Rock Island 119th street crossing. He had a miraculous escape from death but was terribly injured.

The crossings at 105th street, 107th street, 111th street, 115th street, and 119th street are all dangerous and should be more adequately protected, at least by automatic gates. How much longer is the Rock Island going to be permitted to get away with it? They certainly are not building up good will in the south end of Chicago.

LILY PONDS FENCED OFF.

Chicago, June 21.—Could you find out if the public will ever again get the use of the lily ponds, falls, etc., behind the boathouse in Columbus park?

It is a pleasant place to stroll but for the last three years it has been fenced off, supposedly for extension and improvement, of which there has been very little.

With so little work being done it has given the appearance of being reserved as a private estate for park or WPA officials.

WILLIAM C. DORE.

P. O. EMPLOYES' EFFORT.

Chicago, June 20.—Postoffice employés are in a nation-wide campaign to solve the problem posed by "civil service employé" in your issue of Wednesday—rising prices, taxes, and rent against fixed salaries. Longevity pay legislation was sponsored by the organized postoffice employés as a means of combining the immediate urgency of a raise in salary and a system of rewarding continuous service. This provides for a $100 raise in annual salary after 10 years of service, and $100 for each 5 years of service thereafter up to 30 years.

Salaries of postoffice employés have remained static since 1925, except for the payless furloughs and pay cuts from 1932 to 1935.

MAGAZINES FOR THE CAMPS.

Chicago, June 22.—I have learned from a number of men in the armed services that there is a great shortage of current magazines for the personnel at the various camps and training stations.

Thousands of individuals like myself would be only too pleased to pass on current magazines to these men. I suggest that patriotic organizations interested in their welfare make weekly or semi-weekly collections at designated receiving stations.

If signs were placed in hotel lobbies, railway stations, bus stations, and other public places by such organizations, stating that magazines left there would be collected and forwarded to men in the service I am sure the public's response would be gratifying.

F. MCFARLAND.

HOW TO ADDRESS THEM?

Chicago, June 21.—In 1943, according to Washington reports, the Union-Now will be an accomplished fact. Will our governmental heads then be able to accept titles from his royal majesty? It will be hard for some of us to properly talk about them and none of us will know how to address them. Imagine Duke Ickes of Maryland-Winnetka; Lord Carpet Bag Knox; Viscount Lord High Commissioner Roosevelt or what have you. Boy, O boy, what a trail the royal visit left behind it.

DUMB SWEDE.

MUST HAVE OVERLOOKED IT.

Chicago, June 19.—How come two days have elapsed without some one of your bright-eyed editorial staff attempting to blast the state of Texas out of the Union because one of her sons chose to eliminate a nigger rapist in a direct and effective manner? And got a good "hand" for doing it. Come on with your vitriol . . . or . . .

CYNTHIA LOSES ABET,

THE UNIVERSITY'S REVENUES.

Chicago, June 19.—Mr. Wood's excellent report from Springfield this morning correctly gives the University of Illinois appropriation now awaiting house action as $17,467,189, but your headline designates this amount as "costs," presumably "costs" to the taxpayers. Of this total, however, only three-fourths is to come from state tax revenue.

When the university collects tuition fees, or rents a locker to a student, or sells the grain or milk from its experimental farms, the money goes immediately into the state treasury and cannot be used by the university until formally appropriated back to it by the legislature. Such revenues are currently about $4,200,000 per biennium.

The policy of centralizing all such funds in the state treasury is sound, but it makes the "cost" of the university to the taxpayer seem $4,200,000 larger than it actually is.

It should also be realized that the amount appropriated covers not only education but also research. Cash benefits to the state from the work of the agricultural and engineering experiment stations have far exceeded the total cost of the university during its entire history. The university also houses—at university expense—the state geological survey, the state natural history survey, and the state water survey.

Please note, also, that in addition to the 14,000 September to June students you mention, the university summer school enrolls 3,000 more—mainly Illinois high school teachers.

FIND GUARDSMEN ARE BITTER OVER EXTENSION PLAN

"It Doesn't Seem Right," Is Their Attitude.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Forrest, Tenn., June 22.—National Guardsmen of Illinois' 33d division are bitterly against the war department proposal to keep their division and the Nationad Guard organizations of other states in federal service for more than a year. This was evident today in interviews with more than 50 Illinois Guardsmen, picked at random in the highways and byways of Camp Forrest.

The Illinois soldiers said they had been led by statements made prior to their induction last March 5 by President Roosevelt and high war department officials to expect no more than 12 months of federal duty.

The general feeling among those interviewed was well summed up by Private Oliver W. Campbell of Galesburg, a member of Battery A of the 123d field artillery.

"At the time we were taken into federal service we were practically promised that we would get out in one year," he said. "It doesn't seem right for the government to go back on that promise, unless we actually are going into the war."

Some Other Viewpoints.

Statements of several other Guardsmen follow:

Private Irvin R. Marinello of Des Plaines, Ill., Company C., 108th quartermaster regiment—"Personally, I don't think much of the plan to keep us on after our year of service. I'm past 35 years of age now, and I don't think it's right for the government to keep me in unless it is made absolutely necessary by war. That's what's hurting our fellows, the thought that they are to be kept in after they had been promised a return to civilian life at the end of 12 months."

Private Earl Brouton of Chicago, 2d battalion headquarters, 122d field artillery—"I came down here expecting to stay one year and then go back home and take up my civilian job again. That's what we were promised, and that's what we should get. If the government didn't mean a year at the time, it should have said so."

Suggests Home Training.

Private James Warren of Galesburg, medical detachment, 123d field artillery—"I figure it out this way: After our year of service I believe we could keep our efficiency just as high if we were allowed to go home on the condition that we drill several nights a week in our armories. We aren't going to learn very much after one year, especially if every one is dissatisfied. I just was graduated from high school before I came down, and I had made plans to get into the aircraft industry after my year of service. I don't think it's right to keep us in and wreck all such plans."

Private Gerald Moat, service company, 131st infantry—"It simply is not fair to keep the Guardsmen in service for more than a year."

Only two of the soldiers interviewed were in favor of remaining in service longer than a year. Corporal Frank Losik of Chicago, of the 108th quartermaster regiment, believed that the army offered him more chance for advancement than did civilian life. Private Frank Szylkowski of Chicago, of the same regiment, felt that he is learning more in the army than he did in his job back home. Both are driving trucks in their regiment.

AT ANOTHER CAMP

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Alexandria, La., June 22.—On the crowded streets of Alexandria, in hot tents and barracks of the four nearby training camps, in their bivouacks thruout the maneuver area, Louisiana's 80,000 soldiers, most of them from the middle west, are talking on this Sabbath day.

There is talk of the big international news, Hitler's new war with soviet Russia. But for the buck private, be he National Guardsman or draftee, the most important development is the war department's proposal to extend the one year training period for the Guard with the same possibility existing for the draftee.

And the men don't like it.

Some Don't Mind.

There are many among the Guard troops, particularly in the non-commissioned officers, who say they never expected to go home after their year of service, and who express a preference for army life, at least during the emergency. Down in the ranks, however, there is a different feeling, to judge from casual conversation with hundreds of young men from Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and the Dakotas.

"Some of the boys are pretty bitter," commented a Des Moines Guardsman, tanned and lean, a foot soldier in the 34th division at Camp Claiborne. "They think the big shot politicos weren't on the level.

"They figure it this way: Those guys in Washington are supposed to know what's going on in the world. They must have known, long ago, that we were going to be kept in longer than a year, yet they told us that all we would need is a year's training. Now that we're in the army, and down here, the story is different."

His Buddy Agrees.

"There isn't a draftee in this army who hasn't been counting the days till the end of his term. Don't get me wrong. We were drafted for the army, for national defense, and we came in with the idea of doing the best job possible. But it's one thing to figure on a year and it's another to realize that the extension may be indefinite."

In the grog shops, among the swarm of men lining up in front of Alexandria's three movies, with the curb stone sitters, the talk was similar. A more philosophical attitude was evident in the Guard than with the draftees.

They Seem Resigned.

There were many who enlisted in the Guard, before their draft number was called, figuring to start at $30 a month base pay instead of the $21 paid each draftee for his first four months. But most of the men in the Guard seem to consider themselves in private life as semi-professional soldiers. In most cases, they, too, gave up better jobs when the army summoned them, but in their reaction to the Washington news, they appeared more resigned.

RITES FOR CREW OF 33 ON SUNKEN SUB HELD AT SEA

Navy Abandons Effort to Salvage Vessel.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 22 (AP).—On the gently rolling after deck of the submarine Triton, Navy Secretary Frank Knox, officers and common seamen joined late today in solemn services for the 33 men who lay deep beneath the ocean waters in the sunken old underseas boat O-9 beyond reach of human effort.

The final tribute came only a few hours after two naval divers reached the side of the crumpled craft in the "deepest working dives ever made in the world," and the navy officially abandoned efforts to salvage the ship.

Announcement of the abandonment was made by Rear Admiral Richard S. Edwards, who said it was impossible for divers to work at the depth of 440 feet—the tomb of the O-9.

Guns Roar Great Tribute.

Wreaths were dropped upon the sea—"for the nation," for the navy and for the families of the victims as guns roared out the navy's greatest tribute and bugles softly sounded taps.

The services were held amid a cluster of a dozen service craft on sunlit and almost flat seas—24 miles off this port where the submarine sank Friday morning.

There were admirals with brilliant braid, sailors in dress blues and seamen and divers in denim work clothes—1,000 in all—who lined the rails of a dozen navy vessels at strict attention.

Approved by Stark.

Earlier, from Washington Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, approved the order to give up efforts to salvage the O-9, declaring:

"Under present circumstances the decision must be to accept the situation as loss of naval personnel at sea who can best be honored as men still at their station of duty. Not one of them would expect or wish another naval man to risk his life to provide another final resting place."

Admiral Edwards said both divers were "right down beside the submarine," altho neither touched the hull.

The divers were R. M. Metzger, 27, of Philadelphia, and Chief Gunner's Mate Claude Conger, 33.

What Diver Discovered.

While he recovered from the effects of the tremendous pressure in a decompression chamber on the salvage ship Falcon, Diver Conger said he had an impression that he had seen "something that was crumpled up."

"I think I saw about 12 feet of this dark object," Conger said. "I think I saw a jagged line, but I'm not sure. I was not able to touch this dark object because I could not leave my descending line."

The dives by Metzger and Conger were described by Lieut. Albert R. Behnke of the naval medical corps as "the deepest working dives ever made in the world" in an ordinary diving suit.

In a separate statement, the navy department declared that "the salvage operations which require diving in unarmored suits are impracticable in depths over 300 feet because of the danger to the life of the divers."

Martha Wilson and Harold Henning at Svithiod outing in St. Paul park, Morton Grove.

Several thousand Swedish-Americans, members of 48 Illinois lodges of the Independent Order of Svithiod, gathered in St. Paul park, Morton Grove, yesterday for the annual Illinois Svithiod day outing. Entertainment was provided by the 50 voice Chicago Swedish male chorus, the 35 piece Svithiod concert band, and the Svithiod Junior chorus. Since the outing coincided with Midsummer day, a celebrated Swedish festival, folk dances commemorating the occasion were presented.

200 EVERY HOUR! THAT'S HOW PORT CAN LAND PLANES

Director Tells of Runways at Chicago Field.

Two hundred airplanes an hour can land at Chicago's newly enlarged airport, which will be formally dedicated next Sunday, in the opinion of John Casey, the airport director.

Two hundred landings an hour means one landing every 18 seconds, an accomplishment which Casey says is possible with complete safety because of the great length, width, and number of the airport's runways.

Casey said the airport is the only major field in the country with a dual system of runways in all directions meeting the wind from any quarter whence it blows.

Mass Flight Planned.

Because of the extensive landing facilities, a mass flight of 8 or 10 great commercial air liners over the city will be one of the events on the dedication program Sunday afternoon.

The big planes, which link Chicago with the rest of the nation in regular passenger service, will land in full view of the spectators at intervals of a minute or less.

Mayor Kelly and other officials and a number of Chicagoans prominent in civic and business affairs will be among the passengers.

Pilot in World War.

Casey was an American army pilot in the world war. He has been director since the war. Managing the airport, watching the planes arrive and depart, and listening to the pilot's radio reports keep him busy, yet he finds time to fly almost every week.

Casey has found from talking with the nation's leading aviators that the expansion program has made Chicago airport the safest in the nation, as well as the largest and most efficient, he said yesterday. The port has all the safeguards prescribed by the Civil Aeronautics authority and many which are not required.

WIFE OF SLAYER TO FACE CROSS QUESTIONS TODAY

Mrs. Nedra Evans, who told Friday how her husband slashed her mother and infant son to death, will be cross-examined today when the trial of the husband, William, 25 years old, resumes in Criminal court before Judge Julius Miner.

Last week, Mrs. Evans, a model, 22 years old, told of her husband's anger when she left him to file suit for divorce. She testified that on March 22 Evans invaded her mother's home at 3208 Grove avenue, Berwyn.

Evans pleaded guilty to a murder charge, and Judge Miner is hearing evidence to determine the penalty.

Offer Three Scholarships to Live Stock Judges

The Chicago Association of Commerce will award college scholarships to three of the high school contenders in the noncollegiate live stock judging contest to be held at the International Live Stock exposition this year, according to an announcement received yesterday. More than 25,000 high school boys and girls belonging to 4-H clubs are competing in the preliminary contests at county and state fairs, it was reported. State winners will come to Chicago for final judging.

HARRISON'S BODY WILL LIE IN STATE TODAY IN SENATE

Burial to Be In Gulfport Wednesday Afternoon.

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—The body of Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], who died here this morning, will lie in state tomorrow from 2 to 6 p. m. in the chamber of the United States senate. A special train leaving Washington at 3 a. m. Tuesday will carry the senator's body to his Gulfport, Miss., home for funeral services and burial Wednesday afternoon. A committee of senators and a few close friends will accompany Harrison's body to Gulfport.

Senator Harrison.

Senator Harrison died at 6:35 a. m. of exhaustion. He had undergone an operation last Monday for an intestinal obstruction and rallied for a time. In midweek his condition deteriorated and he grew steadily worse until he was unable to take nourishment. He was 59 years old.

A Native of Mississippi.

He entered politics in 1904 when he was 23 years old, dropped the Byron Patton he had been christened to become simply Pat, and never again returned to private life.

Harrison's first political job was as district attorney. In this post he served three terms in the 2d Mississippi district until he was elected to congress in 1910. After four terms in the house he was elected to the senate in 1918 and reëlected every six years. His present term would have ended in 1943.

With the advent of the New Deal, the senator became a member of the Democratic majority and chairman of the powerful finance committee. Altho an advocate of economy in government spending and frequently opposed to fiscal policies of the New Deal administration, Harrison had a strong voice in drafting the tax laws necessary to underwrite the gigantic New Deal spending programs.

In addition to the chairmanship of the finance committee, Senator Harrison was ranking member of the foreign relations committee and president pro tempore of the senate, a post he won by unanimous vote in 1941.

Connally to Become Chairman.

Harrison will be succeeded as chairman of the finance committee by Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.]. Connally is the fourth ranking member of the committee, but the others have important chairmanships and are expected to waive their seniority rights. It is expected that the election of a president pro tempore will be postponed for some time. When Harrison became ill, he appointed Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.] to be acting president pro tempore.

PAUL BLOCK DIES AT 63; PUBLISHER OF 3 NEWSPAPERS

Ends 48 Year Career in Advertising Field.

New York, June 22 (AP).—Paul Block, 63 years old, one time advertising solicitor who became a chain newspaper publisher, died today in his Waldorf-Astoria tower apartment. He had been ill several months.

Paul Block.

President of Paul Block and Associates, national advertising representatives for 16 newspapers, Block at his death also was publisher of the Pittsburgh, Pa., Post-Gazette, the Toledo, O., Blade, and the Toledo Times.

In a 25 year career as publisher, begun in 1916 after he already had won wide success in the advertising field, he headed numerous other papers at various times. These included the Detroit Journal, the Duluth, Minn., Herald and News Tribune, and the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Defender of Mayor Walker.

Besides his newspaper activities, Block took an active part in political affairs and was a close personal friend of former Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, whose cause he espoused during investigations climaxed by Walker's resignation.

In 1932, during the Hofstadter committee investigation of municipal government, Mayor Walker gave testimony acknowledging he had realized between 1927 and 1929 $246,692 profit without investment from a brokerage account with Block.

The publisher later testified he had established the account after his 10 year old son Billy, waiting to go for an auto ride with the mayor, asked how Walker could live on his $25,000 salary. "He was my friend, Jimmy Walker, and not the mayor to me," Block declared.

Block, a critic of the New Deal, strongly supported Republican candidate Alfred M. Landon in the 1936 Presidential campaign and urged renomination of Herbert Hoover at the 1940 Republican convention. He many times expressed belief that the Roosevelt administration was delaying business recovery.

Early Hitler Downfall Forecast.

Returning to America in 1934 after a trip abroad to study European dictatorships, Block said America needed a strong conservative party. Hitler, he predicted, would remain Germany's ruler not more than two years.

Block was born in Elmira, N. Y. He entered the newspaper field as an advertising solicitor for the Elmira Sunday Telegram in 1893. He organized his first New York firm, Paul Block, Inc., in 1897. For several years he was the advertising director of Pictorial Review magazine. He also once owned the Newark Bears baseball club.

Block's philanthropic activities were numerous. His newspapers aided many charities, and the publisher himself gave a $100,000 chapel to the Hotchkiss school at Lakesville, Conn., and in 1930 endowed the Paul Block Foundation, a public lecture course at Yale university, to trace the relation of the newspaper to contemporary affairs. His publishing career was marked by numerous sales and consolidations of newspaper properties.

List of Survivors.

Surviving are his widow, the former Dina Wallach of New York; their two sons, Paul Jr. and William Karl; a brother, Max, active with him in the publishing field, and three sisters, Miss Mollie Block and Mrs. Gerson K. Liveright, both of New York, and Mrs. Gilbert Falk of South Orange, N. J.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday in Temple Emanu-El here. Burial will be private.

OBITUARIES

Sidney S. Pollack.

Services for Sidney S. Pollack, master in chancery in the Superior court under Judge Denis E. Sullivan since 1911, will be at 10 a. m. today from Temple Emanuel, 701 Buckingham place. Burial will be in Waldheim cemetery. Mr. Pollack, who was 61 years old, died Saturday in his home, 6336 Sheridan road. He was a graduate of Chicago Law school and a member of the American and Illinois State and Chicago Bar associations. He was president of the 49th ward Democratic organization. Surviving are his widow, Frances, and two daughters.

Philip M. Weinstein.

Philip M. Weinstein, a resident of Chicago for 48 years, died yesterday in his home at 530 Cornelia avenue. He was 53 years old. Mr. Weinstein was a wholesale liquor company representative. He leaves his widow, Lillian; his mother, Mrs. Bella Weinstein; a son, Ira; two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Zweig and Miss Anita Weinstein; a brother, Howard, an undertaker, and a sister, Mrs. Bessie Gowen. Services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 3600 Roosevelt road.

Roy P. Rockefeller.

Roy Polk Rockefeller, assistant treasurer of the Milwaukee railroad, died of a heart attack yesterday on the course of the Ridge Country club, 10522 California avenue. He was 65 years old and lived with his wife at 1100 North Dearborn parkway. The other members of the foursome in which he was playing said he had complained of the heat. The funeral will be Wednesday at the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue. Burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Harry W. Sisson.

Services for Harry W. Sisson, who died Saturday in his home at 8040 Drexel avenue, will be held at 1:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue. Burial will be in Cedar Park cemetery. Mr. Sisson was 84 years old. He had been a practicing attorney in Chicago for 40 years and was the builder of the Sisson hotel, now the Sherry hotel, 1725 East 53d street, in 1917. He leaves two sons, Duane and Niel.

Dr. Thomas Aloysius O'Brien.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 22 [Special].—Dr. Thomas Aloysius O'Brien, 58, first Philadelphia surgeon to transplant successfully the cornea of a corpse to the eye of a living person, died yesterday at his summer home in Ship Bottom, N. J. The patient in his famous operation, Sarah Lewis, regained her sight and the operation was hailed by medical authorities.

Mrs. Conradine Wyneken.

Mrs. Conradine Wyneken died yesterday in her home, 3610 Bosworth avenue. She was 93 years old and was the widow of Prof. H. C. Wyneken of Concordia college. Ten children, 25 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren survive. Services will be at the residence at 2 p. m. today.

ENDS LIFE IN GARAGE.

FUNERAL TODAY IN OSHKOSH FOR PHIL SAWYER, 67

Funeral services for Phil Sawyer, a financial and business executive, who died Saturday in Presbyterian hospital, will be held today in Oshkosh, Wis., his summer home. Mr. Sawyer was 67 years old and lived in winter at 726 Hi-Mount road, Palm Beach, Fla. He became ill of pneumonia June 14 while here on business. He was president of the Sawyer Cattle company of Texas, the Sawyer company of Wilmington, Del., an investment firm, and a director of the First National banks in Palm Beach and Oshkosh. He was a son of Edgar Sawyer, who was prominent in the Wisconsin lumber industry and a grandson of Philetus H. Sawyer, who was a United States senator from Wisconsin. Surviving are two sons, Phil Jr. of Oshkosh, and Edgar P. Sawyer of Palm Beach, and a daughter, Mrs. Montgomery Harison of Augusta, Ga.

PEGGED LEVIES: HOW THEY MAY HIT YOUR PURSE

History of System, Its Purpose Explained.

BY HERMAN KOGAN.

The raucous filibuster in Springfield is over and the Chicago park district's pegged levy bill of $10,500,000 has been passed. "What," asks the average taxpayer, "does that mean to my pocketbook? Do I pay more or less taxes in 1941?"

Not until early in 1942 will the taxpayer know what the tax rate, based on assessed valuations in Cook county and Chicago, will be. If the trend of lowered assessments continues, his tax bill is likely to be higher, because local governmental expenditures have not taken any significant drop.

The rate of tax is determined by dividing the amount of the levy into the assessed valuation of personal, real, and railroad property. Thus, if the valuation is low, the tax rate will be high; if the valuation is higher, the rate will be lower.

Origin of Pegged Levy.

Pegged levies were first made in regard to Chicago local governments almost a decade ago when the state legislature, at the request of the board of education, set the tax revenue of the school educational fund at 44 million dollars for 1933 and 43 million for 1934 and 1935. This meant that the school board could budget that amount to be spent without regard to the individual rate necessary to raise it.

Other local governments then were operating on rate levies. This meant the amount of taxes they could levy for operating purposes was limited by maximum tax rates set by the legislature. The amount of revenue to be anticipated in any one year by the local governments would be determined by applying this maximum tax rate to the last known total assessment.

Much Confusion in Past.

This led to considerable budgetary confusion. Delays in assessments and tax collections developed and funds were appropriated and spent before the assessments of the year for which the money was budgeted were made—and invariably reduced from the previously known assessment.

Other local governments—the city, the park district, the sanitary district — soon sought and obtained pegged levies of varying amounts. These aided in eliminating guesswork in estimating revenue before the assessment rolls were completed.

Thus, if a governmental body obtained a levy pegged of 50 million dollars for 1939 and the assessed valuation was 1 billion dollars, the tax rate for that particular agency would be $5 per $100 assessed valuation.

Decrease in Valuation.

Increases in pegged levies have been sought from time to time by the various taxing bodies despite decreases in assessed valuation, a major factor in keeping the tax rates high. In Cook county, from 1928 thru 1939, total valuation decreased 43 per cent and in Chicago 44 per cent.

Generally the pegged levy idea has not aroused much criticism, altho Morgan Fitch, chairman of the Chicago Real Estate board's taxation committee, warned last week that continued use of the device may lead to bankruptcy. Other tax experts have found little fault with the principle, but have deplored the high amounts requested by the various taxing bodies.

How to Eliminate Them.

These experts suggest two methods of gradually eliminating the need for pegged levies. Reduction of expenditures and vigorous collection of delinquent taxes. Newton C. Farr, president of the Civic federation, cited yesterday a saving of $1,500,000 effected in the budgets of the sanitary district. He estimated, too, that increases in pegged tax levies of other of the local governments probably will bring about an increase over the 1940 tax rate of $9.52 per $100 of assessed valuation.

"Despite the expected increase, tho," he said, "surveys now under way eventually will result in lowered costs and lowered taxes. Each department is being studied separately. These men making the survey are outside experts who have no political connections and no axes to grind."

Urges 25 Per Cent Cut.

Fitch suggested that the legislature reduce every pegged levy 25 per cent until definite reasons are shown by the various taxing groups for the continuation of what he termed "current exorbitant taxation." A bill introduced in Springfield by Representative Elmer Schnackenberg and designed to investigate the Cook county government agencies' request for tax levies has been killed.

County officials now are engaged in a strong drive to collect unpaid taxes of the late decade, which amount to 260 millions in personal property and 160 millions in real estate taxes. Reasons for such delinquency, as presented by George Fairweather, head of the Citizens' committee on tax delinquency, include the depression, bank closings, uncontroled bonding of properties thru special assessments, trustees and receivers, and loss of earning power.

367 OF 5,000 N. Y. PAROLEES BREAK LAWS 2D TIME

Board Hopes Most of Others Will Reform.

New York, June 22 [Special].—The New York state parole board announced today that of more than 5,000 persons on parole in the New York district in 1940 after release from indeterminate sentences to state prison and Elmira reformatory 66 were convicted of committing new felonies, 80 of committing misdemeanors, and 221 others were found delinquent by the board and ordered to return to prison.

Commenting on these figures, Dr. Joseph W. Moore, chairman of the board, said:

Hope Majority Will Reform.

"A low annual crime rate should not be interpreted as meaning that all the rest of those on parole were incapable of new crime. All state parolees had violated the law seriously before being sent to prison.

"Considering the handicaps and past experiences of these parolees, the best that can be hoped for is that a majority will make a permanently satisfactory adjustment in the community."

Fifty-six per cent of the state parolees were in the New York district, which comprises the five counties in New York City, Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan, and Ulster counties, according to the report.

85 Per Cent Worked.

Eighty-five per cent of the employable parolees in the district had work in December. About 13 per cent of these were full time professional and clerical workers and 3 per cent part time. Forty-seven per cent of the full time workers and 37 per cent of the part time workers were engaged in skilled or semi-skilled labor.

Forty-one per cent of the full time workers and 26 per cent of the part time workers were receiving from $15 to $25 a week. Twenty-eight per cent of the full time workers and 20 per cent of the part time workers earned more than $25 a week.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR SALES TAX TOLD BY STORES

Retailers in Chicago and Cook county affiliated with the Illinois Federation of Retail associations announced yesterday the new scale of taxes which will go into effect July 1 under the 2 per cent state sales, or occupational, tax. The tax at present is 3 per cent.

The scale will provide a 1 cent tax on sales from 15 to 65 cents; 2 cents on sales from 66 cents to $1.24, and 3 cents on sales from $1.25 to $1.74. This scale is in effect in Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

As an example of what the reduced taxes will save consumers the federation said that a 10 cent tax is now paid on purchases amounting to $3.49 while a 10 cent tax will be paid starting July 1 on purchases up to $5.24.

Lightning Destroys 3 Oil Tanks; Damage $65,000

Evansville, Ind., July 22 (AP).—Fire started by lightning at the Evansville Refining company caused damage to three fuel oil tanks tonight estimated by S. M. Kennedy, general manager, at $65,000.

Fireworks Blamed

Fire believed to have been started by boys shooting firecrackers destroyed about 100 feet of the Illinois Central suburban train loading platform at 64th street and Dorchester avenue yesterday. The northern end of the platform was not damaged, so there was no interruption of train service at the station. Illinois Central officials said a crew would have the platform replaced in time for this morning's rush hour.

Two firemen were injured yesterday when fire destroyed a one story frame building of the W. J. Newman Wrecking company at 4656 Rice street. Leo Dolan, 29 years old, 1147 North Austin boulevard, suffered burns on both legs and the right hand. Edward McCarthy, 37, of 4428 Congress street, was burned on the right shoulder and right leg. Both were recovering at St. Anne's hospital. Damage in the fire was estimated at $5,000.

Inquest Today in Shooting Death of Policeman's Wife

An inquest will be held today into the fatal shooting of Mrs. Marie McCarthy, 50 years old, by her husband, Sergt. John McCarthy, 57 years old, in their home at 1555 East 61st street last June 13. Sergt. McCarthy, who was assigned to the Hyde Park police station, shot and killed himself after shooting his wife three times. She died Saturday night in the Illinois Central hospital.

PASTOR, HIS WIFE AND BABY DIE AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Crash Occurs at Crossing in Elmhurst.

The Rev. Henry Haken, 29 years old pastor of the Presbyterian church in Berkeley, his wife, Georgia, 27, and their daughter, Miriam, 2½, were killed last night when their automobile was struck by an Aurora-Elgin train in Elmhurst at the Poplar avenue crossing. Blinker lights were working at the time, police said.

The train, a westbound limited, carried the automobile a quarter of a mile, tearing up part of the third rail and tracks.

Leader Among Younger People.

The Rev. Mr. Haken was a leader among younger people in west suburban church circles. His wife, a graduate of Wheaton college, was a daughter of the Rev. George Cleaver, 4345 North Marmora avenue.

A boy was killed and 10 other persons were injured when two automobiles sidewiped each other and overturned on Highway 66, just west of County line road, in Du Page county. The boy was James Campbell Jr., 7, of 4447 South Homan avenue. He was in a car with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennelly, 4441 South Homan avenue, and their daughter, Diane, 3. They were taken to Hinsdale sanitarium.

Five in Other Car.

In the other automobile were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandenburg, 4414 Maypole avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chrisman, 1903 Monroe street, and their son, Billy, 6. Brandenburg was taken to the sanitarium, and his wife and the Chrismans were taken to Berwyn hospital.

Ruth Batzes, 16, of 3227 North Halsted street, was killed in an automobile collision on Highway 66 on the western outskirts of Hinsdale. She was riding in a car driven by Ralph L. Arthur, 3601 Janssen avenue. The other car was driven by Anthony Sveda, 2631 South Avers avenue.

Kalle Nieminen, 75 years old, of 5639 North Richmond street, a carpenter, died last night in Martha Washington hospital of injuries received earlier in the day when he was struck by an automobile in front of 4254 North Western avenue. The driver, Maurice Vergeres, 34, of 2502 Diversey avenue, was charged with reckless driving before Nieminen's death.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 425 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 312 were killed in Chicago, where 11,278 were injured in traffic in the same period.

GRADUATES WARNED BY DYKSTRA THEY FACE A BATTLE FOR FAITH

Madison, Wis., June 22 [Special].—The 1941 graduating class of the University of Wisconsin, numbering more than 2,000 men and women, was told to be prepared to fight for the commandments of righteousness and freedom whenever and wherever they are under attack. The admonition came from Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president, in the 88th annual baccalaureate sermon today.

"Our world of today appears to be one of failure," said Dr. Dykstra. "Centuries of yearning for peace have culminated in the most devastating and disastrous armed conflict in history. Naked power is worshiped by millions and terror stalks unashamed.

"But there have been blackouts before, and then the gleam returned to some few eyes and free man was on the march again. The bitter answer is that life is a struggle in every generation and the way of life which we have called democracy and decency and peace is always under attack."

Mr. and Mrs. Dykstra were hosts tonight at the annual reception for graduates, their parents, and alumni. Commencement exercises will be held tomorrow.

Infectious Dandruff 76% OF CASES IMPROVED in clinical test

Such a delightful, easy, stimulating treatment! Just douse Listerine Antiseptic on the scalp, morning and night, and follow with vigorous and persistent massage.

Listerine, the same germicide which has been famous for more than 50 years as an antiseptic gargle, kills millions of germs on scalp and hair, including Pityrosporum Ovale recognized by outstanding specialists as a causative agent of infectious-type dandruff.

This germ-killing action, we believe, helps to explain why, in a clinical test, 76% of dandruff sufferers — 7 out of every 10! — showed either complete disappearance of or marked improvement in the symptoms of dandruff within a month.

Illinois Tech to Open School for Gas Research and Training

The Illinois Institute of Technology announced plans yesterday for the establishment of the Institute of Gas Technology—an educational unit to train students for places in the fuel gas industry.

The gas institute has the support of 17 of the nation's great gas companies, which selected Illinois Tech as the school with which it will be affiliated. While the training of students will be the new unit's major purpose, scientific research intended to benefit the entire American gas industry will be conducted.

The 17 companies represent all branches of the industry which produces gas for public consumption—natural gas companies, artificial gas manufacturers, and public utilities. The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company is one of the 17 firms providing the funds for the gas institute. The institute will be the first school of its kind in the United States.

The gas institute will open on the institute's south side campus next fall, H. T. Heald, president of the parent school, said yesterday. Funds have been provided for an annual outlay of $100,000 a year for the next 10 years for operation. Several new buildings will be required.

The gas institute will be in charge of a board made up of representatives of the gas industry and trustees of Illinois Tech. Dr. Heald has just returned from New York, where he was chosen president of the new unit. Frank C. Smith, president of the Houston Natural Gas company of Texas, was chosen chairman of the board.

The gas institute will be a graduate school, four years of college training being required for entrance. Four years of graduate training will lead to a doctor of philosophy degree. The curriculum will include management and regulation of public utilities. Students will be required to work three summers in the gas industry.

Between 50 and 60 students will be trained each year.

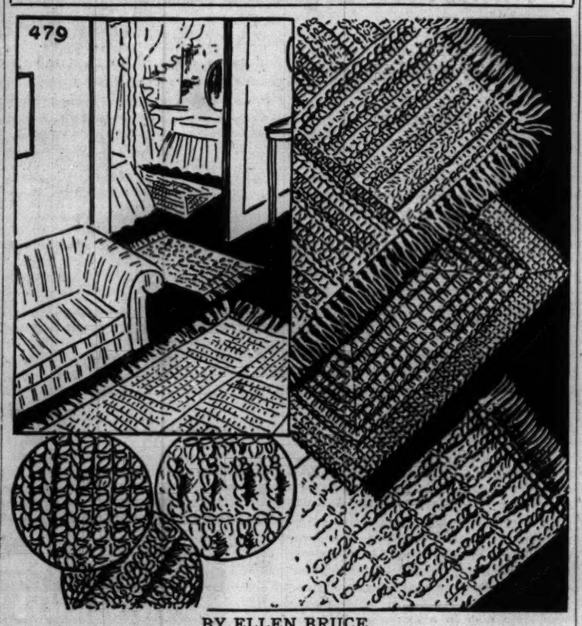
Pretty Crocheted Rugs



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Creamy white, six-ply cotton is the newest material to be used for crocheted rugs. These three pound cones create beautiful rugs for the living room, under coffee tables, or in front of fireplaces. In the bedroom they are ideal for the bedside or under dressing table benches; in pastel colors, the ideal choice for the bathroom. Here are three designs which are employed in making these crocheted rugs. All patterns are simple, and may be attempted by the beginning crochet worker. Detailed instructions, with illustrations of the stitches, are included with the patterns.

For instructions in crocheting the rugs, No. 479, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Chicago Delegates to Depart Today for Eucharistic Congress

Groups of delegates to the ninth national Eucharistic congress at St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., were passing thru Chicago yesterday for tonight's opening of the vast Catholic gathering. The main Chicago delegations, led by Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, will leave for the northern cities today.

An advance group of about 200 Knights of Columbus from Detroit, Mich., left by special Chicago & North Western train yesterday afternoon. Archbishop Stritch and Chicago's main delegation will leave at 8 a. m. today from the North Western station. This will include about 125 clergy.

The opening event at 10 o'clock tonight in which Archbishop John G. Murray of St. Paul and Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota will have principal parts, will be heard over station W-G-N and the Mutual network. Tomorrow at noon Archbishop Stritch's address will be heard over W-G-N.

Plastics Role in Life Today Grows Larger

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

Plastics are figuring largely in our homes these days.

Very new is a window screen of plastic! And even our household brooms have grown a bit glamorous, dressed in brightly colored plastic hangers and shoulders.

The development of plastics began some hundred years ago but their march has been speeded up the last few years. American experimenters are working hard and fast on these plastic marvels of modern science.

There are colorful plastic showerheads and accessories for our bath, costume jewelry, decorative bottles and buttons, thermos jugs and flashlights, streamlined bath scales and tableware, children's toys and purses, shoes and hobby sets.

We see furniture too, cedar chests, and tables, chairs for indoor or outdoor use, in new designs, and handsome styling.

There are a host of gift possibilities in these plastics and synthetic fabrics. We see clocks in gorgeous colors, lighting fixtures and lamp shades, book ends and desk sets, vases, jugs and jars. There's plastic tableware which is unbreakable.

Even musical instruments are available in plastics from a small bugle, which plays all the calls like a real bugle, for the smallest members of the family to another instrument which is like a regulation "G" brass bugle, and can take its place in any drum and bugle corps.

There is an interesting exhibit of these plastics in the Chicago loop at the present time. This display shows what's new in plastics this summer of 1941, and what's ahead in developments in many fields.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

A new light summer cream we came across the other day is cooling as a mint julep—and much better for your complexion.

Heavy creams have a place in the beauty ritual of every dry skinned woman, but only a Spartan remains true to her thick oily creams when the temperature is soaring. Lighter creams, lighter foundations, and oceans of face lotion are what we want in hot weather.

The light cream we like so well is fluffy as whipped clouds, and as snowy white. It's neither thick nor thin, but just right in between these two extremes, and if we didn't like it for anything else we'd cherish it for its beautiful fragrance of mint.

It's a particularly efficient cleanser, we found, and a quick one. The maker of this preparation likes to have her creams removed with a warm, damp cloth, but if you insist on using tissues you may do so. The cream removes every bit of grime and leaves the skin feeling clean and cool.

This isn't expensive, another recommendation. You use lots of cream during sticky weather and it's only common sense to buy one that you can use generously without feeling extravagant.

Frock to Keep You Cool

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

One feature a frock must have to bring coolness on hot days is easy fitting. This dress has that quality. Notice its easy shoulders, softly shirred bodice, and deftly draped skirt. There is a companion jacket with the same loose lines. Make the outfit in either plain colors or prints.

Style No. 3386 is designed for size 16 and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inch bust measurements.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Universal day—An active day. Watch for opportunities for important contacts.

July—Those who are in a two year should not plan to do anything new in July, but finish up what they are working on. It is the end of things instead of the beginning for them, so they may make some breaks with the past of the current year. There will be a slackening of pace and sometimes ideas that haven't amounted to much should be dropped altogether, because if they haven't borne fruit by now they are not likely to be important in the next few months. It might prove to be an emotional month. If you are on your vacation don't expect the summer romance to develop into much. Accept whatever comes as being short lived. Some culmination and conclusion is to be expected with a possibility of loss.

Fashions Go to Races: Are They Winners!

BY REA SEEGER.

Fashions are off to the races! Gay color, daring combines, dazzling all-whites, the loveliest of flowered sheers worn with pastel colored thin flannel coats are the universally becoming classics appreciated by every enthusiast.

But it's the clever new accessories that cause the shopping excitement. Sunshades, for instance, in striped, checked or floral print cottons are dashing toppers to frame the headlines, especially if you are wearing small turbans or flowered toques.

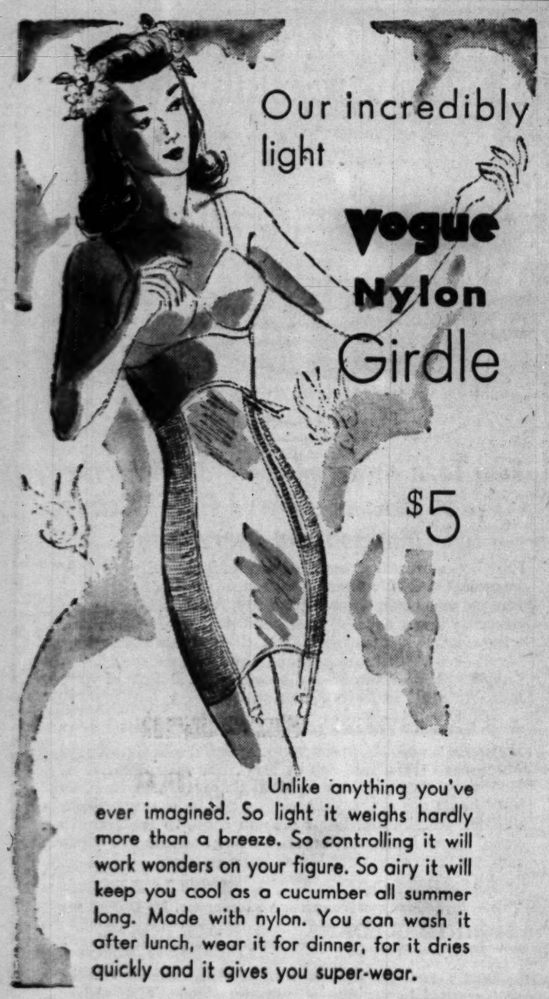
There is a definite revival of feminine charm in all the newest dresses, soft outlines, youthful plaited skirts, shirred bodices and shirred sleeves. So the additional allure of a shadowy sunshade in chintz or summer cotton makes a complete picture.

Cool all-white outfits feature the inevitable dress and companion coat or jacket duet . . . the jackets so much a part of the dress that they are seldom separated. The same trim, if any, is repeated on the jacket, the same material is invariably used, and the details are the same in both dress and jacket. Short hip lengths are stressed and a fitted streamline to accent the flare or plaited whirl of the short and flattering skirt. Dull crêpes, shining white sharkskin, novelty weaves as thin as a breeze, noncrushable linens, and piques are popular materials.

The long topcoat particularly ideal for such occasions comes this year in every imaginable pastel shade of thin, fine flannel, delphinium blue, raspberry, yellow, pale green, violet, cadet blue, pink and, of course, the white model flashing with gold buttons. Brilliant plaids, huge checks, stripes in awning widths, tattersall checks, and the smaller shepherd checks offer eye catching contrast with one color dresses or suits for rain or a chilly day.

Costumes that are perennial favorites consist of gay flowered print dress, in silk, chiffon or linen, teamed with a fitted long coat of either wool, silk or linen in solid color. Linen lined with the printed silk of the dress is a new idea as are the clever long silk coats lined with thin wool or linen.

Cotton dress suits, of dress and matching jacket, are winners for any race as they are cool, achieve that immaculate, well groomed look, and are gayly colorful.



Unlike anything you've ever imagined. So light it weighs hardly more than a breeze. So controlling it will work wonders on your figure. So airy it will keep you cool as a cucumber all summer long. Made with nylon. You can wash it after lunch, wear it for dinner, for it dries quickly and it gives you super-wear.

Kitty Lawrence's Betrothal to N. H. Blatchford III. Told

BY JUDITH CASS.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the engagement of two of the most popular young people on the north shore was made yesterday at a small luncheon given by the young lady's mother, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, and Mr. Rowe at their home in Barrington. The young lady is Katherine Chatterton Lawrence and the young man is Nathaniel Hopkins Blatchford III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel H. Blatchford of Long Beach, Michigan City, Ind., formerly of Winnetka. Miss Lawrence is the eldest of three daughters of Mrs. Rowe and John Harold Lawrence of Chicago.

Miss Lawrence and her sister, Evelyn, had a joint debut two years ago after returning from school abroad. Kitty went to the Château Brillantmont in Lausanne, Switzerland. Before that she was at the Warrenton Country school in Virginia. She is a provisional member of the Chicago Junior league and is well known in tennis circles.

Young Mr. Blatchford, who is working in Missouri, prepared for college at the North Shore Country Day school. He was graduated from Harvard in 1936. No date for the wedding is set, for he is of draft age and may be called to service soon.

Edward L. Brewster Weds Baltimore Girl Today.

This is a season of quickly arranged weddings. One of special interest in Chicago will take place around noon today in Baltimore, Md., when Edward Lancaster Brewster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster of Chicago and Lake Forest, will take Miss Kay Molloy of Baltimore as his bride. Mr. Brewster, a naval architect, was an ensign in the naval reserve for some years, and lately was called to active duty. He is stationed in New London, Conn. Upon obtaining a two or three day leave last Saturday he wired his parents that he and Miss Molloy would be married today in the city where Ensign Brewster has been living for the last four years.

Unfortunately Mr. and Mrs. Brewster are not able to go east for the wedding, which will be a quiet one. Mr. Brewster is convalescing from an operation in the Billings hospital. Ensign Brewster and Miss Molloy are old friends, and she has met many of his Chicago friends on visits here. Ensign Brewster, a graduate of St. Paul's, Yale, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and his bride expect to be at home in New London.

Patricia Geroud to Be Bride of Easterner.

At a tea at home in Kenilworth yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Avery Gerould announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Royal Wyman Treadway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heaton Ives Treadway of Stockbridge, Mass., and grandson of Representative and Mrs. Allen T. Treadway, also of Stockbridge. Mr. Treadway also is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frothingham Wyman of Evanston.

Miss Gerould, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor of Kenilworth, is a graduate of the Kent Place school in Summit, N. J., and attended Wells college. Mr. Treadway attended Cornell.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Field of Evanston announce the engagements of their daughters, Portia Crosby Field, to Herbert William Rowe of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., and of Barbara Hopkins Field to Raymond Earle Kerr Jr. of Annapolis, Md. A double wedding ceremony is planned for July 5 in the First Congregational church, Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cook of Evanston were at home on Saturday to announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to James Philip Johnson, son of Mrs. J. Peter Johnson of Waupaca, Wis. Mr. Johnson, a graduate of Lawrence college, recently was commissioned an ensign in the United States naval reserve.

Luncheons to Precede Arlington Opening Today.

The opening of the Arlington Park race track today promises to be the usual gala occasion that it always is. The smart Post and Paddock club will be crowded with members and their luncheon guests before the races start. Laurance H. Armour, president of the club, and Mrs. Armour are giving a large luncheon at the club today.

Others who are giving luncheon parties are Robert F. Carr, Charles H. Schweppe, the Armin Brands, the George E. Van Hagens, Mrs. Benjamin R. Brown, and the John E. Wheelers.

Among the large number of boxholders are Mrs. John D. Hurley, Neil C. Hurley, Charles S. Pearce, Harry H. Lobdel, Walter Schuettler, John D. Allen, who is president of the track; Weymouth Kirkland, James S. Kemper, Mayor Kelly, Joseph K. Lowe, Thomas E. Wilson, Silas H. Strawn, Warren Wright, Mr. Armour, Charles A. McCulloch, Mr. Carr, Donald R. McLennan, Mr. Schweppe, Gerald Cudahy, Edward I. Cudahy, Mrs. Francis Manierre, Mrs. Champ Carry, Gustavus F. Smith, Henry Bartholomay, and Lawrence F. Stern, who has two boxes. Gov. Green also has a box.

Two events out of the ordinary at the big track have been planned for this summer. The auxiliaries that support the Chicago Maternity center have taken over the whole racing plant for "A Day at the Races" benefit on July 16. On July 25 racing enthusiasts will see a fashion show presented by the State Street council with 34 beautiful models showing the latest in summer fashions. The first running of the Arlington Primer stakes, a new stake for 2 year olds, will be held on that day.

Hermon Dunlap Smiths Welcome Third Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Dunlap Smith [Ellen Thorne] are being congratulated on the birth of their third daughter and fourth child on Saturday at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest. The baby is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Thorne. The Smiths' other children are Deborah, a subdebutante; Farwell, and Ellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlindo Sanders Cate [Nancy Knode] became the parents of a son, their first child, Saturday night in Evanston hospital. The baby has been named David Sanders. Mrs. Cate is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Knode of Hubbard Woods.

Many of the guests at the opening Ravinia concert on Saturday night will be going to Barrington that afternoon to a garden party from 4 to 6 o'clock that the English Speaking ing union is giving in the home of its new president, Frank A. Hecht, and Mrs. Hecht. The especial guest will be Sir Thomas Beecham, who will conduct during the first and second weeks of the Ravinia festival.

Give Luncheon Friday for Mrs. Witherspoon.

The president and directors of the Illinois Opera guild have cards out for a luncheon on Friday at the Saddle and Cycle club for Mrs. Herbert Witherspoon of New York. Mrs. Witherspoon formerly was director of the Metropolitan Opera guild, on which she will speak. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. James McMillan, president of the Illinois guild, will have the young Chinese, Liu Liang-mo, who introduced western mass singing into China, as her especial guest. He will sing some modern Chinese marching songs. Mrs. William E. Ragland [Edith Mason] is in charge of the program.

Mrs. E. Hill Leith of Rimrock, Ariz., is at the Hotel Windemere for the summer. Mr. Leith will join her in about two weeks and will divide the summer between here and their farms at Dixon. The Leiths have a ranch, Beaver Creek ranch, in Arizona.

Their Engagement Announced

Miss Kitty Lawrence and Nat Blatchford, whose engagement to be married was announced yesterday at a family luncheon given by her mother, Mrs. Samuel Davis Rowe, at her home in Barrington.

Lake Bluff Infant Welfare Benefit to Be Next Friday

Mrs. Gerritt A. Rutgers will open the beautiful gardens of her Lake Bluff home next Friday afternoon for a luncheon, fashion show and bridge party for the benefit of the Lake Bluff center of the Infant Welfare society. Mrs. Rutgers is general chairman of the outdoor party, which is an annual event with Lake Bluff women. Mrs. George Ekern is in charge of the fashion show. Some of those on the committee are Mrs. George Hannah, Mrs. Harmon H. Woodworth, Mrs. William F. Harvey, Mrs. Maurice Benson, Mrs. Harry Drummond, and Mrs. Frederick Secord.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sachs of Staunton, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Jean, to S. Albert Stern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stern of Glencoe. Miss Sachs was graduated from Stuart Hall, Staunton, and from Goucher college. Mr. Stern, a graduate of the University of Michigan and of the University of Chicago law school, is practicing law in Washington, D. C. The wedding is planned for July.

Mrs. John Keehn Grisard of Kenmore avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Judith, to Lieut. Robert Lee Meldrum, United States marine corps. Miss Grisard is a graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's college of Virginia and of Northwestern university. She also attended the Student Union of Geneva, Switzerland. Lieut. Meldrum is a graduate of the University of California and attended Naval school in Philadelphia and now is on active duty.

Hi, Kids! Sally's Parties Going to Start Again

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

It's party time, boys and girls!

Just as soon as school is over, THE TRIBUNE'S parties for children begin, and here we are again, with a long list of good times scheduled for the coming summer. Every Thursday during July and August, 100 boys and girls will have an opportunity to have a lot of fun.

Our parties are open to all boys and girls, and 50 of each will be invited to our first special treat, which is a swell one!

It will take place one week from Thursday, July 3, and we're going to the Palace theater to see a brand new movie—the sort that's just perfect for boys and girls. I know how much you love Mickey and Minnie Mouse and Donald Duck, so I'm sure you'll all want to see Walt Disney's latest full length picture. It's "The Reluctant Dragon" and it'll make you laugh until your sides ache.

You'll see Robert Benchley and the people who make the sound effects for Donald Duck and Clara Cluck, as well as the dragon, who plays the flute and is really very shy and not a bit fierce. There's a brand new character, too, Baby Weems, a little tiny fellow who knows everything.

I want my guests to be children who are most anxious to come, and if you think that means you, you'd better get busy and write a letter telling me why you think you would enjoy this party. One hundred of the youngsters who write the most enthusiastic letters will be invited.

You must remember a few rules, or out you go. First of all, you must write that letter all by yourself, with no help from any one. You must also remember to tell me your full name, address and your age. Please don't ask for invitations for other children—have them write, too.

Every single letter will be read carefully and judged on next Thursday morning and the winners selected—so be sure that you don't wait too long to mail that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

A DETERMINATION

In an address on Sept. 11, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time. I stand, with my party, upon the platform adopted in Chicago:

"'We will not participate in foreign wars, and we will not send our army, naval, or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack.'"

Social Gatherings Precede Convention of Home Economists

The 34th annual convention of the American Home Economics association was opened with a program of teas and mixer parties yesterday.

Delegates attended a tea at the Harriet McCormick YWCA. Two hundred high school and college students were guests at a tea in Ida Noyes hall on the campus of the University of Chicago.

The convention will begin officially at 2:30 p. m. today in the Stevens hotel. Scheduled to speak is Miss Mary I. Barber, dietitian in the Office of Production Management in Washington, D. C. Registrations yesterday were said to indicate more than 2,000 delegates will be present.

SYNOPSIS.

On her own for the past four years, 22 year old Celia Ames has no one to whom she can turn when she loses her job. She has fallen in love with Val Quentin, a fellow boarder, but is beginning to doubt his sincerity since he is continuously borrowing from her and imposes on her in other ways. She runs into Felicity Stanmore, a schoolmate four years her junior whom she mothered in convent days. Felicity's mother is dead and her father, only 39, is rich and handsome. Felicity invites Celia to her home for the week-end and Celia goes back to the boarding house to pawn her jewelry but finds it has been stolen. At the Stanmores', Celia finds Val is one of the dinner guests, and Felicity tells her she is in love with him. Returning to the boarding house, Celia's landlady tells her she found pawn tickets for Celia's jewelry in Val's room. Val explains that he looked upon Celia as his wife and thought it all right to borrow her jewelry to pawn when he was in need. He says the reason he hasn't been able to marry her is because his divorced wife is supporting him. Martin Stanmore, Felicity's father, offers Celia a job as his daughter's companion and his part time stenographer. Miss Allison, Felicity's Auntie May, who was jealous of Felicity's love for Celia during convent days, has been in charge of the Stanmore household and is taking a vacation. The job proves difficult for Celia. Felicity confides in her that she is engaged to Val and shows her a ring he gave her. When Felicity explains that Val bought the ring by pawning his mother's jewelry, Celia knows that it was the money he got from pawning her own jewelry. She tells Felicity Val is unworthy of her, but Felicity only thinks Celia is jealous.

INSTALMENT XIII.

HOUSEHOLD DUTIES.

Celia, sick at heart for what had just happened, realized that the plot was thickening quite nicely now.

"Don't you bother," she told Felicity.

But her feelings were pretty low as she followed Stevens along a corridor that led to a baize door.

Her job had begun, and she had not much more than the ghost of an idea how to tackle this particular aspect of it. But after all, she didn't have to cook the meals, and ordering them ought not to be a superhuman achievement.

If she were wise now, she knew that she had to put what had happened between her and Felicity completely out of her mind.

Mrs. Benson, an amiable young Irish woman, took and instant liking to Celia Ames, who was too shy and above all too clever to give her orders. Moreover Celia was considerably impressed by the shining white tile and chromium charms of the kitchen quarters and lavishly expressed her admiration. Like most people, Mrs. Benson relished a little praise.

Celia learned that when left to himself—as had happened occasionally—Martin Stanmore's ideal dinner began with tomato soup and ended with a savory, with a rich juicy steak smothered in onions sandwiched somewhere in between. Taking into account Miss Felicity's partiality for a sweet that had whipped cream and nuts on it, the menu was built up on those simple lines. Also, Miss Felicity must have her bit of steak grilled separately, out of reach of the onions.

"'Tis a homely dinner, rather," Mrs. Benson said doubtfully, "but for once in a way, there'll be no harm done and herself not here to know about it."

Celia sighed, smiled, and thanked her. She thought of the exquisitely planned, almost exotic meals she had eaten here and was shaken with misgivings. Mrs. Benson ought to be more of a help, but it was plain enough that altho hers was the ability, it was Miss Allison who had supplied the inspiration.

Felicity had changed into slacks and a striped jumper and was sprawled on the hearth rug again with a picture paper, chewing gum, which was a trick she had learned from her acquaintance with some of the ice hockey boys, as she explained when she offered the packet to Celia.

Celia said, "Not just now, thank you."

She was worried and felt all at sea. Miss Allison might at least have shown her around and given some idea of what was expected of her. Should she go prowling on her own? In a minor way it was like being loose in Buckingham palace and told to run it blindfolded. When she so thankfully accepted Martin Stanmore's handsome offer, she had supposed the housekeeping he had mentioned so lightly would be the least of her troubles.

Stevens, the butler, had told her she was to occupy the room she had had before, so with a murmured excuse to Felicity about getting herself "settled in," she flew to it for sanctuary and meditation.

* * *

This time Jenkins, the upper housemaid, had got ahead of her and done all the unpacking. Everything she possessed was out of the bags and suitcases and sparsely distributed in the cupboards and drawers which had been designed to contain a much more lavish wardrobe.

She pressed a nervous forefinger to the bell which presumably would summon Jenkins, and presently Jenkins arrived.

"You rang, Miss?"

Celia fancied that she looked supercilious. And why not?

"Miss Allison didn't tell me what exactly I'm to do," Celia explained. "I mean—in a general way, I believe I'm supposed to take her place while she's away."

"Yes, Miss?"

Jenkins' expression, faintly tinged with irony, suggested that the person didn't live who could take Miss Allison's place, and Celia was inclined to agree with her.

"I suppose, of course, that you all have your regular duties."

"O yes, indeed, Miss."

"Why, the supplies, Miss—the fresh linen, and bathroom things, the cleaning materials, and the checking up that has to be done. It's housekeeper's work, but Miss Allison prefers to do it herself."

* * *

"Celia, daddy and Sandy have come and we want some table tennis before tea. Have you got any pants?"

Celia said no, she hadn't, and she would have liked to say that she didn't play table tennis either, but that wouldn't have been true.

Felicity dashed out and was back again, minus her ring, and with a pair of vermilion slacks and an adorable white jumper, which she tossed to Celia. Truly, where Felicity was concerned, all was forgotten and forgiven.

Celia tried to throw off her cares. Somehow it gave her confidence to have Martin Stanmore on the premises. Need she shake in her shoes every blessed minute?

Buck up, my girl, and play the game! Forget your troubles, and be your age for a change.

After all, she was only 22, and most people seemed to think that was quite young.

She passed around her packet of gum and presently they were all four chewing hard and fast, and battering the little balls across the table like machine gun practice.

Celia hadn't known she could play so well, but she had Martin Stanmore for a partner and he was a "crackerjack," according to Felicity, who had purloined some American slang along with her gum chewing from her ice hockey friends.

After tea, Martin and Sandy had a bit of work to clear off and if it was finished in time, they were all going to the hockey match after dinner. Felicity's favorite team, the Kensington Panthers, was playing.

On the way up for their shower, she said to Celia: "I wish Auntie May would stay away—well, I won't say forever, but for a long time, anyway. Did you notice how different daddy is?"

"Well, he can be awfully grumpy," said Felicity. "Once or twice this afternoon I almost forgot he's my father. He seemed so gay and young."

"But he is young," Celia protested.

Then suddenly she sobered up.

"I'm forgetting. You're not so young yourself, of course. That accounts for it."

A full glass of orange juice a day for everybody, young, middle-aged, and elderly, would do a great deal to improve the state of our national health. Orange juice in that amount [an 8 ounce glass a day] would supply our full day's need of vitamin C [anti-scurvy], and give us some A, B-1, G, and minerals to boot.

[Serves Six.]

2 cups orange sections
½ cup papaya hearts, sliced
1 cup fresh pineapple cubes
½ cup shredded coconut
1 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
1 teaspoon chopped preserved or candied ginger

Combine ingredients and serve chilled in low sherbet glasses. Garnish each with a sprig of mint. The papaya hearts may be purchased in the jar, but if they are hard to find, they may be omitted. More coconut may be used. Fresh grated coconut is delicious in this combination.

Orange Punch.

2 cups boiling water
1½ cups sugar
1 cup leomon juice
5 cups orange juice
2 quarts ginger ale
1 quart orange sherbet
Thin slices orange, including peel
Fresh cherries

Steep tea in boiling water for 5 minutes. Strain. Dissolve sugar in hot tea and cool. Add chilled fruit juices. Add ginger ale [chilled] just before serving from punch bowl, and garnish with orange slices and cherries. Float the sherbet in spoonfuls.

1. Sliced oranges on watercress, French dressing.

2. Sliced oranges and sliced onion, French dressing. Sliced stuffed olives may also be used.

3. Avocado sliced with orange sections, on chicory or cress, pimiento garnish and French dressing.

5. Cantaloupe or honeydew slices with orange sections and raspberries, fruit salad dressing.

We are sorry. Due to an error, a cup of orange juice was omitted from the list of ingredients of a dessert published in this column last Friday. The corrected recipe reads:

Orange Summer Velvet.
[One quart]

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
3 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup whipping cream

Boil sugar and water five minutes to make a sirup. Gradually beat this sirup into the stiffly beaten egg whites. Add grated peel, strained juice, and salt. Pour into refrigerator tray and chill. Fold in whipped cream and freeze quickly. Beat once after dessert has frozen quite firm. Return to refrigerator to finish freezing.

The bidding varied, but at several tables South became declarer at three no trump, after North had started with a club bid. At three of these tables, against the final contract of three no trump by South, West chose to open the diamond king.

At table 1, where East was far from expert, the play went as follows: King of diamonds opening lead, East signalling with the seven. Queen of diamonds, deuce by East. Three of diamonds, ace by East. Now East returned his last diamond, and from that point declarer had a laydown by merely clearing the club suit.

At the second table East was a far better player. The first three plays went the same, but then East realized that his partner's method of leading the diamonds had shouted 'three card suit," and thus East saw that to return the fourth diamond would be to lose control of the hand. Realizing the necessity of establishing a spade trick before losing club control, he led a low spade from the queen. West's king knocking out dummy's ace. Four rounds of hearts and the good diamond were cashed, reducing all hands to four cards. East now was in great difficulty; he had to hold the club queen twice guarded and, therefore, had to reduce to the blank queen of spades. Declarer had little trouble in reading the situation, since he had noted East's spade discards carefully. Declarer now led a spade, throwing East on lead and forcing him to return a club to dummy's tenace, for the fulfilling tricks. East's diagnosis of the necessity for a spade lead had been correct, but it had not gone quite far enough.

At the third table East was an expert. After three diamond leads he reached the same conclusion as had declarer No. 2, but he did not let himself in for an end play. He laid down the spade queen! From that point declarer was helpless, since it was West who thereafter could guard the spade suit while East held on to his low spade and three clubs. Obviously, a spade opening lead or a spade shift by West before losing diamond control, also would have defeated the contract.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

A bevy of beloved old-timers—not so old, but favorites of an earlier day—are featured in the State-Lake's current screen play.

"Power Dive" tells the story of a test pilot, his younger brother, and the girl both men love, and whom they meet when she comes to Los Angeles to sell her blind father's invention—a plane with revolutionary devices, known as a "geodetic plastic plane."

Brad Farrell, MacMasters, and Coles are the last remaining members of a famous flying group of daredevils known as the "Big Six." MacMasters has given up flying and taken to the manufacture of speed planes. Coles has invented a new plane which he hopes will bring in enough money to enable him to stay on the ground with his wife and little boy. . . . Farrell is just a flying fool and has no idea of quitting. . . . BUT he has no notion of permitting his brother to follow in his footsteps. . . . When Doug arrives all set to do so he finds himself planted in MacMasters' drafting department. . . . And then Carol arrives—and then all sorts of things start to happen. . . .

There's nothing particularly original or noteworthy about the story. It is, however, ably acted and it seemed good to see so many familiar faces again. . . . Also, girls, take note of Newcomer Don Castle! Likeable chap with easy ways, a nice smile—and the best looking hands. . . .

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Cal., June 22.—Sunday—At the Gregory La Cava's at Malibu, and fishing for barracuda and mackerel with Greg's husky new stepson and young George Marshall, son of the director. Greg married Grace Garland, his next door neighbor, and moved both himself and plans for a huge beach front playroom from his house to hers.

Monday—Desk and telephone stuff, and correspondence: Richard Carroll's "Three Girls About Town" starts shooting at Columbia next week, two of the three girls being Joan Blondell and Janet Blair. Miss Blair, singer with the late Hal Kemp's band, makes her film debut.

Tuesday—At luncheon a publicity executive says the new consent decree governing film sales will give press staffs big headaches. When, in September, pictures will have to be shown well in advance to exhibitors, studios will be faced with the problem of keeping a movie "alive" two months longer than heretofore. . . . To the Pathe lot, where Columbia is shooting "Ladies in Retirement." A house, with a surrounding bleak moorland, has been built on a stage, and the whole film is being shot right there. . . . To Joan Crawford's, to see Joan's newly adopted baby, Christopher. She insists on doing most of the work for this infant herself, altho she has plenty of servants and nurses.

Wednesday—To Warner's to lunch with Sam Wood, who's being held up on "King's Row" because Universal is still working Charles Laughton in the Deanna Durbin picture. A glowing spot in the commissary is Ann Sheridan, in a period costume and a high pompadour.

Thursday—At the desk until mid-afternoon, then to Lockheed airport to meet Adelaide and Graham Reid. Delayed a long time by traffic around the new plane factories.

Friday—To MGM, and find Clark Gable and Lana Turner outside their stage, goggling at a Ford jeep, an army truck, and an anti-tank gun—while the accompanying soldiers goggle at Turner and Gable. Lana is wearing a nightgown and a dressing gown—but plenty modest, being in the mauve decade. She and Clark are making "Honky Tonk," a yarn about a con man.

Saturday—Back to Metro and "The Chocolate Soldier," to talk with the Metropolitan's Risé Stevens, who is making her film debut. This picture will take four or five months to make—a very long schedule. And I learn that it is really the Lunt-Fontanne "The Guardsmen," with the Lehar musical sandwiched in. Two pictures in one should be a blow at the double bills!

HAROLD TEEN—A PERFECT MATE FOR MOTHER

MOTHER! A NEW EVENING DRESS! AND YOU KNOW WE CAN'T AFFORD TO SPEND MONEY ON THINGS LIKE THAT!
THIS ISN'T SPENDING, DEARIE--- IT'S AN INVESTMENT-
INVESTMENT?? I GET IT! MOTHER- YOU COULDN'T---- YOU CAN'T DO THIS TO ME--
YOU CAN'T TAKE TIMOTHY TEEN, AWAY FROM ME! I SAW HIM FIRST! YOU JUST WANT HIS MONEY--- WELL- I'LL SHOW YOU----
HA-- I SUPPOSE YOU AREN'T AFTER HIS MONEY--- I GET IT NOW, WHY YOU HAD ME MADE UP AS AN OLD WOMAN WHEN HE CAME TO VISIT ME--
---YOU WERE AFRAID HE'D FALL FOR ME--- WHAT A SELFISH DAUGHTER YOU TURNED OUT TO BE--- JEALOUS OF YOUR POOR MOTHER--

Of interest here because the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Heyliger A. De Windt, live in Winnetka, is the marriage last Saturday of Miss Betsy Chalmers Bope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Correa of Englewood, N. J., and Edward Mandell De Windt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delano De Windt of Great Barrington, Mass. The wedding took place in the First Presbyterian church, Englewood, followed by a reception at the Correa home in Beech road. Robert Cochran was the only Chicagoan in the large wedding party. After July 15 Mr. and Mrs. De Windt will be at home at the Inn, Battle Creek, Mich. The senior Mr. and Mrs. De Windt were not able to go east for the ceremony.

Word comes from Sewickley, Pa., where Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamilton Heald have been living since moving from Oak Park, of the marriage of their son, Merrill Lockwood Heald, to Miss Jeanne Elizabeth Tremaine, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Raymond Tremaine of Middlebourne, W. Va., and the late Mr. Tremaine. The ceremony was performed on Saturday in the First Presbyterian church, Sistersville, W. Va. Mr. Heald is a grandson of James H. Heald and of James E. Tristram, early Oak Park residents. He and his bride will be at home after July 4 in Sewickley Heights, Pa.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Simpson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Simpson of Vincennes, Ind., and Ensign Theodore C. Siegmund, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Siegmund, 1609 Fargo avenue, Chicago, were married June 14 in St. Andrew's cathedral chapel, Honolulu, T. H. The bride is a graduate of Purdue university. Ensign Siegmund, a graduate of the United States Naval academy in the class of 1939, is stationed on the U. S. S. Reid at Pearl Harbor, T. H. He and his bride will reside in Honolulu.

Mrs. Henry Joseph Armstrong of the Ambassador East announces the marriage on July 19 of her daughter, Mary, to Dr. Bernard J. McMahon. The wedding took place in Pauline chapel, Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colo. The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Chicago and New York. Dr. McMahon is a graduate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in Dublin, Ireland, and of the University of Pennsylvania.

Announcement is made of the marriage on May 31 of Miss Edythe Francis Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter A. Cox of Beverly Hills, Cal., to Donald McClure Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis of Evanston. The wedding took place in Las Vegas, Nev. Mrs. Davis attended Lake Forest college and the National College of Education, and her husband was graduated from Northwestern university.

Dr. and Mrs. Nels Tuveson of Evanston announce the marriage on June 3 in St. Louis, Mo., of their daughter, Karen Jayne, and Glenn Backman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Backman of Willow Park. Mr. Backman and his bride are graduates of the University of Illinois. They will make their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Al H. Greene of the Carolan hotel announce the marriage of their daughter, Marian, to Al Lorber of New York City. The wedding took place yesterday, the 28th anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents, in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York City.

Engaged to Wed

MISS RITA MARIE COURTNEY.

The engagement of Miss Rita Marie Courtney to Edward J. Vaughan is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Courtney. Miss Courtney is a graduate of Barat college in Lake Forest. Mr. Vaughan was graduated from De Paul university in 1940 and is engaged in business in Chicago. Mr. Courtney is state's attorney.

8,000 Chicago Jews Hear Addresses on Colonization Fund

More than 8,000 Jewish residents of Chicago, gathered in Riverview park yesterday for their annual Jewish day picnic and heard addresses by leaders of the Jewish National Fund, an organization which is purchasing land for the further colonization of Palestine. Speakers included Hyman Steinberg, chairman of the executive committee of the Jewish National Fund; Mendel M. Fisher, national executive director, and Rabbi Morton M. Berman, president of the Chicago council. William J. Robinson and Louis Sokolsky were co-chairman of the meeting.

Church Enrollment in America Reaches Record Total in 1940

New York, June 22 [Special].—With an enrollment of 49 per cent of the nation's population in 1940, the 250 religious bodies in the United States maintained the increased membership of the last decade and even added slightly to the percentage, it was revealed in the 1941 edition of the Yearbook of American Churches, announced for publication today. The new edition was edited by Dr. Benson Y. Landis, under the auspices of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

There were 64,501,594 church members in the United States during the last year, the report shows, and they attended 244,319 churches.

The Roman Catholic church maintained its leadership in membership for a single sect with 21,284,455 members. Enrollment in the Protestant bodies continues to lead all groups, however, with 36,103,984 members.

First among the Protestant bodies is the Methodist church, with 7,377,487 members, followed by the Northern and Southern Baptist churches, which have an enrollment of 4,949,174.

PARKER, PAULINE BETZ WIN U. S. TENNIS TITLES

ARLINGTON OPENS TODAY; 14 NAMED FOR STAKE

RACE PURSES IN NEXT 66 DAYS NEAR $1,000,000

Sprint Is Inaugural Feature.

Myrtlewood Field

FOURTEEN horses have been named in the overnight entries for the Myrtlewood handicap, which will be run today at Arlington Park. The field in order of post positions follows:

Joe Schenck	116	K. McCombs	4-1
Blue Delight	105	No boy	6-1
Valdina Groom	102	No boy	20-1
Kings Blue	114	J. Richard	4-1
Be Blue	109	J. G. Wilson	15-1
Exarch	107	E. Pool	10-1
Potranco	122	J. Adams	5-2
Technician	110	R. L. Vedder	4-1
Smacked	106	L. Haskell	10-1
Up the Creek	107	No boy	15-1
Montsin	108	No boy	20-1
Court Dance	105	No boy	8-1
Double Call	100	W. Borton	30-1
Equistar	110	W. Garner	8-1

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago's most ambitious racing program since predepression days will be launched this afternoon as the Arlington Park meeting opens. Between now and early September there will be an unbroken succession of events calculated to attract the best thoroughbreds in the country. During the 34 racing days at Arlington and the 32 at Washington Park, horsemen will be competing for approximately $1,000,000.

Today's $2,500 Myrtlewood handicap, which has drawn an overnight field of 14, will be followed by two more stakes this week—the $2,500 Primer for juveniles on Wednesday and the $7,500 Matron handicap for fillies and mares on Saturday.

Woolford Entry Threatens.

The Myrtlewood has drawn a field already familiar to Chicago racing fans. As the meeting advances, horses will be shipped in from all over the country to try for such major stakes as the Classic and the Futurity. Whirlaway, champion of the 3 year olds, is due to arrive on Wednesday, fresh from his triumph in the Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct. Previously he had won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Belmont and had beaten older horses in an overnight allowance event. He is scheduled to go in the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap on July 4 and the Classic on July 26.

Potranco and Kings Blue, two of the Lincoln Fields stake winners, will run today in the Myrtlewood, which will be at a distance of six furlongs. The Woolford Farm entry of Joe Schenck and Technician also will be well backed. The latter has shown signs of returning to the good form which characterized his performances at the Arlington meeting last summer. Other good ones in the Myrtlewood field include Blue Delight, Exarch, Court Dance, and Equistar.

The Myrtlewood will be supported by a six furlong allowance event for 3 year olds. This has drawn ten overnight entries including Bushwhacker, Valdina Paul, Agricole, and Mystery Marvel. Blue Delight and Smacked are eligible for this race as well as the Myrtlewood.

Grass Racing on Infield.

Thruout both meetings, on days when no stakes are run, there will be purse distribution which assures fields of uniformly high quality.

Every day there will be one race on the grass course in the infield. Arlington and Hialeah are the only tracks in the country which present flat racing on the turf. Two of the stake events—the Arlington handicap and the Grassland—will be run on this course.

All Mondays, including opening day, will be Ladies' days. Women will be admitted upon payment of federal and state taxes only. The management is preparing for a crowd of about 15,000 this afternoon.

SOX WIN, 14 TO 0; DYKES PROTESTS 3 TO 0 SHUTOUT

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, June 22.—The White Sox put on an impressive demonstration in behalf of 40 year old Ted Lyons today, but failed to show the same regard for Eddie Smith, their pudgy southpaw. In support of Lyons they riddled the Athletics in the first half of a double header to make his sixth victory a 14 to 0 romp. Then their attack dwindled almost to nothing while Smith was pitching a three hitter, Phil Marchildon in the meantime returning the whitewash compliment, 3 to 0, in a game that Manager Jimmy Dykes will protest.

An incident in the first inning of the second game led to Dykes' latest protest. With Mike Kreevich on third and Joe Kuhel on first, a double steal was started, but Kreevich turned back, Kuhel reaching second. Catcher Frank Hayes, breaking up the play, leaped onto the plate, barring whatever chance Batter Jim Webb might have had to swing at the pitched ball. Dykes demanded that interference be called, but Umpire in Chief Joe Rue, according to Dykes, declared there is no rule against a catcher stepping over the plate unless the batter swung at the ball.

Dykes to Keep on Trying.

The debate was resumed in the eighth inning and Umpire Bill Summers took part in it. This time Rue, who had received previous advice from Summers, Dykes charges, merely repeated there was no interference.

The point is a matter of umpire's judgment, aside from the fact that in this case, according to Dykes, Rue apparently didn't know the rules. Where the judgment of an umpire is involved, a protest usually is disallowed. Dykes, however, has not forgotten the White Sox 1 to 0 victory last year, which was wiped off the record books when the Yankees protested. An umpire in this game ruled that Outfielder Julius Solters had made a legal catch of a foul fly which he later dropped when he reached for his cap. The game was replayed and the Sox lost. Dykes intends to keep on protesting until he gets a similar ruling on judgment.

Get 18 Hits in First Game.

Eighteen safe blows rattled off the Sox bats in the first battle, the prize of the batch being a full house homer by Ben Chapman during a riotous seven run third inning. During this mêlée, Johnny Babich, who had been softened by three runs in the second, vanished from the view of a 25,563 crowd. What happened subsequently was the affair of Irving [Bump] Hadley, whose troubles in-

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

MANY sports officials are unwilling to alter their decisions because it would imply that they, like other human beings, might be wrong. . . . It is refreshing, therefore, to learn about the action of the Detroit race stewards. . . . They suspended Jockey Jack Flinchum for letting Kiev Singer cut in toward the rail in front of his rivals recently. . . . Subsequently they discovered that the horse habitually lugs in, and that Flinchum had only an ordinary bit with which to guide him on that occasion. . . . The stewards accordingly reinstated Flinchum and fined Trainer George Oros $50 for sending the horse to the barrier with improper equipment. . . . Shortstop Bob Sturgeon of the Cubs knows the names and schedules of every radio station that features transcribed orchestra music. . . . He's a bug on recordings, but can't carry his record library when he's on the road. . . . However, he does have his portable radio. . . . Bobby Riggs, one of the nation's tennis headliners, who doesn't hold a college degree, is assistant publicity director of Presbyterian college in Clinton, S. C., and part of his job is to sell prospective students on the benefits of a college education. . . . Jim Logan, former Indiana guard, who was elected to a starting position with the College All-Stars against Green Bay last summer, recently married Miss Dorothy Rae Hagie of Richmond, Ind. . . . Lew Fonseca has just completed arrangements with the Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Huts to show the American league movie to soldiers and aviators thruout Canada. . . . He is working out a program to show the film in army camps and naval bases thruout the United States. . . .

Vern Olsen, Cub shutout star, has a dandy collection of stories about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter as well as a large répertoire of hillbilly narratives. . . . A full sister to Whirlaway has been foaled at Warren Wright's Calumet farm in Kentucky. . . . The sire is the $250,000 Blenheim II., and the dam is Dustwhirl. . . . Dustwhirl next will be bred to Bull Lea, the horse which was Calumet's most successful racer previous to Whirlaway. . . . Altho he is only 18, Jimmy Evert, Chicago's junior tennis champion, has felt the effect of the draft. . . . Jimmy drew Bryan Grant of Atlanta in the first round of the national clay court tournament in River Forest. . . . Grant, seeded No. 8, was scheduled for induction into the army three days before the tournament opened, but was deferred by his board pending settlement of the 28 year old exemption measure. . . . Grant is 28. . . . Evert then lost to Grant in three close sets instead of winning by default. . . . When Frank Lamanske and Joe Egnatic form the battery for Boise in the Pioneer league they disdain signals and talk in Polish. . . . I've often wondered just how it would feel
To have a home all of my own,
A sort of haven and refuge
That would belong just to me alone;
Not an apartment or rented suite,
Not a hotel room or such,
But some kind of place that was every inch mine,
Be it ever so little or much.

A place where, when once I had closed the door,
The clamor of life seemed to soften,
No one to tell me I made too much noise,
Or cooked cauliflower somewhat too often;
With old elm trees shading each side,
A harbor to which I might take all my hopes
And my dreams to forever abide.

Maybe you who go riding by
Won't even take note of this little white cot
With the picket fence just elbow high;
No, it isn't a show place that ever will be Pointed out or in rotos made known,
But that little green door leads to something much more—

CUBS TROUNCED TWICE BY BRAVES, 6 TO 5 AND 3 TO 2

Boston Rallies Ruin Day for 25,136.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs, by blowing both ends of a double header to the Boston Braves before 25,136 yesterday afternoon, 6 to 5 and 3 to 2, buttoned the lips of the smart alecks who have been heckling them about their five fadeouts in games in which they were shooting for the .500 mark. They are now four games behind the coveted "good as the league" mark and this afternoon must open a three game series with the Giants, who have thrashed them seven times in nine tries.

The Cub offense curled after making four runs in the first inning of the first game and, altho the Chicagoans were leading, 5 to 2, going into the eighth, the defense bogged in the eighth and ninth innings, even as it did in the ninth and tenth innings Saturday, to toss the decision that would have put them up against a sixth shot at the .500 mark. Their tense nerves thus eased, some thought they would win the second game, but in the fourth inning two singles off Jake Mooty, an error by Babe Dahlgren and three walks in a row, two of them with the bases loaded, gave the Braves three runs. These proved enough for Al Javery.

Cubs Don't Suspect Danger.

The Cubs little suspected their mettle was to be tried and found shy again when they made those four runs in the first inning of the first game. They didn't even suspect it when Frank Lamanna, second Boston pitcher, held them to a single by Vern Olsen in the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh.

No Cub, in fact, seemed to be apprehensive until Manager Jim Wilson yanked Olsen after Paul Waner had singled and Sibby Sisti had doubled in the eighth. Wilson then sent in Tot Pressnell to protect the three run lead the Cubs had at the time. Pressnell braced after his first pitch was slapped for a single to drive in two runs, but blew up entirely after two were out and one on in the ninth when he pitched successive doubles to Waner and Sisti.

Cub Hitters Fold Up.

To make their embarrassment complete, the Cubs had runners on third and second with none out in the ninth, but couldn't budge 'em.

Claude Passeau has been selected to delight the several hundred customers expected in Wrigley field this afternoon, Hal Schumacher will pitch for the Giants.

FIRST GAME

Bill Posedel's first 1941 contact with the Cubs was of short duration. Hack opened the first game with a single to center. Sturgeon bounced a sacrifice to Gremp, whose overthrow enabled Hack to reach third and Sturgeon second. Cavarretta singled to right, scoring Hack and Sturgeon, and went to second on the throw to the plate. Frank Lamanna replaced Posedel and struck out Nicholson. Dallessandro then knocked his twentieth double of the year, scoring Cavarretta. Dahlgren fled to Cooney, but McCullough added a single to his Saturday's perfect batting average, scoring Dallessandro. Stringer walked, but Olsen fanned.

The Braves broke into the scoring column in the fifth after loading the bases with the first three batsmen on an error by Stringer and successive singles by Wietelmann and Cooney. Gremp filed to Dallessandro, Lamanna scoring, but when Wietelmann tried to count on Ross' fly to Cavarretta, he was doubled at the plate.

The Cubs made an unearned run in the fifth. Sturgeon walked and got to third on Cavarretta's sacrifice and Nicholson's fly. Sturgeon scored when Sisti fumbled Dallessandro's grounder.

The Braves put up their second run in the sixth. Waner got his second pass, went to third on a single by

RIGGS BEATEN IN FIVE SETS ON CLAY COURTS

Frankie's Forehand Turns Tide.

BY WILLIAM FAY.
[1940 Notre Dame tennis captain.]

After all these years Frankie Parker of Spring Lake, N. J., showed up on the River Forest Tennis club courts yesterday with a forehand—a reliable, hard hit forehand drive—that broke the heart of Bobby Riggs late in the fifth set of a grim tennis battle.

Parker defeated Riggs for the national clay court men's singles title, 6-3, 7-5, 6-8, 4-6, 6-3. But there were moments, when Riggs climaxed a courageous comeback by pulling ahead at 3-2, in the final set, when it seemed that even Parker's new found forehand power would not prevail.

Riggs was smiling a little as he walked back to begin service in the sixth game of the final set—and why not? He finally had pulled into the lead after flirting with defeat for three hours.

Parker Shows His Mettle.

But Parker wasn't thru. He broke Riggs to even at 3-3, and then really put his forehand to work. He chased Riggs from corner to corner and moved into the net. He won his own service to lead, 4-3, and that was the end of Riggs. Parker swept the next two games with the loss of only one point to regain the title he held in 1933 and 1939.

Probably no one was more surprised at Parker's forehand proficiency yesterday than Riggs. For years now Parker has been staging an annual comeback built around a new forehand, but each year he has come up with a forehand slightly worse than the one of the year before. But his 1941 model is a sound tennis weapon, hit freely and with fine controling spin. It is a suitable companion for the finest backhand and one of the best volleying games in amateur tennis.

Miss Betz Women's Champion.

Parker's victory yesterday may be only the beginning of a successful campaign to take over the No. 1 spot in the national rankings. He already owns two triumphs over Don McNeill, the national champion, whom he defeated in the semi-finals last Friday.

Parker was joined in the winners' circle by Jack Kramer of Los Angeles and Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., who won the men's doubles, and Pauline Betz, the Rollins college student from Winter Park, Fla., who won the women's singles.

Kramer and Schroeder, the national champions, beat Joe Hunt of Annapolis, Md., and Ted Olewine of Santa Monica, Cal., 6-4, 7-5, 6-1. Miss Betz defeated Dorothy Arnold of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-1.

They Win on Power.

There was one simple reason for both victories: power. Schroeder and Kramer carried too much punch at the net and Miss Betz, who is considered the logical successor to Champion Alice Marble, now a professional, hit too stiff a forehand for Miss Arnold.

Jane Stanton of North Hollywood, Cal., and Barbara Bradley of Los Angeles won the women's doubles titles Saturday afternoon. They defeated Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., and Nellie Sheer of Miami Beach, Fla., 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

Wakefield Joins Tigers; He's Not a Brash Rookie

New York, June 22 [Special].—Dick Wakefield, highest priced college star in the history of baseball, began his major league career today with a $45,000 bank account and the self-confession, "I'm green as heck. I'll finish the season with the Tigers but I expect to be in the minors next season." The University of Michigan sophomore, who signed his contract in Detroit Saturday, arrived here in time to work out with the Tigers today.

NCAA GOLF MEET OPENS TODAY AT OHIO STATE U.

College Course Is Site for First Time in History.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., June 22.—After 43 years, the National Collegiate Athletic association golf tournament tomorrow gets around to being transacted over a college course. The honor of being the first campus layout for the show goes to Ohio State university's Scarlet course, a 6,810 yard test which should give the bright young men from the nation's universities and colleges more than a problem in the next six days. Those 6,810 yards are distributed over a par 36-36-72.

The course is in excellent condition, and ideal accommodations have been provided for the boys who have come from such states as Arizona, California, Louisiana, and Connecticut. A total of 54 schools will be represented in tomorrow's and Tuesday's play. These two rounds not only will serve to determine the 64 qualifiers who enter Wednesday's opening match play battles, but also will provide the vehicle for the team championship, a title shared last year by Princeton and Louisiana State. Twenty-six of the 54 schools have entered full teams for the group struggle

36 Hole Final Saturday.

Full teams have been entered by Arizona, Amherst, Beloit, Dartmouth, Duke, Georgetown, Harvard, Indiana, Illinois, Louisiana State, Michigan, Minnesota, Michigan State, North Carolina, Northwestern, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Pittsburgh, Princeton, Stanford, Syracuse, Texas, Virginia, Wisconsin, Wooster, and Yale. The other 28 universities are represented by lads who are out to win the individual crown, which won't be decided until Saturday's 36 hole final.

Among the favorites for the team championship and Stanford, Louisiana State, Arizona, Syracuse, and Illinois. The latter squad, captained by Alex Welsh, new Western conference champion, includes John Holmstrom, Dick Wolfley, and John Busick. Last Thursday they ran off with the Big Ten team title, placing Welsh, Wolfley, and Holmstrom in that order in the first three places. Stanford's team coached by Eddie Twiggs, won the team title in 1938 and 1939. Arizona and Syracuse have been undefeated in regular season competition.

Brooke Defends Title.

F. Dixon Brooke, the towheaded Virginian who won last year's championship at the Ekwanok course in Manchester, Vt., will defend his individual title. The Creeper, as he became known last year, recently was called to duty in the navy, but obtained a leave in order to compete here. His individual rivals include such stars as Warren Berl of Stanford, runner-up as a sophomore in 1939; Welsh, Holmstrom, and Wolfley of Illinois; Otto Greiner of Baltimore, Peter Page of Princeton, Bill Gilbert of Ohio State, Ben Smith of Michigan, Burleigh Jacobs of Wisconsin, Cary Middlecoff of Mississippi, Stan Kowal of Michigan State, Sammy Neild of Notre Dame, and Bobby Brownell of Duke.

ELWORTH WINS YACHT CUP OFF JACKSON PARK

James Elworth won the Jackson Park Yacht club's annual Herbert cup series yesterday by sailing his Star class sloop Skedaddle to victory in the third and last race. The Skedaddle defeated eight other Stars over the club's four and one-half mile course. Its elapsed time was 1 hour 35 minutes and 35 seconds.

Hummer, Robert Brandebury's Star yacht, was runner-up in 1:46:40. Savoy Plaza, owned by Bert Billheimer, was third in 1:48:10. The Skedaddle's winning score for the series was 25 points. Hummer was second with 22 points and Hermes, Dr. Alexander Davis' entry, had 18 points.

A strong northeast wind swept down over Lake Michigan yesterday afternoon, giving the fleet of sailing yachts returning from the Michigan City race Saturday the wind they needed to bring them back.

JOE HUNT HEADS FIELD TODAY IN COLLEGE TODAY

Haverford, Pa., June 22 (AP).—A field of 64, headed by Joe Hunt of Navy, will compete tomorrow on the clay courts of the Merion Cricket club in the opening competition of the National Intercollegiate Tennis tournament. Hunt lost to Don McNeill of Kenyon in the finals a year ago. He will play Gene Russell of Western Michigan in the first round.

Ted Olewine of Southern California, 1939 national interscholastic champion, is seeded second to Hunt. The other seeded players are: Three, William Reedy, Southern California; four, Seymour Greenberg, Northwestern; five, Zan Carver, North Carolina; six, Warner Christner, University of Texas; seven, William Gillespie, and eight, Richard McKee, both of Miami [Fla.] university.

CHICAGO BEATS MEMPHIS TWICE IN NEGRO LEAGUE

Chicago won a Negro American league double header from Memphis before 6,500 in Comiskey park yesterday, 5 to 4 and 3 to 0. Outfielder Jimmy Crutchfield's fourth hit drove in the winning run in the 11th inning of the first game and Pitcher Willie Ferrell yielded only one scratch single in the seven inning second game.

CHICAGO POLO TEAMS WINS.

Menominee, Mich., June 22 [Special].—The Chicago Woodland polo team beat the Pine Hill squad of Menominee and Marinette today, 12 to 10.

Horse, 15, Wins Three Events at South Shore

Bruce, a 15 year old brown gelding from Mrs. A. C. Thompson's Happy Way farm at Oak Lawn, climaxed two days of unbeaten competition by winning its third and most important victory, the jumper stake championship, yesterday in the closing session of the South Shore Country club horse show.

The three victories by Bruce and and one by its stablemate, Master Johnny, which captured the hunter stake, gave Happy Way farm a tie for firsts with Hubert S. Silverman DeLaine farm at Morton Grove. The major triumph of the four scored in gaited classes by DeLaine farm came during the afternoon when Princess Roberta, tiny 7 year old chestnut mare, romped off with the five gaited stake crown.

Girl, 14, Wins Twice.

Non-Chicago area contenders landed the two three gaited stake titles, with John Perring's Royal Crown from Champaign the winner in the division from 14.2 to 15.1 hands and Mar Mac farm's Creo Belle from Westville, Ind., first in the class for horses 15.2 hands and over.

Joan Woodside, 14 years old, riding her Edellyn Choice Lady, starred among juvenile contestants by taking the Town and Country Equestrian association's horsemanship title for children 14 to 17 years of age, the junior equitation championship for boys and girls under 18, and, with Helen Loraine Meyers, the class for junior pairs.

Rosalie Howell of Stratford, Ont., suffered the only serious spill of the day when Lyndaire, the W. J. Thurston entry from that city, stopped suddenly at one of the barriers in the jumper stake and threw her head first. Miss Howell was forced to retire from the event, but came back an hour later on another Thurston entry, Cavon, to win the triple bar jump. Summaries:

7 Cities Enter Oarsmen for July 4-5 Races

Crews from six out of town clubs will compete July 4 and 5 in the Central States Rowing association regatta on the Lincoln park lagoon, it was announced last night. The Lincoln Park Boat club, sponsor of the regatta, will enter contestants in each of the junior and senior division events.

This will be Chicago's second big water show of the year, the previous one being the Central States Schoolboy Rowing association regatta a week ago yesterday in which the Washington and Wisconsin crews met in exhibitions under sponsorship of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the Lincoln Park Boat club, and the Chicago park district.

Entries have been received for the July show from the Western Rowing club, the St. Louis Rowing club, and the Central Rowing club, all of St. Louis; South Side Boat club of Quincy, Ill.; Detroit Boat club; Ecorse, Mich., Boat club; Minnesota Boat club of St. Paul, and the Wyandotte, Mich., Boat club.

Competition will be in single sculls, double-oared, four-oared, and eight-oared shells. The Lincoln park crews are made up of former Chicago prep oarsmen and a number who still are in the schoolboy competition. Also on the program will be several races among Sea Scout cutters.

YANKEES BREAK HOMER RECORD; BEAT TIGERS, 5-4

Hit Circuit Drives in 18 Consecutive Games.

New York, June 22 (AP).—The Yankees showed the Detroit Tigers today that it doesn't pay to cut in on their monopoly of hammering home runs. A year ago the Tigers hit four baggers in 17 straight games to post a new major league record. So today the Yanks drove out two more homers to make it 18 straight games in which they have hit circuit drives.

While breaking the Tigers' record, the Yanks won, 5 to 4, with a two run rally in the ninth. Joe DiMaggio collected a double and a home run to run his consecutive game hitting streak to 35, thereby coming within six of George Sisler's modern mark.

Red Rolfe's home run off Buck Newsom tied the score in the ninth. Then Tommy Henrich was hit by a pitched ball, DiMaggio doubled and Bill Dickey was given an intentional pass. Newsom then walked Joe Gordon to force in the winning run. Score:

FELLER WINS FIFTEENTH.

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Bobby Feller reached the halfway mark of his 1941 goal of 30 victories today by letting the Senators down with seven hits while his Cleveland mates were clubbing out a 6 to 0 decision. It was Cleveland's only victory of the three game series and enabled the league leading Indians to maintain their two game margin over the New York Yankees.

RED SOX, BROWNS SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., June 22 (AP).—The St. Louis Browns blasted out 29 hits in two games today, but the best they could get was an even break with the Red Sox. Landing on Jack Kramer for six runs in the first inning, the Red Sox withstood the 16 hit St. Louis attack to triumph, 7 to 5, in the first game. In the second the Browns made 13 hits while winning, 12 to 3. Chet Laabs had a field day, driving in nine runs and poling a homer in each contest.

Mike Ryba got credit for the Red Sox victory in the opener when he relieved Charley Wagner in the fifth. Between games Ryba was presented a trophy as the most valuable player in the International league last season.

CARDINALS LOSE TWO GAMES TO GIANTS, 4-3, 3-2

St. Louis, Mo., June 22 (AP).—Carl Hubbell and Rookie John Wittig beat the Cardinals today and the double New York victory, 4 to 3 and 3 to 2, left the Redbirds with only a one game hold on first place in the National league. While the two teams were battling until dusk in 90 degree temperature, second place Brooklyn was nosing out the Cincinnati Reds in two games. Hubbell, 38 years old today, gave way to a pinch hitter in the ninth and received credit for his sixth victory of the year.

Bill Jurges' double, Wittig's single, Dick Bartell's two base drive, and Johnny Rucker's triple accounted for the Giant runs in the third inning of the second game.

The Giants went into the ninth inning of the first game trailing, 3 to 1. Four safeties off Harry Gumbert scored two runs to tie the score. Then Johnny Rucker hit a fly deep into center field to bring home the winning run. Scores:

PHILS, PIRATES DIVIDE.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 22 (AP).—The Philadelphia Phillies ended a seven game losing streak today by hitting five Pirate pitchers for 17 safeties to win the second game of a double header, 7 to 4, after losing the first, 4 to 1. Max Butcher was the loser in the second game. Nick Etten and Danny Litwhiler each had four hits. Cy Blanton pitched no-hit ball for five innings of the first game, but an error by Merrill May led to three Pirate runs in the sixth. Scores:

CUBS TROUNCED TWICE BY BRAVES, 6 TO 5 AND 3 TO 2

Boston Rallies Ruin Day for 25,136.

Hits by the first two batsmen in the eighth got Olsen out of there. Waner beat out a mean shot to Sturgeon and Sisti doubled to left, Waner stopping at third. Olsen was replaced by Pressnell and Rowell stroked Tot's first pitch for a single to left, scoring Waner and Sisti. Masi, Moore, and Miller failed as pinch hitters.

Here is the way the Cubs polished off their collapse in the ninth: After Cooney had popped to McCullough, Hassett batted for Gremp and singled to center. Ross supplied the second out with a fly to Dallessandro, but Waner doubled to right, scoring Hassett with the tying run. Sisti knocked his second double in two innings, scoring Waner with the winning run. At this point Manager Wilson decided Pressnell had lost his effectiveness and called in Larry French. Rowell caromed a single off Larry's glove, Sisti stopping at third. Tobin flied to Cavarretta.

SECOND GAME

The Cubs were the victims of double plays in the first two innings, but they made the first run of the second game despite the double erasure in the second inning. Dallesandro opened the second with a single and Dahlgren walked. Scheffing hit into a double play, in the course of which Dallessandro reached third, whence he scored on Stringer's double to left. Mooty popped to Rowell.

The Braves in the fourth broke up the three up and three down sequence which had beset them in the first three innings. Sisti beat out an infield single and reached second and Cooney first when Dahlgren failed to hold on to the latter's line drive. Hassett singled to center, Sisti scoring the tying run and Cooney reaching third, West grounded to Dahlgren and Cooney was run down, Dahlgren to McCullough to Hack to McCullough. Hassett advanced to third and West to second.

Passes Beat Cubs.

Rowell was given an intentional pass, loading the bases, and Miller also walked, forcing Hassett across the plate. When Mooty threw three wide ones to Moore, he was replaced by Page, who completed the pass to Moore, forcing West across the plate. Berres tapped to Page and Rowell was forced at the plate. Stringer threw out Javery.

After Page had fanned in the third, Hack singled. Sturgeon sent a double play grounder to Wietelmann, but Rowell dropped the throw and Hack was safe at second and Sturgeon at first. Cavarretta struck out, but Nicholson singled to right, scoring Hack and putting Sturgeon on third. Javery tossed out Dallessandro.

Appling Suffers Muscle Injury.

Part of the payment for the fun the Sox had with Babich and Hadley was the loss of Luke Appling. The shortstop pulled a muscle in his left thigh while sprinting to base in the third inning and after remaining for the home half of the inning he was removed, Jim Webb taking over the vacancy. After being taped up, Luke announced he was ready for the second game but Manager Dykes vetoed the idea. It was only a slight charley horse, but Appling may be restrained from exercise for several days to avoid danger of a chronic condition.

Smith's performance would have been a masterpiece if he hadn't momentarily mislaid his control. He walked two of the first three men to face him in the second inning and Bob Johnson stepped into the picture with a triple from which all the runs were produced. The next hit off Smith was a single by Al Brancato to start the third. The last one was a double with which Johnson opened the fourth. He went as far as third. Thereafter only two Macks reached base, both on passes.

FIRST GAME

The first game hilarity began when Kuhel opened the second inning with a single to right, going to second on Babich's wild pitch after Appling had been retired. B. Chapman doubled and Kuhel scored. Wright, whose single sent B. Chapman home, went to second on the throw to the plate and to third when Catcher Hayes threw wild. Wright carried in the third run of the inning on Tresh's fly to Moses.

The seven run third got under way when Lodigiani walked with one out. Kuhel singled and Appling tapped to Suder, but nobody was retired because McCoy dropped the throw which should have retired Kuhel. After a pause for examination of the charley horse suffered by Appling while on his way to first base, B. Chapman whacked his four-run homer into the left field seats.

Wright and Tresh singled and both dashed home on Lyons' double, the latter blow finishing off Babich. Brancato's error on Knickerbocker gave Lyons time to score the seventh run before Rescuer Hadley could quiet the rumpus.

The run in the fourth was due to B. Chapman, who singled ahead of hits by Wright and Tresh. The next run came in the sixth on a double by Webb, B. Chapman's hit to left and Wright's out. The next Sox outbreak against Hadley came in the eighth when a pass to Kuhel, single by Webb and F. Chapman's error on B. Chapman filled the bases with none out. Wright singled to score Kuhel and Webb with the concluding runs.

SECOND GAME

Smith began his share of the day's work in the second game by passing Brancato. Moses lined to Webb, whereupon Smith also gave free transportation to McCoy. The two gifts became runs when Johnson sent his triple into the right field corner. He scored the third and last run while Knickerbocker was throwing out Siebert.

The Sox did nothing about a double with which B. Chapman opened the fourth. A pass to Kreevich and single by Lodigiani with one out in the fifth also went to waste. Kreevich could have made a hero of himself in the sixth. Turner singled, Smith walked and Knickerbocker was safe on Brancato's fumble, all after two were gone. This ceased to be a budding rally when Kreevich grounded to McCoy. Thereafter the Sox didn't even make a threat against Marchildon.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

STUDY FINALLY BEGINS ON LAKE SHIP BUILDING

Vessel Needs Prod Board to Action.

The maritime commission finally has started a study of the potentialities of shipyards on the Great Lakes, it was disclosed yesterday. The commission was prodded into action by the increasing need of ships as a result of the aid to Britain program and the requisitioning of vessels for the United States military services. During the last war these yards built between 400 and 500 vessels totaling 1,600,000 tons.

Great Lakes shipyard operators recently were called to Washington to discuss the problem with authorities of the maritime commission. They are expected to report to the commission on a proposed plan to construct ships similar to the standardized commission freighters and deliver them to deep water thru the Chicago sanitary ship canal and the Illinois and Mississippi rivers.

Two Methods Suggested.

Two methods, it was learned, have been suggested for delivering the ships. Either they would be brought down in shallow draft as unfinished vessels lacking superstructure and engines, to some point in deep water where they would be completed and equipped with machinery, or they would be finished in the yards and carried thru the canal and river way on specially designed dry docks.

Transportation and shipping men acquainted with the inland waterway possibilities for several years have urged the government to make use of the tremendous facilities on the lakes, but the proposals have been turned down or ignored.

W. H. Rutland of New York, a transportation consultant and an authority on the inland waterway leading from Chicago thru Lockport, Joliet, Peoria, Grafton and St. Louis, has waged a campaign for recognition of its possibilities since 1939.

No Insurmountable Difficulties.

Government authorities who studied the proposal in 1939 admitted that there were no insurmountable difficulties in the plan, but until lately the maritime commission has shown no interest in it. The project is concededly not simple, but it is regarded as feasible as it was in the World war, when ships were brought thru Canada via the Welland canal.

One obstacle of the plan, shipping men say, is the fixed bridge over the Chicago sanitary and ship canal at Western avenue. It cost $650,000 and was opened to trafic last year in what some interests believe was a violation of war department regulations prohibiting the establishment of such structures over navigable waterways. This bridge would have to be replaced.

Complicated by Clearances.

The waterway project is complicated by clearances and shallow water. From the mouth of the Chicago river to Grafton, near the juncture of the Illinois and Mississippi, is 327.2 miles. For the first 6.1 miles, from Chicago harbor to Damen avenue, there are 32 movable bridges, with no vertical obstacle to shipping. From Damen avenue to Lockport, another 30 miles, there are 22 bridges, including the Western avenue structure and six low bridges which were built to lift, altho lifting equipment has never been installed.

According to figures of army engineers it would cost only $6,000,000 to clear the channel to this point, including replacing the Western avenue bridge, installing necessary lifting apparatus on the others, and increasing horizontal clearances on several crossings that are too narrow.

From Lockport on to the Mississippi the problem is one of locks and channel depths. The channel between Chicago and Lockport is 21 feet deep and from there on it is normally nine feet.

HARMED BY SHIP LOSS

New York, June 21 [Special].—Shippers engaged in the African trade believe that the withdrawals of merchant ships from these routes for use as government auxiliaries have seriously injured American business relations in the foreign field, and that unless the maritime commission works out a solution of the problem the country will suffer incalculable harm.

This is the substance of a report sent to Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, by the Merchants' association of New York. The letter was accompanied by statements from 21 shippers declaring that freight was lying on docks in South Africa for want of ship space, and that orders were piling up here because there is insufficient tonnage to carry them to Cape Town and other ports.

SHIP INSURANCE LITTLE CHANGED BY NAZI THREAT

New York, June 22 [Special].—Despite the sinking of the Robin Moor by an undersea raider and the German threat to sink all American ships transporting "contraband" for the benefit of Great Britain, there has been only a slight adjustment of hull insurance rates and no change in cargo rates, underwriters reported today.

Cargo rates for South African shipments inbound to the United States are 1¼ per cent and on outward bound shipments 1½ per cent of value, insurance officials reported. Hull insurance for South Africa, East Africa, and West Africa has been increased from 1¼ to 1¾ per cent for the shorter voyage to West Africa, and from 1½ to 2 per cent for the voyage to more distant African points. The hull rates apply to the round trip voyage.

Time Payment Air Line Ticket Sales Rising

A plan for the purchase of air line tickets thru monthly payments — a service which the nation's air line companies began on March 1—has met ready acceptance by many persons who previously had never traveled by air, James W. Austin, vice president of the Travelers Credit corporation reported yesterday.

He said that the railroads, which started the instalment travel system just a year ago, had found the plan successful, and were preparing to foster a larger use of it in the future.

April Volume Tops March.

Altho reports on the operation of the air line instalment ticket plan thus far were incomplete, Austin disclosed these general results:

1. April business realized under the plan was 14 per cent higher than in March, and the volume for the first 15 days of May amounted to more than the entire business done in April.

2. The average amount spent thus far for air line transportation thru the instalment plan has been $124.85.

3. Of the persons taking advantage of the air lines' instalment plan, approximately 80 per cent have been men and 20 per cent women.

Many Flying First Time.

However, most important, Austin said, was the fact that many persons now traveling by air under the instalment plan are "those who previously were conspicuous by their absence on the country's air lines."

The instalment ticket plan for the air lines is handled in the same manner as for the railroads. If the cost of the proposed trip is $50 or more, the prospective passenger applies for credit at the air lines' ticket or travel agent office. A service charge for the credit accommodation is made.

Austin reported that the railroads were well into their second million dollars worth of instalment business. Sixty-seven railroads have been participating in the plan. The average rail travel instalment purchase has been $101.46.

SEC DISCLOSES JANUARY SHIFT IN STOCK HOLDINGS

Officials of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., received 13,642 shares of common stock of the company thru a stock dividend in January, the Securities and Exchange commission disclosed yesterday. At current quotations, the shares would be worth about $90,000.

Largest of the acquisitions, 11,207 shares, was listed for a trust under the name of Morris Goldblatt, president. He also received 451 shares directly. Others included Joseph and Louis Goldblatt, vice presidents, 496 shares; Nathan Goldblatt, secretary and treasurer, 540 shares, and Jack Gordon, vice president, 278 shares.

The report showed also that Morris Goldblatt gave away 4,500 shares and acquired 500 directly during December. A trust under his name was listed as recipient of 3,351 from beneficiaries. Nathan Goldblatt during the same month gave away 4,500 shares, turned 627 over to a trust, and purchased 346 shares.

Other transactions by Chicagoans during April included the sale of 400 shares of Standard Oil Company of Indiana capital by Allan Jackson, the gift of 825 shares and the purchase of 133 shares of Signode Steel Strapping common by John W. Leslie, the purchase of 400 shares of Indiana Steel Products common by Albert Kahn, the purchase of 400 shares of Loudon Packing company common by William M. Spencer, and the gift of 572 shares of Celotex corporation common by C. G. Muench [March].

AUTO WORKERS RATIFY UNION PACT WITH FORD

Detroit, Mich., June 22 (AP).—The CIO United Automobile Workers today ratified the union's history making contract with the Ford Motor company. The agreement, most far-reaching ever written in the automotive industry, was accepted by an overwhelming majority of 12,000 workers at a mass meeting at the state fairgrounds.

The Ford company, long regarded as the last major stronghold of non-unionism, reached the agreement with the UAW last Friday in Washington. It provided, among other things, for a union shop and dues checkoff.

POWER OUTPUT IN 1940 REACHED ALL TIME PEAK

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—Production of electric energy in the United States in 1940 exceeded the previous all-time record reached in 1939 by more than 14,600,000,000 kilowatt hours, or 11.2 per cent, the federal Power commission reported today.

The installed capacity of electric generating plants at the end of 1940 likewise reached a new high of 41,638,956 kilowatts, a net increase over 1939 of 3.3 per cent.

Total production in 1940 was 144,984,565,000 kilowatt hours.

LONE STAR.

How does the Lone Star Cement corporation rank in the industry? What is its earnings record?—B. T.

Answer: With productive capacity of 24,600,000 barrels of cement a year, the Lone Star Cement corporation, New York, is one of the three leading cement makers in the country. The company's mills are strategically placed near major industrial centers in the east, south, and middle west. Geographical diversification is obtained further by plants in Cuba, Argentina, Uruguay, and Brazil.

The Latin-American operations represent about one-third of total plant capacity and have accounted for a large portion of the company's consolidated net income. The earnings record in recent years follows:

	Net income	Earned per share	Dividends per share
1936	$2,892,717	$3.02	$2.50
1937	4,079,825	4.24	3.75
1938	2,901,784	3.02	3.00
1939	3,561,094	3.69	3.25
1940	3,457,293	3.57	3.50

A quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share was paid March 31 this year and another will be paid June 30 to stockholders of record June 11. Common dividends have been disbursed each year since 1920, except in 1933. The company has outstanding 948,597 shares of no par common stock.

SHIPBUILDING BONDS.

I would like the rating of New York Shipbuilding corporation bonds, the record of fixed charge coverage, and the security behind the bonds.—F. T. C.

Answer: The $2,612,900 in first mortgage 5 per cent bonds of the New York Shipbuilding corporation, due Nov. 1, 1946, are regarded as lower medium grade because of the unstable character of the company's earnings.

Interest on the bonds was not earned in three of the last seven years. However, sharply increased earnings in the last few years lifted the average covering of interest charges to 2.74 times over the last seven years.

The bonds are backed by a first mortgage on the company's shipyard at Camden, N. J., on the Delaware river, which had a balance sheet value at the end of 1940 of $5,388,711. The property includes 191 acres of land fronting 4,272 feet on the river, 12 miles of standard gauge track connecting with the Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia and Reading railroads, administration buildings, 11 building ways, machine shops, and equipment.

The issue constitutes the entire funded debt of the company, which is one of the major shipbuilders in the country. It constructs naval vessels ranging from battleships to revenue cutters, and merchant ships from ocean liners to harbor tugs.

HINT SHIP STRIKE WILL BE SETTLED WITHOUT FORCE

San Francisco, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Early settlement of the bay area machinists' strike, without use of force, was held a possibility today by United States authorities. The strike, now in its seventh week, has seriously hampered work on $500,000,000 worth of defense orders.

Admiral J. W. Greenslade, commandant of the 12th naval district, said new conferences would be held tomorrow which he hoped would lead to "a definite plan as to what course and action is to be followed."

Agree on Settlement.

Detroit, Mich., June 22 (AP).—A plan for settlement of a CIO-AFL jurisdictional dispute which has kept Douglas & Lomason company closed for the last two weeks was agreed upon today and the plant will reopen tomorrow. The shutdown threatened to force 40,000 employés of Plymouth, Briggs, Ford, and Dodge truck plants into idleness.

Buy Coal Now, OPM Tells Industry and Home Owners

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—The Office of Production Management today requested all coal consumers—industrial users and small homeowners—to buy their winter coal supplies now. By moving coal now, it was said, the peak of coal shipments in the late summer and early fall will be relieved and transportation facilities left free for the tremendously increased load of rearmament production.

USE OF PRIORITY PLAN SPREADS IN STEEL TRADE

Does Not Guarantee All Deliveries.

Cleveland, O., June 22 (AP).—Almost half of the current inquiries for steel include evidence of government-granted priorities, but even possession of these priorities does not guarantee delivery, the magazine Steel said today.

"Such a priority holder, if turned down by a steel supplier, fills out blanks and reports to Washington and usually gets his steel eventually," the review explained.

"A recognized danger of the priority system is that holders of certificates may become so common as to defeat the purpose for which the system was devised. Perhaps the most difficult sales problem of steelmakers today is making decisions on cases on the 'fringe of defense.'

Scrap and Pig Iron Scarce.

"Raw materials scarcity is again at the forefront, particularly scrap and pig iron. Because of scrap steel scarcity some steel company officials predict that present high production rate cannot be maintained much longer."

This production rate was computed tor last week at 99 per cent of capacity, unchanged from the preceding week. District gains were: Cleveland, 3 points to 95; Cincinnati, 6 to 95, and Detroit, 2 to 94. Pittsburgh dropped 1¼ to 99. Unchanged were: Chicago, 102; Eastern Pennsylvania, 97; Wheeling, 88; Buffalo, 90½. Birmingham, 95; New England, 94; St. Louis and Youngstown, 98.

PREDICT MORE CONTROLS

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Establishment of government monopolies on the importation of chromium, tungsten, tin, and other strategic materials was forecast in high government circes today. A virtual monopoly in rubber importing was created Saturday when President Roosevelt barred private imports from the far east.

Nearly all the tin used by this country comes from the far east, as does rubber, and that region also is an important supplier of chromium, manganese, and tungsten. Approximately $50,000,000 worth of these ores have been ordered from China by the Metals Reserve company, RFC subsidiary.
